"THE LITTLE PRINCESS"

Girl Scouts of Waban Present Mrs. Burnett's Play in Splendid Fashion

On Friday evening, January 28th, about 400 people gathered in the Neighborhood Club at Waban to see the third annual production given by the Girl Scouts of that community. The play presented was "The Little Princess," a play in three acts by Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett.

The leading part of Sara Crewe was most artistically done by Mary Sheehan. The part was most difficult and throughout her hard times in her old garret she kept her sweet smile and her sunny disposition which soon made the audience all love her. The part of Miss Minchin, the proprietress of the Young Ladies' Seminary, was admirably done by Esma Brown, whose ability to act has been seen in Scout plays of the past. The part of "Lottie," the youngest girl in the school was played by Beatrice Piser, whose sweet little smile gave life to the entire party. The part of Becky the Scullery Maid, was well done by Edith Lamont, who did more than justice to her part. Ermengarde as played by Frances Sutton was extraordinarily well done. Her sweet ways with the younger children in the school, and her kindness to Sara when she was only a little drudge in a lonely garret, are characteristic of the child herself.

The other parts in the play were splendidly done and the following girls deserve much credit: Harriet Bond, Gladys Kellaway, Margaret LeClear, Helen Andrews, Helen Egerton, Dorothy Gourley, Miriam Lockwood, Ruth Ayres, Nancy Kimball, Hilda Piser, Eleanor Hayward, Katherine Chandler, Sylvia Allen, Sydna White, Emily Piser, Ruth Lockwood, Phoebe Richardson.

The first act was set in the living-room at Miss Minchin's boarding school in London. The second was a garret under the roof at Miss Minchin's and the third was Mr. Carrisford's study.

Miss Cornelia Holmes, Captain of the Scouts, was in charge of the evening, and helped to make it such a great success. The Committee in charge wish to express their hearty thanks to all the following who helped with the production. They are: Mrs. Gifford LeClear, Mrs. Frederick S. Gourley, Mrs. Theodore Piser, Mrs. C. A. Andrews, Mrs. John F. Capron, Mr. Henry A. Tomlinson, Mr. Walter R. Holmes, Mr. Francis B. Wales, Mr. Robert A. Hawks, Mr. Daniel Sheehan, Mr. Herbert Sheehan, Mr. Theodore Holmes, Miss Catherine Richardson, Miss Elizabeth Burnham, and Miss Esma Brown.

The lighting for the play, which was most artistic, was operated by Mr. Robert Hawk.

The West Newton Music School, which furnished the music between the acts, was one of the most enjoyable feature of the evening.

The money which was raised will

40TH ANNIVERSARY

Rev. Dr. F. E. Clark Speaks on Christian Endeavor at Eliot Church

Last Sunday Rev. Francis E. Clark, D. D., L.L.D., Founder of the Christian Endeavor Society and President of the Society, spoke at Eliot Church in celebration of its 40th anniversary.

Dr. Clark, by way of introduction, referred to his love for Eliot Church because he was a classmate at Dartmouth and roommate of the former pastor of the Church, Dr. Wm. H. Davis.

His text was Matt. 13:31, 32, the Parable of the Mustard Seed. He showed how the tiny seed dropped in Portland, Maine, on February 2, 1881, had grown to a great tree that covered the earth with its branches.

In utter humility, he disclaimed any credit for the success of the movement. He said it matters not how insignificant the hand that sows a seed, if it has vitality in it and falls into good ground it will grow.

Dr. Clark estimated that at present there are 20,000,000 to 22,000,000 people who are now, or have been in their youth, connected with the organization.

THE MOVIES

Basil King Discusses Their Moral Significance at Newton Centre

Mr. Basil King, the novelist, spoke last Sunday evening at Trinity Church on, "The Moral Significance of Moving Pictures." He said in part:

"The moving pictures are a great power. Every day from ten to twelve million people look at picture plays. Nor are they confined to America, for Spain, India, China, and Europe are included as well."

The speaker stated that he used the term "moral" not in its ordinary usage but with the meaning, "something that does us good." "One of the most striking things about the moving pictures is the fact that this vehicle of expression should have come at a time when it is increasing hard to get things into print. Daily papers and magazines are not so easy to bring out as they were ten years ago, owing to the high prices of printing, the difficulty of obtaining paper, etc. Just at this juncture we are beginning to develop a new form of getting ideas over. The next five years are to see striking results along this line."

WHAT IT IS DOING

Explanation of Work of Home Service Section, Newton Red Cross

Mr. George M. Angier, Chairman, Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, Newtonville, Mass.

Dear Mr. Angier:—

In reply to your letter calling attention to the recent articles appearing in the press which have in a more or less emphatic degree, called attention to the fact that many ex-servicemen are not receiving their just dues from the Government, and that some of them requiring medical assistance are being neglected, and in reply to your question as to whether it is possible that any men registered in the service from the City of Newton, or now living within the jurisdiction of the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross have been neglected, or are suffering in any way from Government neglect, I beg to say that I believe there is not one single case in Newton.

The Home Service Section of the Newton Chapter has been in close touch, and has a record of every man who has returned from the service in any way incapacitated or needing help, that we have found it possible to reach. We are meeting each week with new cases where the men for some reason or other have not reported their disability, have not applied to the Red Cross, or have perished.

KING DODO HERE

Excellent Performance of Old Comic Opera by Newton Amateur Opera Association

The Newton Amateur Opera Association is giving great pleasure this week to the residents of Newton in presenting the former well known comic opera of Pixley & Laders, "King Dodo" at Players' Hall, West Newton, on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings.

It will be recalled that the plot, or what passes for a plot, concern the antics of an absurd old king who wants to renew his youth of 30 years ago. Mr. Leverett D. Bentley, as King Dodo is the comedian of the play and fills the part like a professional. His scene with Queen Lili in the second act is truly funny and his later metamorphosis into a "little Lord Fauntleroy" is very well done. The musical honors of the play are carried by Miss Edna Louise Banks, whose singing was particularly well liked and by Mr. Harold Flint, who has a pleasing tenor voice. Miss Della Cooper had several encores to the beautiful "Bumble Bee" song, the most catchy music of the play. The "Cats" quartet in the first act brought down the house and numerous encores were given.

Mr. F. W. Sprague, 2d, was an excellent Dr. Fizz and made the most of a comparatively small part.

Miss Mae Collagan was an attractive princess and Mr. Robert W. Bowen did excellent work in his part as court historian and the well known song "Look in the book and see." Miss Elleanor Morton, as the queen, looked the part to the letter and was very good in the scene with Mr. Bentley in the second act.

Others in the cast were the Misses Helen C. Morton, Hortense Marshall, Norma Marshall, and Messrs. Dan L. Smith, Harold T. Hambleton, Ernest F. Dow, C. W. Taylor, A. Henry Anderson, H. I. Gleason and Lawrence O'Neill.

The chorus deserves great credit, most of its work being of high grade, both in singing and particularly in its marching movements. The costumes were far beyond what are usually seen at an amateur performance and added greatly to the enjoyment of the play. The white and silver costumes in the second act, with Miss Banks as the leader in a white troubadour costume, made a beautiful picture.

The scenery was also better than the average.

Mr. William T. Hambleton, whose ability as a conductor has often been

DEATH OF MR. GOODRICH

Arthur Lewis Goodrich, a retired teacher, died on Sunday at his home at 316 Central street, Auburndale, following ill health which had continued through several years, due to paralysis. He was born in Dedham, Me., on Dec. 6, 1851, and was the son of Rev. Lewis Goodrich and Lucy Ann (Baker) Goodrich, the latter from Moscow, Me. He was educated at Phillips Exeter Academy, from which he was graduated with the class of 1870, and from which he went to Harvard, and as a graduate in 1874 he was a ranking student in mathematics. In college he was a member of the class crew and of the varsity football team.

Following his student days, Mr. Goodrich taught in the Salem High School for many years, the last fourteen of which he was headmaster, and from 1896 until 1903 he was principal of the Free Academy at Utica, N. Y. In 1904 he received an A. M. degree from Harvard. After teaching for some time at the Newton High School he retired from active work, because of failing health.

Mr. Goodrich had served as an officer in several organizations to which he belonged, including the Teachers' Association of New York and a like organization in Massachusetts; the Salem Oratorio Society, the Essex Congregational Club and the Appalachian Mountain Club, in which he had been a member since 1879. In the earliest years of his connection with this club he was specially interested in its activities which centered about Waterville in the White Mountains, where he had a summer home, and he published a guide and map of the Waterville Valley which the Appalachians and others have found of great value in their trips.

Among literary work of Mr. Goodrich's is his book, "A Syllabus of Classical History," and he had written numerous articles for educational magazines. He was active all his life as a member of the Congregational Church.

On July 10, 1877, Mr. Goodrich married Mary Eastman, daughter of Concord, N. H., who survives him, together with two sons and a daughter, who are Nathaniel L. Goodrich, librarian at Dartmouth College; Hubert B. Goodrich, professor of biology at Wesleyan University, and Mrs. John F. Norton, of Chicago, who formerly was Miss Margaret E. Goodrich.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at his late home, Rev. Edward Payson Drexler, D. D., of the Auburndale Congregational Church, assisted by Rev. George S. Butters, D. D., of the Auburndale Methodist Church, officiated. The pallbearers were C. Winthrop Blood of Auburndale, his two sons, N. C. Goodrich and H. B. Goodrich, and three brothers, C. A. Goodrich of Dorchester, Rev. Charles L. Goodrich of Wellesley and Rev. L. B. Goodrich of Taunton. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

DEATH OF WELL KNOWN MINISTER

Rev. Arthur May Knapp, a well known Unitarian minister, for many years, died last Saturday at his home on Newtonville avenue in Newtonville after a protracted illness.

Mr. Knapp was born in Charlestown on May 29, 1841, and was the son of William Henry Knapp and Emily (Thompson) Knapp.

Mr. Knapp prepared for college at the West Newton English and Classical School and he then entered Harvard in the sophomore class and was graduated in 1860. His course there was broken by a year of travel, in 1858, in which Mr. Knapp made a voyage around Cape Horn in the ship Crusader, of Boston. On this journey he visited Valparaiso, Comblomb, Iquique, Tome, Talcahuano and Juan Fernandez (Robinson Crusoe's Island) and on returning, in 1859, he reentered college. After his graduation, he entered the Harvard Divinity School, from which he was graduated in 1867, and he then took up his chosen work in the ministry.

His first pastorate was at the First Congregational Church in Providence, R. I., where he remained from 1867 until 1870, then going to the Independent Congregational Church in Bangor, Me., of which he was pastor from 1870 until 1878. His next call was to the pulpit of the First Parish in Watertown, where his service was from 1880 until 1887, and in this latter year he was sent as envoy of the American Unitarian Association to Japan. On his return to this country, Mr. Knapp became minister of the Unitarian parish in River Street, where his pastorate continued from 1891 until 1897. When in Japan, he became proprietor and editor of the Japan Advertiser, published in Yokohama, and he continued his editorship of this paper from 1900 until 1910, when he returned to this country.

In the Civil War, Mr. Knapp served as a private in the Forty-Fourth Massachusetts Regiment. The major part of his service was in North Carolina, and he was in the battle of Kinston, Whitehall and Goldboro, among other engagements.

During and between his various pastorates, Mr. Knapp travelled extensively. In 1874 he made a trip to Europe, spending the winter in Germany and Italy. Another journey was in 1886, when he went to Scotland, Holland, Belgium, France, Switzerland and Italy.

His first voyage to Japan was in 1887, and on the journey he visited also the main islands near Japan. On returning to Boston, he reported to the American Unitarian Association and helped in the selection of three professors (Droppers Wigmore and Liscomb) of the Tokio University. He made other journeys to Japan and elsewhere in the Far East.

On one of these, when returning to this country on the steamer Empress of India in 1893, the vessel took fire when a thousand miles out at sea and was forced to return to Hakodadi. In 1895 Mr. Knapp again journeyed to Japan to make it his permanent residence, and while there he visited Manila, Korea and China.

In 1903, after various journeyings in the Far East, Mr. Knapp returned to Boston for the winter and went back to Japan upon the opening of the Russian-Japanese War. One journey of special interest was that which Mr. Knapp took around the world from Yokohama through Russia, with a visit to St. Petersburg, as Petrograd then was, and to Siberia. An inveterate traveller, he made two journeys from Yokohama to Boston in 1909, these voyages aggregating in that one year, 38,000 miles.

His final journey from Japan to the United States began with Mr. Knapp's departure on New Year's Day, 1910, on a route which took him to Korea, Manchuria and down through the interior of China to Hongkong, thence to the Philippines, Java, Siam, the Straits settlements, Burma, India, Ceylon, Egypt, Italy, Sicily, France, England and Scotland. Another visit to England in 1915, with France, Switzerland and Italy included in his itinerary, brought Mr. Knapp's record of sea travel alone to an aggregate of more than 300,000 miles.

During his residence in Japan, Mr. Knapp organized the Harvard Club of Japan and became its first president. He was a member of the Tuesday Club of Newton and also the Twentieth Century Club, Boston, and belonged to the "Ends of the Earth" Club in New York. As a writer, he was the author of "Feudal and Modern Japan" and he had written various articles for the Atlantic Monthly.

Mr. Knapp married in Cambridge, on Dec. 16, 1867, Frances Lincoln Mitchell Folger, daughter of George Howland Folger of Nantucket. A son, Arthur Taylor Knapp, born in September, 1870, died in April, 1906. Mr. Knapp's wife died several years ago and he is survived by an adopted daughter, Aylene Marion Knapp, who last summer became the wife of Allen F. Brewer.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon in the chapel of Mount Auburn Cemetery, and were conducted by Rev. Charles W. Wendte, D. D. The only music was of an instrumental nature, Wallace A. Shipton of Watertown playing as organ numbers "Hymn of Nature" by Wey, "Prayer by Salome," "Latin Hymn" by Novello, and "He Shall Give His Angels Charge over Thee" by Broad.

The body was taken to the Cambridge Cemetery, where burial was in the family lot.

THE NEWTON GRADE TEACHERS' CLUB

The Newton Grade Teachers' Club announces for Thursday, February 10th, at Technical High School Hall, an evening of music:—"Songs of Yesterday and Today," by Henry Gideon, M. A. (Harvard), and Constance Ramsey Gideon of Pachesham Park, Surrey, England. Mr. Gideon, a Kentuckian by birth, has lived in Paris and their musical centers of Europe, and with Mrs. Gideon presents folk songs gathered from many hidden corners of the world.

It is hoped that the friends of the club will share with them the pleasure of this program. The concert begins at 8.15.

OLD RESIDENT DEAD

Mrs. Lavinia Elizabeth (Kingsbury) Brown, widow of Albert G. Brown, died Tuesday in Newton Centre following an illness which had continued through the past two years. She was in her eighty-third year, having been born in 1838 at Chestnut Hill, the daughter of the late Isaac Kingsbury and Mary (Homer) Kingsbury. She was of Pilgrim ancestry and traced her lineage from sturdy New England stock.

She received her education at the Newton Academy, from which she was graduated, and then finished at Dr. Burnham's School for Young Ladies, in Newton Centre, one of the early schools opened for the higher education of young women.

In her youth, Mrs. Brown became interested in the movements in which the late Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, and Miss Frances E. Willard were active leaders and entered heartily into the work carried on by them, in the cause of woman suffrage and the promotion of total abstinence and prohibition.

As a young woman she became identified with the Congregational church and active in its works and interests and these she had kept up throughout her long life, at the Congregational Church in Auburndale, of which she was one of the oldest members and in which her help and influence had been of great value. She had taken a leading part in the temperance cause in this city and was one of the founders of the W. C. T. U., and she has been among those who worked in behalf of making Newton notable as a temperance community.

Mrs. Brown was one of the members of the West Newton Women's Educational Club and active in her interest in the early days of Newton Hospital. Mrs. Brown in her career of usefulness had been active also in relief work in the Civil War, at the great Chicago fire and at the Boston fire of 1872.

In 1860 she married Albert G. Brown of Boston and they made their home for many years on Wolcott street, Auburndale. Her home was the scene always of much hospitality extended to young and old alike.

Mrs. Brown is survived by four sons, Messrs Charles A. Brown and George G. Brown of Auburndale, Benjamin K. Brown of Newtonville and William C. Brown of New York City.

Services were held Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mr. Charles Brown of Wolcott street, Rev. Edward P. Drew officiating. A quartette made up of the four sons furnished the music. The burial was in the family lot in Newton cemetery.

DEATH OF MR. CURRIER

Mr. Gilford Tilden Currier died on Wednesday at his home at 3 Fairview street, Newton, following a long period of failing health. "About six years ago he was seriously injured in a railroad accident while travelling in the Province of Quebec, and he never recovered from the injuries received."

Mr. Currier was born on July 18, 1876, in Danbury, N. H., and was the son of the late James H. Currier and of Jennie R. (Martin) Currier, who now lives in Newton. Mr. Currier lived in Danbury until in his childhood and then came to Massachusetts to live in North Cambridge, later removing to Newton. He received his education at the Chauncy Hall school in Boston, and then entered the bond business. He first was in the employ of J. B. Colgate Company, New York, and later became associated with Chandler & Co., in Boston, for whom he had been manager.

Mr. Currier married Miss Rebecca Voss Trippe of Dorchester, on Nov. 15, 1905, and is survived by her and a son, Gilford T. Currier, Jr., ten years of age. His mother and two sisters, all residing in Newton, also survive him.

Funeral services are being held this afternoon from his late home on Fairview street.

THE DISTRICT SCHOOL

The ever popular "District School" was presented to a crowded house last Monday at Trinity Church, Newton Centre, by the ladies of the Auxiliary.

Mrs. Nelson O. Hallett, under whose direction the play was given, acted the part of the "teacher" with admirable poise. Her interest in her pupils, and her infinite patience—at times sorely tried—were also well brought out. The old-fashioned costume which she wore with its hoop skirt added to the realism of the scene.

The cast well represented the various kinds of pupils found at Cranberry Centre. "Peter" (Mrs. Lydell) and Patrick (Mrs. Curtis) kept things lively, while "Susie" (Mrs. Bogart), "Teacher's pet," stood ready to help the teacher on every possible occasion, and was, according to her teacher, "such a sweet child."

The costumes were very effective and many of them very funny, several among the audience being unable at first to recognize their friends.

Mrs. Fitch as Miss Lemon on the school committee won much applause, and teacher's efforts to please her, and at the same time explain the singular replies of her pupils, were very amusing.

The gymnastic class exhibited some unusual movements, and the Literature class brought forth some unexpected results as when a pupil who was asked to name some plays of Shakespeare replied, "The Taming of the Jew," and "Don't You Like It."

The little known fact that the President "chooses his own cabaret." But such information only added to the gaiety of the occasion. The local hits, too, brought forth much laughter.

Cake and candy were sold between the acts, about $45 being realized in this way. So successful was the play that the ladies have been urged to repeat it at some future date.

The cast follows: Mrs. Nelson O. Hallett, Miss Bean, teacher; Mrs. Louis H. Fitch, Miss Lemon; Mrs. James Lydell, Peter; Mrs. Roy A. McMullin, Mrs. John D. Bogart, Susie; Mrs. Fred D. Robinson, Jeremiah; Mrs. R. A. Thayer, Miss Abbie B. Fitch, Mrs. Howard O. Winslow and Mrs. Fred H. Curtis.

DEATH OF MR. FISHER

Mr. Emery Bemis Fisher, a Civil War Veteran and formerly long connected with the Boston Post Office, died last Friday at his home at 54 Austin street, Newtonville, at the age of eighty-two years, lacking only three months. He was born in Boston. In the early days of the Civil War he served with the commissary department in a Vermont regiment and in 1861 was captured by the enemy and spent six months in Libby Prison, from which place he was released in June, 1862, as one of a group of twenty men who, through the intercession of President Lincoln, were exchanged for Confederate prisoners.

THE LATE EMERY B. FISHER

Following his war experiences, Mr. Fisher was in the Government's service at the Boston Post Office for forty-five years, part of the time as superintendent of the box department, up to the time when he was retired. He had lived in Newtonville for the past sixteen years and was known to the residents of that place as a great lover of animals and of children. It was his custom when on the street to pat and say a kindly word to horses, dogs and cats, and to greet pleasantly the children whom he met.

Some years ago Mr. Fisher was the guest of honor at a reception given at the Methodist Episcopal Church in Newton, at which he was presented, in memory of his Civil War Service, with a plate, cup and saucer which were exact reproductions of the china used for formal occasions at the White House during President Lincoln's administration.

Mr. Fisher is survived by a widow, Harriet E. Fisher.

Services were held on Sunday afternoon at his late residence, the Rev. Charles R. Ross, D. D., officiating. The services were very simple and beautiful. The burial was in Grove Hill Cemetery, Waltham.

LEST WE FORGET

The mild winter which we have experienced thus far aroused considerable curiosity in regard to the real facts and figures of last winter. Thru the courtesy of the officials of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company we are able to refresh our memories of that trying period.

The first storm of 1920 began on the afternoon of January 8th and continued until the morning of the 10th. Another followed on the 16th, again on the 20th and also on the 23rd and 24th. On Feb. 5th and 6th some 18 or 20 inches of snow fell, which on top of previous accumulations seriously interfered with transportation. The Walnut street line of the M. & B. Co. was completely tied up as far as Commonwealth avenue until the 14th and was not opened to Newton Highlands square until March 18th or nearly six weeks after the storm. The Newton Highlands-Lake street line was also tied up for about the same period as Centre street was under a heavy load of ice. On March 6th there was another storm of rain, which changed to snow and sleet as the temperature fell and the wind rose, causing huge snow drifts all over the city. A total of 79 inches of snow is said to have fallen during that winter.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Newton Cemetery Corporation was held at the administration building on February 2nd.

Reports from the Superintendent stated that the stables and sheds recently moved to the east side of Walnut street and about 1,200 running feet of fence constructed along the Beacon street frontage and other departments in the cemetery showing good progress.

Reports of the Treasurer stated all debts of the cemetery paid and perpetual funds totaling $293,094.56. The lot sales were the second largest in the history of the cemetery. Total number of interments to date, 9,901.

The following officers were elected for the year 1921:

Trustees—H. George Hutchinson, president; William F. Bacon, vice president; George M. Angier, James E. Clark, Henry B. Day, George M. Fiske, Frank J. Hale, Hon. Seward W. Jones, William H. Rice.

Auditor, George W. Auryansen; Treasurer and Clerk, James B. Melcher; Superintendent, H. Wilson Ross; Assistant Superintendent, Nils H. Mattson.

CO. H. NEWS

On Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 5 and 6, Co. H, 101st Infantry, will hold a 24-hour tour of duty in the State Armory. The full routine of a day in active service will feature the session, with lectures on various military subjects, Capt. J. A. McClellan plans to have among the speakers: Maj. Henry D. Comerai, former commander of C Company, on voice culture; Maj. Holliday, U. S. A., on military discipline; Maj. Anny, M. N. G., on a general resume of what constitutes a real soldier.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

Burr School

The 5th and 8th grades of the Burr School enjoyed a moving picture lesson on "Shoes" on Thursday given by a representative of the United Shoe Machinery Co.

The 8th grades are sending posters and note books to the Exposition on Vocational Guidance which is to be held in Boston on Feb. 12.

Mr. William W. T. Squires, Educational Director of the Treasury Department of the First Federal Reserve District, has written a personal letter to each of the Editors-in-Chief of the "Echo", asking when it would be convenient for him to come to Auburndale to personally congratulate the staff on their Thrift Number.

Underwood School

There will be a cake and candy sale next week Tuesday afternoon at the Underwood School. Afternoon tea will be served in the "tea room." Donations of cake and candy will be greatly appreciated. The proceeds from the sale will be used to buy a Victrola for the school.

Ralph Waldo Emerson School

Mr. Henry Bailly, chairman of the Board of Assessors, visited the eighth grade arithmetic classes on Monday morning. The two grades were combined and listened with much interest to a talk given by Mr. Bailly on the subject of "Taxes," this being the topic for study at present. At the conclusion of the talk there was class discussion and questions by the pupils.

The new fifth class is organized and has Mrs. Rutledge for teacher.

A post-card lecture was given by Miss Marion P. Bassett last week on the subject, "Belgium and Holland," countries visited by Miss Bassett several years ago. The lecture was given to grades seven and eight.

Mason School

The Hockey team of the Mason school is meeting with success this year. So far they have played of three of the games in the Playground schedule and have won each.

The first game of the season was with the Stearns school and Mason won 7-0. The second game was with the Pierce and the Mason won again 7-0. On Jan. 27th Mason was victorious over the Bigelow school by a score of 3-1. The remaining game of the series comes Thursday with the Horace Mann.

Last Monday the Mason team held a meeting to elect a captain and manager and the results were that George W. Crampton was chosen captain and Sidney Van Dusen manager.

The school also has a good Junior team that has played several games and broken about even so far as scores are concerned. Because of the interest in hockey there are prospects of a Midget team and a girls' team if the weather holds good.

A number of visitors from the Educational Dept. of the Theological Seminary on Institution Hill have been taking notes in grades three, four, five, and six this week.

One of the results of our Rally Day on Friday, Jan. 21, is this—that more parents are coming to see us teachers.

We hope still more will come! The class dues of the eighth grade are nearly all in. They ought to be in by the end of the first half of the year.

Stearns School Notes

The school hockey team decisively defeated the Pierce School team, Tuesday afternoon, by the score of 6-1. A number of visitors from the Educational Dept. of the Theological Seminary on Institution Hill have been taking notes in grades three, four, five, and six this week.

The second debate of the year by the members of the eighth grade will be held Friday morning. The subject, "Resolved; that immigration should be prohibited to the United States for a period of five years," promises to be intensely interesting. Most of the debaters have very strong feelings upon this subject, for and against, although the proponents in the class discussion to date seem to have the edge.

The eighth grade is planning its next industrial trip to the Waltham Watch factory.

The pupils of the school are very appreciative of the sincere and earnest desire of the playground department to keep the playground in fit condition for ice skating. The skating has been thoroughly enjoyed.

CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

During the lunch A period on Tuesday the three upper classes went to the assembly hall. Professor Moore of Colgate College, gave a very interesting talk on education. He was much pleased to know that the Newton Classical High School had held to the classics, which, he said too many are overlooking because they are "too hard," so to speak. Speaking of the new systems of education, he remarked that they were but fads and should be treated as such. "It is the old system of education that trains and prepares a boy so that he may be able to be someone in the world." It is always a pleasure to listen to such speakers as Mr. Moore, and the pupils made plain their appreciation of him.

At a special meeting of the English Club on Monday, Miss Booth announced that an invitation to attend the fifth monthly meeting of the Frances Jewett Repertory Club had been extended to all the members of the English Club. The members voted to accept the invitation and on Wednesday afternoon attended the meeting at the Copley Theatre. The Closet Scene from "Hamlet" was acted by several of Mr. Jewett's Company.

The memorial services for Mr. Meserve were held in the assembly hall on Wednesday morning. Mr. Adams briefly spoke on the school and social life of Mr. Meserve. He then introduced Rev. R. T. Loring, rector of St. John's Church, Newtonville. Mr. Whittemore, an intimate friend of the late teacher and Mr. Lewis, a teacher at Technology, and a former pupil of Mr. Meserve's, also spoke.

At Somerville on Tuesday afternoon, Newton defeated her opponents, 6 to 0.

At the meeting of the Boys Debating Club on Monday morning, Alfred Stafford entertained the members with his talk on "The Art of Magic." With the assistance of Raymond Leonard, he demonstrated a few of his best tricks. Later Mr. Lane took account of the tickets for the concert and dance that will take place on Friday night, Feb. 4, without fail. The public are invited to attend.

Inter-Class Track Meet

The annual inter-class meet was held in the school gym last Friday evening. The sophomores were victorious. A few of the stars were: "Bob" Garrity, who won both the senior 30 yd. dash and the 300 yd. run. "Bob" tied the record for the 30 yd. dash, doing it in 3 and two-fifths seconds. McQuiston started by winning the intermediate 30 yd. dash and also the 220 yds.; while Lawless won the 160 yds. and the junior high and broad jumps. Others who figured in their events were Capt. Clausen, winner of the 600; Doherty, winner in the hurdles, and McDavitt, who won the senior broad jump.

An interesting feature of the 300 was the pace that young Swartz set for "Bob" Garrity. "Bob" sure had to run to win that event. In the hurdlers "Al" Richards, the bride's surprise of the evening came when "Jake" Stafford in the seventh lap of the 1000 suddenly let out and in a fraction of a second managed to pass Gray, thus winning the race.

The summary was as follows:—Thirty-yard dash—Won by R. Garrity, '21; second, C. McDermott, '22; third, H. Swartz, '23. Time—3 2-5s.

Thirty-yard low hurdles—Won by E. Doherty, '23; second, A. Richards, '22; third, C. Considine, '22. Time 4 2-5s.

One hundred yard run—Won by A. Stafford, '22; second, B. Gray, '22; third, W. Park, '23. Time—2m. 49 1-5s.

Three hundred yard run—Won by R. Garrity, '21; second, H. Swartz, '23; third, F. Hurley, '22. Time—38 2-5s.

Six hundred yard run—Won by T. Clausen, '22; second, F. Blodgett, '21; third, C. Brown, '21. Time 1m. 27 3-5s.

High jump—Tie between F. Blair, '22, and R. Thompson, '22, distance 5 ft. 2 in.; third, tie between R. Darrell, '22, and D. Cunningham, '22, distance, 5 ft. 1 in.

Relay race—Won by seniors (Cunningham, Hurley, Blodgett and Garrity); second, 1923. Time—1m. 52s.

On Friday night, February 11, the track team will meet the alumni team in the school gym for their annual meet. The meet will begin promptly at 7.30 and there will be dancing as soon as the meet is over.

Lasell

The girls are eagerly anticipating the White Mountain trip which is scheduled for February 11th. A large party is going and the old girls who return for it every year add much to the enjoyment. The plan is to leave Friday morning for Intervale, returning the following Monday afternoon.

One of the three school receptions given by Dr. and Mrs. Winslow each year, occurred on Wednesday evening and was an unusually delightful event. Following the formal reception during which Dr. and Mrs. Winslow, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Towne received. There was a very fine musical program rendered by Miss Anna J. Eichhorn, violinist; Miss Florence Hale, soprano, and Miss Tsuya Matsuki, pianist.

Rev. A. D. Leavitt, pastor of the Harvard St. Congregational Church, Brookline, is to be the speaker at vespers on Sunday afternoon.

The annual New England Lasell reunion will be held at the Seminary a week from Monday, February 14th.

ATTENTION, Y-D MEN

The campaign to secure every former member of the 26th Division in the membership list of the Y-D Club of Boston has started in Newton and will be continued until every former wearer of the Y-D emblem is interviewed. Capt. Edward Murtagh of Newtonville is in charge, assisted by Maj. Henry D. Comerai, Capt. Edward Edmunds, Jr., Capt. Sinclair Weeks, Maj. Ray Cabot and many other former officers of the Yankee Division. It is estimated there are about 300 Y-D men in Newton.

EDITORIAL

The attention of our readers is called to the new regulations governing the maintenance of billboards which have just gone into effect, and the importance of entering an early protest to the Commissioner of Public Works, Hon. John N. Cole, State House, Boston, against any billboards which are deemed particularly objectionable. Now is the time to make that protest and to make the effort to relieve our city of the billboard nuisance. The billboards along Commonwealth avenue should all be removed without question and local organizations can undoubtedly find many others equally objectionable. Here is an excellent opportunity to do some really constructive work in the way of municipal improvement. Don't neglect it.

We are sorry to note a growing tendency to ignore and belittle the veterans of the great war, now that its echoes are becoming less and less noticeable. Three years ago, there was nothing too good for the young men who enlisted in the army and navy of our country. Legislation in their interests was passed by unanimous vote. Now, even minor efforts to equalize that hurried legislation is opposed chiefly on the ground that the early legislation was a mistake and further legislation on those lines ought not to be encouraged. Let us not forget that we still owe these boys more than we can ever repay and see to it that they receive their just dues, so far as the city and state can go in that direction.

Help the District Nursing Fund.

URGENT APPEAL FOR CLOTHING

At a meeting of the Middlesex County delegates of the Auxiliaries of the American Legion, held on Jan. 29th at the Y. D. Clubhouse, Mr. Clarence Edwards made an urgent appeal to the auxiliaries of Middlesex County for various articles of clothing immediately needed by the disabled soldiers in the various hospitals in this section.

Overcoats, bathrobes, pajamas, heavy underwear, woolen socks and knitted goods can be used at once and the week beginning Jan. 31st was set aside for procuring these articles. Representatives from our Newton Auxiliary assured her of their help. Therefore, an urgent request is made of every family in Newton for any of the above articles to be sent to the Newton Red Cross Headquarters, Walnut street, Newtonville, marked "For Auxiliary, Newton Post, No. 48" after which, they will be collected at the end of the week and immediately sent to the hospitals where they are sorely needed. The Auxiliary of the Newton Post will gratefully accept the assistance of the Newton people which has always been so readily given in the past to all our needs.

Last November his brother Wallace Nichols died, and he also was in an accident which resulted in an operation. It is thought that these circumstances contributed towards his death. Theodore Ludlow officiating.

NAPOLEON'S ONE BIG QUALITY

Great Frenchman's Fascination Lay in His Directness, That's All, Says H. G. Wells.

The world has largely recovered from the mischief that Napoleon did; perhaps that amount of mischief had to be done by some agency; perhaps his career, or some such career, was a necessary consequence of the world's mental unpreparedness for the crisis of the revolution. But that his peculiar personality should delineate the imaginations of great numbers of people, throws a light upon factors of enduring significance in our human problem.

Marat was a far more noble, persistent, subtle and pathetic figure; Talleyrand a greater statesman and a much more amusing personality; Moreau and Hoch able leaders of armies; his rival, Czar Alexander, as egotistical, more successful, more emotional, and with a finer imagination. Are men dazzled simply by the scale of his floundering, by the mere vastness of his notoriety?

No doubt scale has something to do with the matter; he was a "record," the record plunger; but there is something more in it than that. There is an appeal in Napoleon to something deeper and more fundamental in human nature than mere astonishment at his greatness. His very deficiencies bring out starkly certain qualities that lurk suppressed and hidden in us all. He was unhampered. He had never a gleam of religion, or affection, or the sense of duty.

Directness was his distinctive and immortalizing quality. He had no brains to waste in secondary considerations. He flung his armies across Europe straight at their mark, there never were such marches before; he fought to win; when he struck, he struck with all his might. And what he wanted, he wanted simply and completely and got—if he could.

There lies his fascination.—From "The Outline of History," by H. G. Wells.

HOTEL MEN NOT ALL BAD

Wayne B. Wheeler Tells Good Story to Prove the Truth of Assertion He Makes.

Wayne B. Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon league said in San Francisco: "I think we're unjust to hotel men as a rule. We are too ready to accuse them of robbery. As a matter of fact, they are a very fine lot.

"I once knew an engineer who was traveling in Nevada. He had a good deal of money with him, and one night he put up at a very primitive hotel in the wilds. The landlord of this hotel looked like a brigand, and the engineer could hardly sleep for fear. "Nothing, however, happened, and the next morning he set off with a relieved heart. The mountain trail was a lonely one, and on toward noon, in a wild and desolate spot, three desperadoes fell on him, emptied his valise and pockets, and made off.

"The engineer was convinced that the landlord was at the bottom of this holdup. Accordingly he turned back to notify the authorities. But he had only gone a mile or so when he met a mounted messenger, who handed him a small packet. Pinned to the packet was a note from the villainous landlord that said:

"I enclose your pocketbook containing $850, which you left under your pillow last night. Please send receipt by bearer."

Have You Euphoria?

It takes a doctor to give a high-sounding name to a well-known phenomenon. "Euphoria" means "feeling fit." It is as much a physiological fact as scarlet fever.

Nature makes it worth while to be alive simply through euphoria. The joy of making a good tennis stroke, the delight that a woodsman gets in the open air, the artist's rhapsody—all are due to euphoria. Why do we drink alcohol—when we can get it—or smoke tobacco? To effect euphoria. When a lunatic thinks that he is Napoleon and demands the homage due an emperor, he has euphoria in its worst form.

Too little is known about euphoria. Since it can be effected by drugs and chemicals, who knows but it may have its seat in some gland?—Popular Science Monthly.

Aerial Photography in Sales.

Aerial photography has entered the real estate field. Now, if you wish to buy a suburban residence, a downtown property or a country house, you can go to a broker's office and examine, probably with a reading glass, a most interesting and detailed aerial photograph of the neighborhood that you have in mind. The aerial picture very quickly brings the customer to a decision, either, to see the property or to look elsewhere. It saves time and the expense of long and often futile trips.—Youth's Companion.

Plan to Keep the Raisin Busy.

There is an unprecedented demand for raisins at the present time because of their use in the manufacture of home brews, but it is anticipated that this will be changed in the course of a few years because the interest in the preparations will decline and in view of that the Agricultural department is at work in discovering new uses for raisins so that the industry will not be wrecked. When the raisin-growers' product shows signs of a drop the government will step in with some valuable suggestions for its continuance.

NEWTON CENTRE COMMUNITY WORK NOTES

That competition is one of the outstanding characteristics of early adolescence was clearly demonstrated last Saturday afternoon when about 500 boys and girls from Newton Centre and the Highlands participated in the Community Skating Carnival held on Crystal Lake.

The afternoon program included, in addition to the races, two hockey games for boys and one for girls and several exhibitions of fancy skating. Much interest was shown in these fancy skating exhibitions which were given by Mr. Horace W. Hall and Miss Helen Chapin in competition with Mr. Harry D. Bradford and Mrs. Horace W. Hall. Both couples received much applause and it was with considerable discussion that the judges finally awarded first prize to Mr. Hall and Miss Chapin.

Several large bon-fires, some Japanese lanterns, a street organ, and perfect skating weather added much to the evening's enjoyment. Because of the lack of moonlight and the fact that no adequate lighting facilities were available, it was impossible to conduct races in the evening. Many of the parents present expressed a desire to the Committee in charge that the Carnival be repeated at a later date.

The following is a summary of the events for boys:

Backward Skating Race, won by Arthur Dow, 2d, Coleman Lemont.

Three-legged Race, won by 1st heat, Slavin and Lane; 2d heat, Burns and Conlon. Finals of this not run.

Half mile relay, younger girls, winning team, Meriam Temperly, Anna Sullivan, Catharine Sullivan, Martha Jones.

The Carnival was conducted under the auspices of the Newton Centre Community Work and was directly supervised by the Committee on Community Activities, consisting of Tracy A. Rudd, chairman; Wm. M. Breed, Chas. W. Bond, and Anson T. Leary, Community Secretary. This committee was assisted by Mr. Marshall Stone, Mr. Herbert Colby, Mr. Savage and the Older Boys' Council of Newton Centre, under the leadership of Hughes Wagner and Ivan Collett.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

The Fessenden School

Mr. Fay, a member of the English department, whose hobby is ships, entertained the school with an illustrated lecture on that subject last Saturday night. His talk covered the history of the United States Navy from the American Revolution until just before the World War, with illustrations of the more famous of American battleships, such as the Constitution, the Monitor, and the Maine.

Last Monday evening the school was honored by a visit by the Rev. J. Edgar Park, of the Second Church, West Newton, and his wife. After leading the school in the Evening Prayer, Dr. Park spoke to the boys.

His account of the life in an old English school was both interesting and humorous, and the boys expressed their sincere appreciation by a long Fessenden cheer.

ASBELL-SMITH

Miss Mildred Dorothy Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Bowen street, Newton Centre, was married last Wednesday to Mr. Frederick J. Asbell of Newton Centre. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. E. Wagner of the Methodist Church. The bride wore a gown of white satin trimmed with duchess lace, and a tulle veil trimmed with pearl beads and orange blossoms. The maid of honor, Miss Gladys Knight, of Medford, wore a flesh colored beaded georgette gown. The best man was Mr. Carroll Asbell, brother of the groom.

A reception at the home of the bride followed the ceremony, the bride being assisted by her parents, and the groom by Mr. Tilly J. Asbell. The house was tastefully decorated with palms and cut flowers. Mr. Winthrop P. Smith and Miss Gordon Kennedy sang "A Perfect Day", and "A Miracle of Love".

After a trip to New York, Mr. and Mrs. Asbell will make their home in that city.

DURABILITY

The first question invariably asked by the prospective purchaser of roofing is, "How long will it wear?"

Many roofs of prepared roofing laid over twenty years ago are still in service, withstanding the destructive attacks of the elements, and continue to retain their waterproofing properties.

"Actions speak louder than words." The service which these roofs have rendered in the past is the best evidence of their ability to wear.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY

Andrew Carnegie's "Gospel" of Libraries Taken From His Autobiography

"Col. James Anderson—I bless his name as I write—announced that he would open his library of 400 volumes to boys, so that any young man could take out, each Saturday afternoon, a book which could be exchanged for another on the succeeding Saturday. It was from my own early experience that I decided there was no use to which money could be applied so productive of good to boys and girls who have good within them and ability and ambition to develop it, as the foundation of a public library in a community which is willing to support it as a municipal institution. I am sure that the future of those libraries I have been privileged to found will prove the correctness of this opinion, for if one boy in each library district, by having access to one of these libraries, is half as much benefited as I was by having access to Col. Anderson's 400 well-worn volumes I shall consider that they have not been established in vain."

"As the twig is bent the tree's inclined." The treasures of the world which books contain were opened to me at the right moment. The fundamental advantage of a library is that it gives nothing for nothing. Youth must acquire knowledge themselves. There is no escape from this."

LENTEN INSTITUTE

The Eliot Church is to hold an Institute on the six Friday evenings of the Lenten season, Feb. 11 to March 18. The plan is to bring to the church and community the same opportunities that are shared by those who go to the summer conferences at Northfield, Silver Bay and like gatherings, thereby giving the many the same privileges as have been enjoyed by a few favored ones.

The evening will be divided into Young People's Hour, 5:30, when the stereopticon will be used; Cafeteria supper at 6:30; at 7:00 an assembly will be held with a devotion address by neighboring clergymen; Sectional classes will meet at 7:45 in four groups under the following leaders: Dr. C. H. Patton, Dr. A. E. Hoit, Dr. Mary W. Calkins, Prof. Eliza H. Kendrick and Rev. Alden H. Clark. Dr. Patton will discuss "The Near East: Cross-Roads of the World." Dr. Hoit's subject will be "The Church and the Community." Dr. Calkins and Mr. Clark will deal with "Christian Fundamentals;" and Prof. Kendrick will give a course of Bible Study on the Acts. At 8:45 Family Prayer will be held, closing promptly at 9:00.

Those who are not associated with Eliot Congregation will be welcome at the Institute. There is no charge except for the supper which is at cost.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Replacing the Federation Bulletin which suspended publication with the January number, promptly on February first appeared Federation Topics, which will be published by the State Federation for the remainder of the year. It is a neat four-page sheet and contains practically the same material that has formerly appeared in the Bulletin. May this new child of the Federation fill the need and have a less checkered career than its predecessors. One thing is true the Federation Board must cease to consider its organ as in any way but an asset and recognize the fact that no such sheet can be anything but a liability, and therefore, a justifiable expenditure. The president, Mrs. George Minot Baker, in her monthly letter urges the necessity of completing the Endowment Fund, work for which was set aside amidst war conditions. "Our goal," she says, "is $25,000. The amount standing to our credit is $20,986.02. . . We earnestly hope that every club will devote one afternoon to raising money for this fund. If the work of the Federation means anything to you, if it has in any way enriched your life, if it has opened closed doors of opportunity if you believe in the aims and ideals of the Federation, then help the Endowment Fund."

State Federation

Wednesday, February 9. Mid-winter meeting at Melrose Highlands by invitation of the Woman's Club. Legislative session in the morning at 10:15. Jean H. Norris, city magistrate of New York city, will speak in the afternoon on "Problems of the Women's Court and Court of Domestic Relations." This promises to be a live meeting. If you can't be a delegate, get a red ticket and go, and go in the morning. There is always something of the flavor of the meeting lost when one comes in at the "evening hour." Provisions are made for box luncheon, if the luncheon tickets have not been secured. Train leaves Boston at 8:50 A. M.

Thursday, February 10, 10 A. M. Public Health Conference at Mechanics' Building, Boston. Address by Mrs. Jessie D. Hodder, superintendent Sherborn Reformatory.

Hardy Mitchell, president of the Newton Federation, have been invited as the guests of honor and, as is the custom, the presidents of many of the federated clubs in this vicinity have also been invited, but this does not mean that the members should stay away. Rather they should come to enjoy the delightful program of ensemble music which will be given by a string quartet of Symphony players, and to join in extending hospitality to the guests of the afternoon. There will be tea and a social hour with Mrs. Ralph W. Angier in charge.

February 10, Mrs. Grace M. Poole will talk on current events before the Newton Centre Woman's Club.

At the meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Friday afternoon, February 11, Mrs. Edward Houlton James will read John Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln."

Local Happenings

At the meeting of the Monday Club of Newton Highlands on January 31st, Mrs. C. H. Keeler reviewed and read from the "Story of Opal." Tea was served and a social hour enjoyed with the hostess, Mrs. George W. Barker, the president.

Miss Bertha Muzz of the Whitney Studio of Dramatic Art delightfully entertained the members and guests of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. on Monday afternoon with her clever rendering of "Polly of the Circus." This was one of the club's special days. A beautiful tea was served by the hostess, Miss Ward, Miss Webster, Mrs. Hiram A. Miller and the hostess were in charge of the afternoon.

The musicale by the Durrell String Quartet and Mr. Charles Stratton, tenor, given at the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon was altogether delightful, the ensemble numbers being especially good and particularly so in the Largo movement of the Haydn quartet. Mr. Stratton was enthusiastically received and generously responded with an encore after each of his groups, rendering each time a song composed by his accompanist, Charles Fonteyn Manney. The committee in charge sold nosegays during the intermission for the benefit of the West Newton Music School and the proceeds will make a gift of about $16 for the school. Announcement was made that at least $200 will be realized from the lecture by Mr. Rihbany, this being the club's contribution to the European Children's Fund. The committee in charge of the lecture worked indefatigably and deserve much credit for the results.

An enthusiastic audience which filled to its capacity the Methodist Parish House at the last meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club, proved the interest of the members in "Home Talent," Mrs. J. R. Draper, chairman of the Home Economics committee, being the speaker. Mrs. Draper gave a practical, helpful talk on the "Ethics of Dress," speaking in the simple and friendly way most suited to an audience of friends. Illustrations on the black board, with humorous stories and glimpses of personal experience, lent emphasis to important "thou shalt" and "thou shalt not" in good dressing. The speaker also gave many helpful suggestions for the making of garments, demonstrating on living models how to measure for patterns, and how to remedy common faults in the fitting of gowns.

During the business session Mrs. Barris, legislative chairman, explained carefully the federal and state bills which will be considered at the mid-winter meeting of the State Federation. The president urged all members, and especially delegates, to familiarize themselves with these bills, copies of which may be obtained at the document room, State House. After some discussion, it was voted to send the delegates to the Federation meeting uninstructed.

At the close of the program tea was served in the parlors where the millinery exhibit was much admired.

Business meetings of the Newton Social Science Club are seldom dead dull, as is often the case in clubs where the business is cut and dried, but are rather very stimulating affairs. The one on Wednesday morning was no exception, when there was a spirited discussion of the pros and cons of the Daylight Saving law with the result that the club voted by a large majority not to endorse a repeal of the law. There was also a lively discussion of the question of increasing the club's revenue by an additional tax for this year and an amendment to the constitution whereby the dues would be permanently increased. The tax for the present year was carried, but the amendment for increasing the dues was lost through failure to secure a two-thirds vote in its favor.

RAYMOND FOSDICK SPEAKS BEFORE THE WABAN WOMAN'S CLUB

The members of the Waban Woman's Club were greatly privileged at their meeting last Monday, in hearing a talk on "The League of Nations," by Raymond B. Fosdick of New York who was one of the United States Generals of the League in the days when America had a representative in its councils.

Mr. Fosdick spoke very simply but forcefully, bringing out the following reasons why he thought a League essential to the very existence of civilization:

In the face of the present world wide upset in industrial conditions the League could establish a system of credits which would restore trade relations; it is the only common sense way to dissolve the existing political and racial antagonisms; it offers the only effective way of combating world wide epidemics and of regulating the extensive traffic in opium, and in women and girls; and the League aims primarily to prevent future wars.

By bringing about an end to secret diplomacy it has already made a great stride forward. If the commission now in session for the limitation of armaments can come to a satisfactory agreement another great incentive to war will be abolished. He felt the United States is largely responsible for the attitude of England and Japan and their hesitancy in reducing their armaments.

Wars are no longer fought by armies, the entire civic population is often involved. Wars of the future will obliterate whole cities, and the slaughter will be fifty times as great as in this last conflict.

He closed his talk with these words: "Christianity was considered a vision in the days of Jesus Christ; modern science was thought to be a vision in the time of Galilee; democracy was nothing but a vision in the reign of George III.

"When there is no vision the people perish!"

Piano selections by Miss Constance Turner followed and added great enjoyment to the afternoon's program, after which tea was served by the Hospitality Committee.

CAN HUMANITY BE CIVILIZED

A large and attentive audience listened to Rev. A. M. Rihbany last Monday evening, as he addressed the Newtonville Woman's Club and their friends upon the subject, "Can Humanity Be Civilized?" Mr. Rihbany, a distinguished civilization as a society made up of good men and women. Who are good men and women? Those who, free from vice and crime, live together in mutual regard and co-operation for progress toward the true, the good, the beautiful. Truth is that which is; the good is that which ought to be; the beautiful is that which is as it ought to be. Vice is a bad habit which effects oneself; crime is a bad habit which effects one's neighbors. A man may drink enough to unfit himself for a useful life—that is a vice; when he drinks enough to assault his neighbor—that is crime. Upon these basic definitions Mr. Rihbany built a discourse which was masterful, scholarly and artistic, sometimes arousing disagreement, but never antagonism, on the part of his audience. One might have more faith, than had the speaker, in the part which modern invention plays in making it possible for men to pursue the true, the good and the beautiful in life, but he would agree that, in many instances, such mechanism as the telephone, for example, has become the master, as well as the servant, of its patrons. Mr. Rihbany's native courtesy met ready responses and he and his listeners were on very friendly ground, so that, at the close of the address, he was not allowed to leave without acknowledging the appreciative applause.

Over $200 proceeds from the sale of tickets will be sent to the fund for European Children's Relief.

GUEST NIGHT OF THE NEWTON COMMUNITY CLUB

Guest Night of the Newton Community Club on Thursday of last week brought out an audience that well-nigh taxed the capacity of the Channing church auditorium. All business was dispensed with save a few preliminary announcements. The club chorus sustained by Miss Ruth Tilton at the organ and Mrs. J. J. Bosdan and Miss Katharine L. Stone, violins, gave a finished and most satisfactory rendering of Sir Edward Elgar's, "The Snow." Then followed the speaker of the evening, Dr. Bruno Roselli, exchange professor at Vassar College, who talked most entertainingly for over an hour on "Italy after the War."

Dr. Roselli stated that the problem confronting Italy at the present time is three-fold—political, industrial and financial. Italy has placed a larger stake in the war than any other country, since she is compelled to buy all her necessities outside of her own boundaries. Her nervous system has been badly shattered, but not wholly broken. Having hated so bitterly during the years of the war, it has become a habit and now that no enemy exists to hate, the people are hating themselves.

Owing to Italy's being the connecting link between the East and the West and between the North and the South, it is necessary for the world to pay a great deal of attention to that country. It is essential that America and Italy should understand one another better. In the Italian's mind the American is a minor type of an Englishman, while to the American the Italian is a minor variety of a Parisian. The time has come when the Italian should cease to know Boston by the way of London or the American to know Rome by the way of Paris. It will take another ten years, he feels, for Italy to reach conditions such as existed before the war. He discussed the series of strikes of last summer, the truth of which did not reach this country, as the press, he considers, has always been more or less hostile to Italy and has not given them a fair showing. The soldiers came out of the war a different race, and finding themselves up against excessive cost of living and a depreciated currency, the result was 4,000,000 "grouches." The cotton and silk industries made an attempt to pitch up matters, but the steel industries said they could not increase wages, since they must import both coal and iron, for which they were obliged to pay in gold. The result was not a "lock-out," but a "lock-up" on the part of the operatives, who armed themselves with the weapons brought home from the war, new red flags and kept the owners out. This, Dr. Bruno said, was a terrific piece of bluff, but it eventually brought to pass what they wanted, government interference, and a small increase of wages. Gioletti, the prime minister, whom the speaker characterized as "one of the greatest statesmen the world has ever seen," quietly sent the king off to the only summer place he has left, and he himself went to his and waited for things to quiet down.

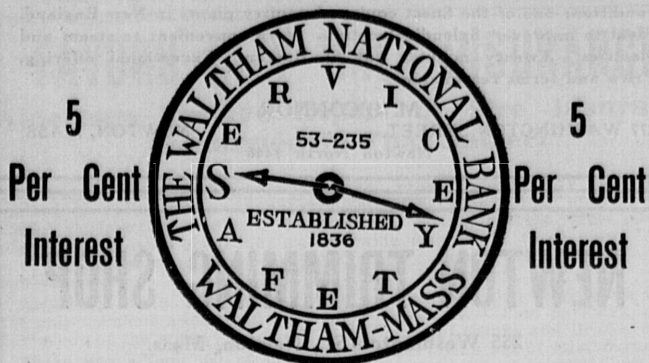

At length just before their national holiday, September 20th, he called a conference down at Rome far away from the industrial strife, and with flags flying and the holiday spirit in the air, a settlement was reached. Despite what reports may come to us to the contrary the country is now in a quiet condition, the railroads are running on from two-thirds to three-quarters normal service, so that travelers will find things fairly comfortable. The speaker was full of Italian fire, representing the injustice done his country and almost seething in his condemnation of the settlement by the Peace Conference. He characterized the plans at Washington for restricting immigration as "little less than assassine." Italy has the unskilled laborer to send over which this country sorely needs, but we would restrict him and let in those wearing "the white collar," who would never descend to go down into New York's slums to work. The Italian illiterate worker is one of the greatest assets the country has ever had. It is useless to try to make an American out of him, but you can afford to let him die out, for his children remain and out of them can be made true Americans.

MONTHLY LUNCHEON

"Some had meat and canna eat, And some would eat that want it; But we have meat, and we can eat, See let the Lord be thankit."

With these words, very impressively introduced by Miss Abby A. Miller, the president, the members of the Central Church Woman's Association sat down on Wednesday to its luncheon-meeting. At the close of the sumptuous repast the new order of devotional service was used for the first time. The membership of the society has increased so rapidly and its work developed so broadly, it has become almost necessary to conduct its business with a rather flexible interpretation of the articles of its constitution.

sistently refused to accept any assistance from the Red Cross. The public would be surprised if it knew how many cases there are that we have been unable to find, notwithstanding persistent and continued efforts.

We have under consideration this week a case where a man with wife and child has broken down in health from causes directly traced to the period of his service in the Army. Until now, the man has refused to put in an application for disability or relief, and has made no effort to get in touch with the Red Cross, and now he finds himself without any Government assistance. Having come to the Red Cross, his papers applying for relief have now been filed, but it will take several months before anything can reasonably be expected from Washington. Had he made application at the first symptoms of ill health, his case would have had attention long ago, and he and his wife would have been saved much anxiety, and would have had substantial relief from the Government. He is now obliged to go away for a month, possibly for several months, and here is where the Red Cross offers material assistance to care for his family during his absence. This is but one instance of a great many.

The Home Service Section of the Newton Chapter has rendered assistance to over one thousand ex-service men, or to their families during the past year, and has tried persistently to get in personal touch with every known ex-service man who in any way needs help.

I can assure you positively that the City of Newton does not merit any of the criticisms that have been passed out. We believe we have a record of every Newton boy who is now in a Hospital.

The citizens of Newton can help if they will report to the Red Cross any case or cases in Newton, where boys are suffering from ill-health because of service, or who want assistance of any kind, which is within the power of the Red Cross to offer. Wherever we hear of a case, we do not wait for the man to come to the Red Cross, but the Red Cross seeks out the man, and offers its service.

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) JOSEPH B. JAMIESON,
Chairman Home Service Section,
Newton Chapter, American Red Cross.

The birthday of the society is unique in this respect that it brings together in thousands of places, millions of youth in this and other countries in remembrance of a movement which has helped and blessed them.

The wideness of the celebration, too, is notable. The society has spread into all Protestant denominations, and in nearly every country on the globe. There are 2,000 societies in India, 120 in China, while since the war, societies in Germany have increased from 500 to over 1,000. Two national conventions have been held since the war, the first in Berlin in 1919, where the Kaiser Wilhelm Cathedral was crowded to suffocation, and the second at Darmstadt where, too, the meeting was crowded. Societies have also multiplied in Hungary, Poland, Finland, and other European countries.

This turning to religion on the part of the stricken countries of the world would lead one to think that adversity is good not only for the soul of the individual, but for the soul of the nation as well.

But the real significance of the event is not found in the extent of its celebration, but in the fact that God has been able to use an instrument so humble to bless in some degree His Church and the nations of the world.

In the screen production, ideas are seized upon very rapidly. All recent progress has been along the line of increasing the rapidity of getting our ideas across. The rapid development of the many road, and the telephone illustrations of this.

The great function which the novel and the stage play is to stimulate the imagination. People who do things are always people of imagination. It is of the utmost importance that this ability of the human mind be kept active. This is the really great essential. Through the novel and the stage, we are carried into the lives of others, and thus our own lives are enlarged.

In reading a novel, the reader subconsciously supplies the action; subconsciously he is cooperating with the author. In a play, only a small part of the life of the characters is portrayed, and the hearer subconsciously supplies the rest of the life. In a screen play the spectator subconsciously supplies the dialogue. This is more difficult to supply than action. The fact that the average spectator is not aware of this is no argument against the fact. The popular statement "When you go to the movies you leave your mind behind is not true." The moving pictures are giving us a more intellectual race. They are a kind of whetstone. In a few years we shall see the effects of this.

As to the harm of the moving pictures, the speaker said that he had seen many unintelligible plays, but had not personally seen any plays which he considered harmful. The moving pictures reflect life, particularly life as portrayed in the daily papers of today. These should first be censured. It is curiosity to see how the events suggested by the daily papers work out in action which leads many to see the moving pictures. The American, in particular, loves a thrill. Nor were these thrills, according to the speaker, harmful.

In regard to censorship, the speaker called attention to the fact that Christ did not censure the sins of His day, with the single exception of the sin of Self-Righteousness. He also said that he feared that our own country might come under the dominion of the Self-Righteous.

In conclusion, the speaker said that if we would heed the Moving Pictures to be better, there is one way open to every individual, namely, if you see a play that you think objectionable let the exhibitor know it. Exhibitors, the country over, are hanging upon popular opinion. Such a procedure on the part of individuals, would accomplish more than any state censorship.

NEWTON DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

This Association began its career in this city about twenty-two years ago, with the services of one trained nurse, but in a very short time, a second was added.

At that time, with only horse cars and trolleys for conveyance, an average of 200 calls per month was considered good work for the force.

About fifteen years ago, we made a change in our method, for in conferring with the Hospital management, who desired to give their nurses some district training, we found it possible to have the services of two trained nurses, with a graduate superintendent; thus increasing our efficiency 50 percent; and for this service, we have paid the salary of the superintendent, and the board of the nurses.

A few years ago, the gift of a Ford car, made possible the accomplishment of much more work, until this past year, when our maximum was reached; viz.: 8000 calls on 1200 patients. Of this number, 35 percent paid the full cost of the nursing visit, 17 percent paid part of its cost, and 48 percent paid nothing.

As in every walk of life, the cost of board and salaries, has increased in these fifteen years, just about 100 percent; and yet we feel there is urgent call for more nursing service.

In view of this condition, we are adding to our staff, about Feb. 1st, two more graduate nurses; who also have had some special training for this work in New York.

With these two visiting nurses, we hope to serve many more families in the community; those of moderate means, and also in homes where the services of a nurse is required for only a short time daily.

The Red Cross is to share the expense of this additional service; but this Association feels that it must raise at least $2000 more, annually, to meet its obligations.

We wish to do this by increasing our list of annual subscribers, considering this the safest and soundest way of financing any philanthropy.

The annual membership fee for men is $5.00, for women $2.00; and checks may be sent to Mrs. Charles L. Smith, Treas., 130 Lake Avenue, Newton Centre, Mass. For the Finance Committee, Mrs. Ellery Peabody, Mrs. William G. Snow, Mrs. Charles L. Smith.

Prospects for a good track team are very promising. A team will run at the Boston Y. M. C. A. meet Feb. 12, picked from the following men: Roberts, Adams, Wilson, Carlson, Gray and Ross, a former Tech runner. These are all men of experience and ability in all the standard events. Roberts is an all-around man excelling in the shot put, high pump, dashes, and toe and heel walking. Adams, a former Newton High star, Carlson of Gray both good men in the sprints.

Swimming

A senior swimming team is also to be organized to compete against teams from other Associations. Such well known men as Putnam Barnes, of Waltham, an all-round swimmer, Elliot Jaquith, a speedy dash and back stroker, also a plunger, Noonan, Cunningham, Wallace, all good speed men, Brigham, a star plunger, and several others who are anxious to try for the team. A team of this calibre ought to make them all hustle. Meets will be arranged both at home and abroad.

BOY SCOUTS

Anniversary Week, Feb. 6 to 12

Upon the same day that the anniversary of the ratification by Massachusetts of the United States Constitution, 1788, occurs, the Anniversary of the Boy Scout Movement begins. Thru the influence of a good act performed by a Scout the movement in America began eleven years ago. Feeling its way with caution, but all the time realizing its bigness and value, it steadily pressed on until in its eleventh year of service to the American Boy it feels confident of its place in the life of the nation and has no fear of the future. The Scout Movement would live today should all the Official Staff and offices of Headquarters in New York be suddenly swept away. Scouting is not an organization. It is a movement. It lives by service. It exists for the benefit of the community, and the betterment of the boy. It welcomes every movement in America and is happy to work along the side of them if they are working for the betterment of American Boyhood, and the development of a finer type of Citizenship. The Scout movement includes all religious beliefs. Protestant and Catholic work side by side, and in this harmony of endeavor a richer, fuller, and better character is developing.

The Scout Movement was chartered by Congress in 1910. Every year the Movement makes its annual report to the American Government. The Government is sponsor for the Movement. Patriotism and loyalty to American institutions and principles naturally

REAL ESTATE

Important Real Estate Sale At Newton Corner

Mary E. Duffey has sold her estate recently purchased by her, the purchaser's name being withheld for the present. The estate consists of a splendidly built frame house, in splendid condition, with 10 rooms, 2 baths, several hand lavatories, and all modern improvements, together with a 3-car heated cement garage, the lot contains about 14,000 feet of land. This is the second time that this estate has changed owners in practically 60 days. The property is splendidly located, well within the coveted one fare zone, convenient to steam and electric transportation. The significance of this sale is that it demonstrates that the wise purchaser is turning back to the substantial, well located estates, that have been tried and found not wanting. The further significance of this sale is that in each case the property has been sold for a price much in excess of the tax value and the last sale price much in excess of the first, the ultimate result will be that this estate will be absorbed by the Newton Real Estate Trust, a corporation practically formed with a view, and in fact with plans now complete for the extensive improvement of the May Estate at the corner of Centre and Jefferson streets. The really wise contemplating purchasers will do well to at least stop to consider some of these transactions. M. O'Connor, 277 Washington street, Newton, Mass.

AIDED ITS BLIND COMPANION

Australian Stockman Tells of Bullock That Took Care of Another Which Was Sightless.

Peter S. Mitchell, a stock raiser from Melbourne, Australia, says that the cattle business is at present the best in the history of Australia. He says that his people are hard at work restoring the country to normal and that they are very anxious to get the world trade back to pre-war conditions.

"My father was first to bring the Black Poll cattle into Australia 40 years ago," said Mr. Mitchell at New York, "and they have developed to be the best for our section. They are hardy, flourish on ferns, tree leaves and bark, where other cattle would starve, and they grow to great size, with weight evenly distributed, and the fat running in hair lines through the rump steaks even. There is a quick market for anything on the hoof that is fairly fat, and prices are very good."

"We discovered a blind bullock in one of the herds that came in, and another bullock had adopted it, and fathered it all the time. It was found to be blind only when we noticed that its companion signaled to it constantly and led it to water, through gates and narrow runs. If at any time it got lost its friend would never rest until he had located it."

"None of the other bullocks paid any attention to the blind one and the protection the foster parent gave to the unfortunate bullock was a never ending source of comment and speculation. When both, fattened after 18 months on our place, were driven to the shipping station 60 miles distant the blind one was led through the difficult places by his friend and generally cared for day and night."

WANT LANGUAGE UP TO DATE

Common Sense Behind "Literary Revolution" That Is Now Prevailing in China.

What is termed the literary revolution in China aims at a reform of the language used in books, magazines, newspapers and public discussion. The outsider will jump to the conclusion that this means an attempt to encourage a phonetic substitute for ideographic characters. Not at all. There is a movement to supplement ideographs with phonetic signs to show their pronunciation, the aim being quite as much to standardize pronunciation as make it easier to learn to read. But this movement arouses no such interest and excitement as the literary revolution.

The latter is an attempt to make the spoken language the standard language for print. Literary Chinese is as far away from the vernacular as Latin is from English, perhaps further. It is a speech of 2,000 years ago, adorned and frozen. To learn it is to learn another language. The reformers were actuated by the practical impossibility of making education really universal when in addition to the difficulties of mastering the ideographs, children in the elementary schools are compelled to get their education in terms of a foreign language.

They are actuated even more by the belief that it was not possible to develop a literature which shall express the life of today unless the spoken language, the language of the people, is used. Apart from the employing and enriching of the vulgar tongue, it is not possible to develop general discussion of the issues of today, social, moral, economic.—New Republic.

To Develop Wild Pears.

The world's largest stock of pear seedlings of a wild, blight-resisting variety found in Manchuria, is located on the Loma Rica ranch near Grass Valley, Cal. The young trees are from seeds brought directly from China and number about 100,000.

Three pomological experts from the United States Department of Agriculture, Professors Allison, Wright and Kingsman, recently inspected the stock and approved the experimental work.

The original trees, known as the Pyrus usuriensis, are found growing in the ancient burying ground of the kings of the Manchurian dynasty, and it is only since the overthrow of the dynasty that the seeds became available. The tract is said to be vast and to be grown to trees of immense size.

By grafting the commercial varieties of pears upon this stock good results are expected to be obtained.

Pyrenees Put to Work.

Efforts to harness the water power going to waste in the Pyrenees and transform it into electricity are being intensified.

Engineers have surveyed entire mountain ranges and have succeeded already in controlling many torrents and making them furnish power. Altogether 200,000 horsepower now is furnished and capital amounting to 300,000,000 pesetas have been invested.

Every day sees additions to the amount of power available, and engineers employed in the work estimate that in a few years Catalonia will be able to do without coal.

A Change of Calling.

"You are going to have some sad disillusionments," said the mysterious Egyptian.

"How is that?"
"When this carnival company came through here last year you were selling 'hot dogs' and pink lemonade."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Aldermen Receive Report of Fire Insurance Committee on That Subject

The aldermen of 1921 are certainly making a record in early adjournments, the meeting held last Monday night being finished about nine o'clock with considerable important business transacted.

Aldermen Blake and Rogers were the only members absent both of them being out of the state.

There was a long list of hearings, most of them, as usual, being mere formal matters.

Edison poles on Washington park were opposed by Mrs. Dearborn in person and Edison poles on Brooks avenue were opposed by Mrs. W. S. Higgins by letter.

The application of William Bliss for permit to set up a 3 hp. gas engine at 24 Lyman street, Newton Centre, was favored by Mr. Lane who spoke for the petitioner. He said that Mr. Bliss was not in active business and only wanted to use the engine an hour or two a day two or three times a week. He presented the signatures of 12 families out of the 13 living in the block where the engine was located, favoring the permit. The hearing was subsequently re-opened and Mr. J. Albert Cole and Principal S. B. Paul of the Rice School made a vigorous remonstrance against the permit saying that the noise from the exhaust was unbearable and interfered with the school work.

Mr. A. D. Locke protested against the proposed widening of Beacon street between Waban and the Lower Falls saying that the street now was wide enough for three autos to pass without danger. Mr. Enholm also opposed the matter.

There were also hearings on Edison poles on East Side parkway, on the altering of Centre and Beacon streets, on the laying out of Eastbourne road, on the altering of Chestnut and Fuller streets, and in taking land for sewer in Mague avenue, Norwood avenue and Oakwood road.

Mayor Childs sent in a large number of recommendations and appointments. John W. Murphy was named for another three years as principal assessor, Charles Benyon as the Supt. of Gypsy and Brown Tail Moth work, and ex-alderman E. G. Haggood as a trustee of the Free Library, vice Charles E. Kelsey resigned.

His recommendations for $373 for new automobile for the Plumbing Inspector, for appropriations to cover some 1920 deficits, and for $500 for Soldiers' Relief were granted at once. He also recommended $1400 for repairs to Willow street stable, the acceptance of gift of memorial fountain from Mrs. Edward E. Blodgett in memory of her son, Lieut. Richard Ashley Blodgett, killed in France, and sent in the claim of Dennis M. Cronin for damages to water meter, a report that

CHURCH AND COMMUNITY

Interesting Meeting Held by Woman's Association of Central Church

A very inspiring meeting was held at Central Church Wednesday evening, under the auspices of the Woman's Association of the church. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Irving O. Palmer. Mrs. Palmer gave a brief history of the growth of the churches in Newton, and pointed out that the new privileges which we have today bring with them new responsibilities.

Preceding the speakers of the evening, Miss Houston of the Music School gave several songs, accompanied by Mrs. Kenneth Hastings on the violin, and by Miss Lillian West on the piano.

The first speaker was Miss Roy, Supervisor of the Americanization work in the City of Newton. Miss Roy emphasized the fact that 20 per cent of the population of Newton is foreign born, and that among these 26 nationalities are represented. At the present time, she said, classes were being held as follows: Among the Italians, among the Russians, among the Armenians, and among the French. In Upper Falls there is a very flourishing club called the "Columbus Republican Club," which is one of 47 such clubs in Massachusetts.

The work among the women is much simpler than among the men; the latter are being helped in taking out their citizenship papers and in making out income taxes, etc. Ex-service men are giving valuable assistance in this matter. Miss Roy said that in all of her work likenesses rather than differences were emphasized, and that there was a splendid spirit of friendliness everywhere and of patriotism.

OUR YOUNG PEOPLE

Miss McGill Speaks Frankly About the Boy and Girl of Today

Following a very charming luncheon with Valentine decorations under the chairmanship of Miss Caroline Lovett at the Unitarian Church, West Newton, on Wednesday afternoon, Miss Margaret McGill of the Classical High School, gave a very inspiring talk on "The Difficulties of the Cultivation of Taste in the Boy and Girl of Today."

The first difficulty which she mentioned was the times in which we live. "The times are out of joint, and we are holding our young people accountable. We are expecting our returned soldiers, for example, to find a solution for our present economic difficulties. The difficulties are not of their making, and we must remember that while in some ways adjustment is easier for youth than for those who are older, in other ways, owing to their inexperience, it is more difficult."

The second difficulty is found in the relation of youth to youth. Miss McGill stated that in her opinion the reason why so many young people go to the movies is because there is nothing else to do. This is the greatest commentary of our life today. It is for us who are older to find something better for them to do.

In regard to dancing, she said that the "toddle" was "going out," and chaperons were "coming in." The recent "corset" stories she affirmed, had been greatly exaggerated. The greatest evil here lies in the element of deceit practised by the young person.

As for recent fashion in regard to skirts and hair, and powder puffs, a little ridicule will go a long way to

A GREAT SUCCESS

Minstrel Show Given to Aid Newton Centre Women's Club Building Fund

Bray Hall was filled both Friday and Saturday nights when the long-heralded Minstrel Show was given by the men for the benefit of the Building Fund of the N. C. Woman's Club.

Ripples of laughter greeted the preliminary "Free Performance" and "Dan" Callaghan and his bill posters and minstrel band prepared the way for "Jack" Underhill, who as a black Harry Lauder, had an astonishingly original effect. Tracey Rudd as "Pokin' Pavlowa," then gave an imitable dance which was one of the best features of the show.

The Minstrel Parade then entered from the main door in gay attire and singing "That Newton Centre Band." The end men vied with one another in their local jokes and no one in the audience knew who would be the next victim. The musical numbers were well given and brought so much applause that encores had to be given.

Altogether it will be long remembered as an unusual performance, due to the efforts of every member of the cast, and particularly to the Production Committee, whose chairman, S. Hardy Mitchell, and accompanist, W. H. Rand, Jr., inspired all to their greatest effort.

The Production Committee was as follows: Edw. A. Andrews, D. H. Callaghan, J. F. Capron, Robert B. Chapin, John E. Holbrook, A. P. McAuslan, Ralph M. McLellan, Frank N. Norton, W. H. Rand, Jr., Arthur Rayner, J. H. Ritchie, W. P. Underhill.

The entire production was staged under the direction of Ralph F. Harlow and Jerry Betner and will bring in a substantial sum toward the Building Fund of the N. C. Woman's Club.

WAR MEMORIAL

Committee Favors Combination of Artistic and Utilitarian Features on High School Grounds

This Committee was created by an order of the Board, dated February 3, 1919, and as originally constituted was made up of the President of the Board and Messrs. George M. Angier, Stephen H. Whidden, Matt B. Jones, and Thomas W. White. Since its creation the original committee has been enlarged and now consists of the President of the Board and George M. Angier, Stephen H. Whidden, Matt B. Jones, Thomas W. White, Joseph B. Jamieson, Henry J. Ryan, Endicott P. Saltonstall, Sinclair Weeks, Michael Murray.

The first report of this Committee was submitted on November 17, 1919—the essence of the report being that under no circumstances should the memorial and the city hall be united. The Committee felt that it was unwise at that time to construct a city hall, but did feel that a memorial of the Great War should be erected.

The second report of the Committee was presented in January, 1920. That report stated that there were two distinct lines of thought among the citizens of Newton. One group of citizens felt that the memorial should take the form of a building which should be a civic and social center for the city, and which should contain suitable accommodations for the American Legion, the Grand Army, the Spanish War Veterans, and other patriotic organizations. The second group were equally convinced that the memorial should be purely an artistic memorial without utilitarian function.

This Committee in its report of January, 1920, fully appreciated that there was much justice in the view held by each group of citizens. It felt that no memorial would be a success which did not have the hearty sympathy and co-operation of the great mass of the citizens of the city, and it felt there was no propriety or inconsistency in favoring a memorial which would fulfill the wishes of both groups. The Committee accordingly unanimously reported, with the hearty approval of the Mayor, that it was desirable to construct both an artistic war memorial and also a building for the use of the patriotic and civic organizations of the city.

The report of the Committee suggested as the most desirable location for the artistic memorial the plot of land directly in front of the Technical High School. It also urged that the civic building be located on Claf-

Rare & Old Books

SPECIAL SECTION

Boston Transcript

February 16

A Rare Book Section of eight pages, giving particular attention to those matters which interest collectors of rare and precious books, manuscripts, prints and autographs. The unique position of the BOSTON TRANSCRIPT in catering to the wants of the lovers of good literature and its standing as a high class daily newspaper are well known. "The Bibliographer" in its Wednesday issue each week gives the news of the book collecting world; accounts of important book sales in America and England; records of prices; notes on old and rare books; hints for collectors and other matters of interest to this large and increasing class of readers.

The last Rare Book Section was the first ever issued by a daily newspaper, consisting of eight full pages devoted to matters of special interest to rare book dealers and collectors. The forthcoming Rare Book Section, through connections already established, will reach a large number of collectors other than those included in its regular circulation in all parts of the country. The dealer in rare books, prints and autographs will thus be brought in touch with many buyers who would not be reached otherwise.

Conditions in the American Rare Book Market are favorable to the formation of new private libraries and important collections. More people than ever are collecting rare books. Many of these who are now forming libraries in this country have no established connections with the rare book dealers and will welcome an acquaintance with them. Through the Rare Book Section these may be reached easily and in a manner to bring about cordial business relations.

Advertising should be in this office not later than February 14

BOOKS "AS INTERESTING AS A NOVEL"

The Old East Indian (UUR.C39 o), by E. K. Chatterton. History of the great ships which used to sail from England to India, of the East India Company, of the perils and adventures of the long voyage, life on shipboard, ships lost or burned at sea, and captured by pirates or hostile men-of-war.

Mars as the Abode of Life (LXS-1.95 m), by Percival Lowell. A book written to prove that the lines seen on the planet Mars are lines of vegetation following canals by which water is conducted from the polar snows; that the existence of these canals proves the existence of intelligent inhabitants upon Mars, a planet slowly dying for lack of water.

Memories (E-R247-R), by Lord Redesdale. Lord Redesdale, known for most of his life as Mr. Freeman-Mitford, was born early enough to have talked with persons who remembered the French Revolution, and remembered saying good-bye to their friends and relatives as they were carried off to the guillotine. His own memories cover England, Europe, America, and some parts of Asia, during the reign of Queen Victoria, and into the reign of King George. He was in the diplomatic service in Russia, and in the Far East. His experiences in China and Japan from 1865 onwards are especially interesting; he was in Japan when foreigners' lives were in danger, for four years he never wrote a note without having a revolver on the table, and he never went to bed without a rifle near at hand. Lord Redesdale knew rulers; statesmen, soldiers, and diplomats, and writes of them here. He is also author of the popular book, telling the legends of Japan of an earlier time, "Tales of Old Japan."

History of American Privateers (LLXN-M2), by E. S. Maclay. Stories of fights and ocean raids, of prison escapes and other adventures as thrilling as those which befell the navy, and not so well known.

Whale Hunting with Gun and Camera (VDBN-56), by Roy C. Andrews. How whales are hunted today; illustrated from photographs. The author went twice around the world, collecting whales for the American Museum of Natural History; twice to Alaska, and to the waters of Borneo and the Dutch East Indies.

Interpretations of Literature (ZY-H35), by Lafcadio Hearn. Literary criticism is often uninteresting and affected, because it is written with an eye to the approbation of the other critics, not to interest a reader in the books under discussion. This work is unusual, because Hearn, who was a true cosmopolitan and scholar, and a genuine artist, was addressing Japanese students in these lectures. He could not afford to be anything but simple and sincere. He was trying to make his students understand and love literature; not to turn clever sentences, nor pose as a profound thinker, nor as a coiner of startling epigrams. No better book about novelists, poets, and dramatists has appeared in our time.

Forty Years of "Spy" (E-W24-W), by Leslie Ward. To be caricatured in "Vanity Fair" (London) was a great distinction as to be made Knight of the Garter. Sir Leslie Ward for forty years drew caricatures and signed them "Spy." In this he describes notable men from Disraeli to Kitchener, their personalities and peculiarities, how great men sometimes avoided the artist, and how those who aspired to greatness tried to attract his attention.

The American Language (XC-M52), by H. L. Mencken. The author believes that the "American language" is different from the English language and to prove this writes a scholarly and also an amusing book. Many pages of interesting discussion of new words, slang, curious expressions, and examples of the difference between British and American speech.

Days of My Years (E-M231-M), by Sir Melville Macnaghten. By the late Chief of the Criminal Investigation Department, Scotland Yard. Includes: the strange story of Adolph Beck, fingerprints in general and the Deftford murder in particular, assassinations, bombs and their makers, motiveless murders, and unsolved mysteries.

BASSETT-MULHOLLAND
Miss Rebecca F. Mulholland, formerly of Concord, Mass., was married on Saturday afternoon to Mr. Joseph M. Bassett of Newton. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Laurens MacLure with Mr. C. R. Rice at the organ.

Miss Mulholland is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Mulholland of Kentucky, a surgeon in the Civil War with the Union Army.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. William Hall Mulholland of Winchester.

The gown which the bride wore was her mother's wedding gown of 1864, a gray moire antique trimmed with point lace, and she wore as her only ornament, her father's bridal gift to her mother, an ivory miniature of her father set in pearls.

The wedding was informal, no cards being issued. Mr. and Mrs. Bassett are to live in Brookline.

DEATH OF MISS BISHOP
Miss Jane Bishop who died last Saturday night in a sanitarium in Newton after an illness of about a year, was in her 87th year.

The family, consisting of herself and her brothers John and Thomas Bishop, were born and educated in Boston, but came to Auburndale 35 years ago, living on a beautiful estate on Woodland road. Thomas Bishop was for five years pastor of the Methodist Church. Both brothers died in Auburndale.

Miss Bishop, in her earlier years, was very active in all charitable work, and in church work, and a much respected and beloved member of the community.

Services were held on Tuesday at her late residence, the Rev. George S. Butters, pastor of the Methodist Church officiating, and the burial was in the family lot at Mt. Hope.

BOY SCOUTS

It is worth while to note that the Boy Scout Movement all over America is growing in power and numbers. Registrations and re-registrations during the month of December totaled over 133,000 scouts. Of this number approximately 50,000 were newly registered.

It is impossible to estimate the value of such a movement to the country at large. To have in one month 50,000 boys take upon themselves the Scout Oath, and make a promise to keep the Scout Law is filled with great import, not only to the welfare of the Communities in which these boys reside, but also to the nation as a whole. Existing for one purpose the betterment of BOYHOOD the Movement claims full recognition and support from the public.

In return for this work and in recognition of the Movement's importance to any and every community those interested in the Boy willingly give both of time and money. Why not invest a number of dollars in the boys of Newton?

The Scout Movement in Newton is growing rapidly. Practically all of the Troops are filled. New troops are in process of formation. Why not be a Scout and join that great Movement of Boys which will add manliness, and self-respect to every boy that enlists. Make application to the Scout Executive, 277 Washington Street, Newton, or to any Scoutmaster.

TROOP 7, BOY SCOUTS

Troop 7 of West Newton which meets at the Second Church is now the largest troop in the Norumbega Council, according to the monthly bulletin issued by the Scout Executive, William B. Sharatt.

At a recent meeting the entire troop committee were present during the scout meeting and afterwards expressed themselves as most wholeheartedly pleased with the work. The chairman of the committee, Alderman Stephen Whidden, congratulated the troop upon what it was doing for the City of Newton, by setting such high standards of boy citizenship.

Mr. Albert C. Blunt noted the collecting of the drilling of the troop under Assistant Scoutmaster C. M. Smith. Mr. Park, Mr. Hoyt, and Mr. Whelan, an invited representative of the Council, were most interested in the progress which many of the boys had made.

The assembling of the troop by the Senior Patrol Leader, Bill Phelps, in inspection by the entire troop committee, drilling under A. S. M. Smith, setting-up exercises by Scoutmaster Crowell, making fire without matches, sending and receiving messages by first-class and merit-badge scouts, were all of high calibre.

This troop now has over forty scouts, and about ten applicants, a troop committee of five, and three scoutmasters.

Last Friday, Assistant Scoutmaster Quincy W. Wales completed the training of six applicants, and A. S. M. Smith reported six tenderfeet who are to take their second-class tests before the Court of Honor tonight.

CO. H NOTES

Company H entered on a 24-hour tour of duty at the Newton Armory last Saturday afternoon giving the men a more intensive and far reaching instruction period than they could possibly obtain in the usual weekly drills.

Saturday afternoon was devoted to a hike and short maneuvers in which the men were instructed in the manner of protecting the main body on a march in hostile territory. The usual point, under a non-commissioned officer, preceded the advance guard and the rear guard followed at a respective distance in the rear. The men were fairly well versed in the theoretical work of this nature, but practical drill proved very instructive and the men showed keen enthusiasm in the outdoor work.

On Saturday night, the Company rifle team shot a match with the team from Waltham Post of the Legion and lost after putting up a stiff fight.

Sunday was given over to indoor drills, machine-gun and automatic-rifle drill, and several lectures on military topics, by high officers in the National Guard.

Several visitors watched the drills at various times, including Major Holiday of the Regular Army, Lieut. Col. Daniels of the 101st Infantry, and Major Henry D. Cormerais of the Q. M. Department, formerly commander of Company C, the old Newton National Guard unit.

The men slept in the Armory over night, and ate their meals in the Armory mess hall. The meals were prepared under the direction of the veteran mess sergeant, Frank Randall, who has been connected with the National Guard since 1900. The session closed at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

READ FUND LECTURE

A very large and interested audience greeted Mr. Loring Underwood at the Hunnewell Club on Monday evening. Mr. Underwood gave a most exhaustive description of the Arnold Arboretum, which contains the largest collection of trees and plants in the United States, illustrating his remarks by lantern slides in the colors of the originals.

Not only the well-known lilac and rhododendron beds were shown, but the less-known groups of forsythia, azaleas, etc., as well as the pine and hemlock groves. Plants and trees brought from far-away Japan and Korea, and famous Cedars of Lebanon were among those exhibited. Nor did the speaker confine himself to the summer, for the beauties of winter and late autumn were also included.

The lecturer proved himself an artist as well as a landscape architect, for his pictures were remarkable for their beauty of composition, as well as for their color. Many a view would grace any drawing room. Painters might well learn much from Mr. Underwood. The concluding picture represented the Arboretum as the cloud of "A Perfect Day," and closed for his hearers a very nearly perfect evening.

NEWTON Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The Y. M. C. A. Trio gave a musical entertainment at the Stone Institute, Newton Upper Falls. Moving pictures were also shown. Those making the trip were: L. C. Kepner, Donald Cunningham, Philip Horne, F. E. Doubleday, and H. W. Bascom.

The team representing Gilmore, Rothery & Co., who are at the head of the Insurance Basketball League are practicing Tuesday and Thursday evenings in the gymnasium.

Mr. Frederick M. Brooks gave an illustrated talk on Alaska at the Fellowship Club last Monday evening. It proved to be very interesting. Many of the slides were made from photographs taken by Mr. Brooks during his stay in Alaska.

More than 100 boys were present last Sunday afternoon to hear Rev. Charles W. Brashares speak on "The Dollar Family." Mr. W. R. Ferry presided. The Y. M. C. A. Orchestra led the singing which was unusually good.

The swimming pool has been entirely repainted, the tile work cleaned, light streaming through the skylight. Whether in the day time with the sun light streaming through the skylight reflected from the sparkling water, the swimming pool of the Newton Y. M. C. A. is most attractive in its new white coat of paint. Great credit is due Mr. Andrew Kasper and his helpers for the fine appearance of the pool.

BOYS' DEPARTMENT, Y. M. C. A.

On Tuesday afternoon over 40 boys from the Newton Y. M. C. A. in charge of Mr. B. F. Louden, Robin Helms, W. A. Lawrence, and "Doc" Doubleday, took a trip through the Charles-town Navy Yard. First they visited the Old United States Frigate Constitution (Old Ironsides). Every one of the 44 guns were thoroughly inspected and a number of old relics looked over.

From there they went aboard the U. S. S. Florida, one of the best of Uncle Sam's big battleships. After looking over her 12-inch guns and watching the Jackies storing powder and shells into her hold, they went to the chain-forging foundry. There we saw chains of all sizes and lengths, some of the single links being all one man could lift.

Just before starting for home we looked over the ocean liner, Mr. Vernon, from the wharf—not being allowed on board.

Altogether the trip was very much enjoyed and was of much educational value to the boys who made the trip.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

Hyde School

The children in Miss Sampson's room have formed a "Bird Friends" Junior Audubon Club. The object of this club is to get acquainted with the birds and their songs and to feed and protect them. The officers are: President, Jeanne Manning; Vice-President, Emmens Brown; Secretary, Barbara Nichols; Treasurer, Kenneth Cady.

We were glad to welcome back to our school last week Miss Edith R. Sanders, the assistant Nature Study supervisor, who has been away for several months on her winter vacation.

The January edition of the Hyde School Monthly is now completed and shows the splendid type of work that our eighth grades are capable of doing. The frontispiece drawn in colors, by Elizabeth Savage, pictures vividly the pleasant winter days we are now enjoying. The various literary contributions consist of stories, news items, bits of fun and theme work done by the class during the current month. The board of editors is as follows: Editor-in-chief, Marjorie Williams; Story Editor, Evelyn Hatch; Assistant, Mildred MacDonald; Assistant, Constance Ruby; School News Editor, Harold Carver; Assistant, Virginia Hutchins; Editor-in-Chief, Margaret Fairchild; Assistant, Helen Bicknell; Art Editor, Elizabeth Savage.

Our Thrift Stamp record for last week makes a splendid showing. Miss Marguerite Green's room, fourth grade, had $32.25; and Miss Tabor's room, sixth grade, came second with $22.50. The total amount purchased by the entire school was $85.25.

On Tuesday afternoon a number of the teachers and pupils attended the lecture on "House Gardening" given at the Technical High School by Dr. George M. Twitchell of Maine.

Richard Gibbs and Nancy Ryther, pupils in Miss Marguerite Greene's room, entertained their class recently with several cello selections.

Monday the seventh was observed as Parents' Day at the Hyde School. The principal and teachers realizing the need of closer cooperation between home and the school, invited the parents to visit the school, to observe the regular class room work in the upper grades and to discuss the problems of the individual pupil. The cordial response of the parents was most gratifying. About one hundred fifty were present. A similar day will be observed in the lower grades in the near future.

Stearns School

The annual meeting of the Newton Girls' Club was held on Tuesday evening, Feb. 8, at the Stearns School. Reports of the treasurer, secretary and the program committee were given, and election of officers for 1921 followed. The new officers elected were: President, Anna Morrison; Vice President, Mary Delaney; Treasurer, Teresa Constanza; Corresponding Secretary, Ruth Stubbart; Recording Secretary, May Fisher.

The February program includes gymnastics, millinery and social times in club nights.

Mrs. W. Hermon Allen was in charge of the program for the Mothers' Club which held its bi-monthly meeting Monday evening, Feb. 7, at Stearns School. Vocal selections were rendered by Miss Lete and Mrs. Wallace Wales, and stories were told by Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden. Music for games and singing followed. Mrs. Allen was assisted by Mrs. Wm. E. Jones and Miss Mann.

Miss Ethel Stearns, building assistant, who has been ill for the past six weeks, has returned to her duties.

The second debate of the year by the members of the eighth grade was held Friday morning. The subject: "Resolved that immigration to the United States should be prohibited for a period of five years." The negative side was represented by Theresa Conner, assisted by Cecile M. Chapman, Catherine Doucet, Emile Caron, Samuel Shriber; the affirmative side by Lewis Swartz, leader, assisted by John Moran, Gladys Mahoney, Esther Negrotti, Jacob Pass. The judges were Miss Edgington, Miss Stoddard and Miss Schleuter. The announcement awarding the decision to the negative side met with the popular approval of the other members of the class.

Roger Wolcott School

Miss Genevieve Doran, a sister of Miss Susan Doran of the Peirce School faculty, has been appointed by the school committee to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Josephine Emerson from the seventh grade. Miss Emerson has accepted a position of responsibility and professional merit at the Massachusetts State Normal Training School at Salem. Miss Doran has been heartily received by teachers and pupils and already has established many friendships in the school.

Miss Gladys R. Brown was elected as teacher of the combination fifth and sixth grades. Mrs. Evans who was forced to resign because of illness in her family will soon return to her home in England. Miss Brown comes to the Wabash School from Gardner where she has had several years of very successful upper-grade teaching.

The Wolcott Live Wire, a new publication, edited in long and picture hand by the eighth-grade English class, under the direction of Miss Doran, will soon be ready for distribution. The editors-in-chief are Malcolm Hill and Rosemary Wyman. The art editor, Leslie St. Lawrence, possesses an enviable talent in his production of fitting and humorous illustrations.

Henry Johnson, acting president of the Class of 1921, held a class meeting this week. The Treasurer, Josiah Chandler reported that all the money for the class pins had been received and sent to the manufacturers. A committee of three was chosen to represent the class at the lecture by Dr. Twitchell on "Gardening."

The new school is nearing completion, but the date of dedication and entrance still seems remote. The upper grades were taken by Mr. Crowell through the entire building.

Mason School

The Mason hockey team was defeated 5-0 by the Horace Mann team last Tuesday. This was the last of the Mason's games in the playground league and it leaves them in second place.

If the ice remains satisfactory the team will continue to play independent games and its next one will be with the Hyde school.

Because the hall is being redecorated, the Eighth grade class meeting planned for this Friday will be postponed a week. The principal feature of this meeting will be a little Lincoln play given by ten of the class.

Last Saturday afternoon in the Mason, room ten, a most interesting lecture on insects (with blackboard drawing), was given by Miss Tucker.

Room 16, grade six, has a simple model of the Panama Canal, showing its different parts.

The best records in savings have been in grades three and six, the former having $29.67 and the latter $47.37. The Mason Hall is receiving a new coat of paint on woodwork and ceiling. It is the first time it has been renovated during its sixteen years of service.

Miss McDougal is teaching in the room of Miss Hale, who is ill and has gone away to rest.

Bigelow School

Last Tuesday afternoon two delegates were sent from each class above the fifth to listen to Dr. G. M. Twitchell's lecture on "Intensive Farming." The reports which they brought back to their respective classes were very interesting.

Miss Lowe's class has the highest attendance record for the past four weeks. Their average was 96.5%. Miss Dyer's class came second with an average of 96.1%.

Chaffin School

The Eighth Grade pupils hope to have their magazine out by the last of February. The aim of the work is to have every pupil in the class represented in the magazine, by a piece of original work of some sort.

In the last Four Weeks' Report we notice that Grade VI Room has the honor of being the only room without a tardy mark, while Grade VIII has the highest percent of attendance 97.9%.

Miss Marjorie L. Ripley, teacher of Grade II, Room 10, has been quite ill with an attack of tonsillitis.

Fortunate indeed did the boys and girls consider themselves, who were sent as delegates to the lecture given by Dr. Twitchell in the Technical High School Hall on Tuesday afternoon.

At the last Hall exercises on Tuesday morning, the highest honors were awarded to Gwendy Quimby, Grade VII, and Suzanne Slocum, Grade IV.

Lasell

Yesterday a jolly crowd of Lasell girls, more than 75, left for their annual excursion to the White Mountains. The party, which is under the management of Mr. Seth C. Bassett, is chaperoned by Miss Nellie Woodward, head of the gymnasium department, and Miss Seeley, the nurse.

They are staying at the Bellevue at Tutewate, N. H., where they arrived in time for dinner. Today will be devoted to all kinds of outdoor sports and snowshoeing, skiing, tobogganing and a bacon bat will be in order. Sunday will also be spent in the open air in the evening there will be a sacred concert. Very early Monday morning they leave for the return, arriving in Boston at noon.

This week-end the school is also depleted by a number of girls attending the Dartmouth Carnival.

The Lasell reunion is to take place at the Seminary on Monday. Not only the later classes are to be represented, but some graduates as far back as the '70's have accepted acceptance. The reception is at 12.30 and luncheon at 1.30.

The regular vespers on Sunday will be omitted and the girls will attend the Methodist Church in the evening, when Dr. Butters will preach and three young men from Boston University will assist in the services.

CHANNING ALLIANCE

Under the topic "Browning's View of Life," Rev. Harry Lutz gave a most careful and sympathetic presentation of the poet at the meeting of Channing Alliance on Tuesday afternoon. There is never any uncertainty or gloom about Browning, he said. Through all his work there runs a certain optimism, a certain faith. Shakespeare holds the mirror to nature and makes us see. Browning's genius is that which makes us know. He makes us see not only with the eye, but with the soul. His poetry is filled with amazing knowledge, a robust faith; he has the prophet's certainty of transcendent truth, and pierces into the heart of religious mystery as no other man of his time. He is the champion of the soul side of existence. His conception of life demands a future. With him progress is the law of life. Man cannot be man if he have regard merely for his own safety. If he acquiesce in a low-pitched life. But to him no life is utterly hopeless.

Mr. Lutz's talk was supplemented with readings from some of Browning's shorter poems. The Alliance choir rendered one selection and two groups of songs by Miss Houston from the West Newton Music School were very much enjoyed. Tea was served at the close with Mrs. A. J. O'Connor and Mrs. G. W. Zedren presiding over the tea table.

MUSICAL VESPERS

A series of six musical vesper services will be held in the Church of the New Jerusalem, Highland avenue, Newtonville, beginning Sunday, Feb. 13, at 5 o'clock. Rev. E. M. L. Gould will be the speaker at the first service and Rev. William Wunsch will be the speaker on the following Sunday. The public is cordially invited.

THE CHURCH AND COMMUNITY

Miss Sturgis then told of the work among special children at the Barnard School in West Newton. In this school pupils are separated into three classes: the feeble minded, the border-line cases, and the sub-normal cases. The work is varied, each doing that for which he is best fitted. Of those who have been at the school 35 per cent are now in the community again, and 15 per cent have been returned to the schools.

Following Miss Sturgis, Miss Perry told of the Home Nursing work in the schools. During the past two years, such workers in Home Hygiene and in Personal Hygiene have been started. These have proved of great value in connection with the homes. Fifteen are now taking the course offered in the High School. In the Vocational High School there are also classes in First Aid which are very greatly interesting the boys. There is a very great need for a room in each of the Newtons in which such work can be demonstrated. It is hoped that through some such means as this, every one in Newton who is interested may have an opportunity of taking such courses.

During a brief intermission Miss Dorothy Greeley, formerly of the Music School, rendered several vocal selections. Continuing the work along community lines, Miss Schleuter, the social worker in the Stearns School, told of the work there among the three nationalities represented: Italian, French and Irish. She called special attention to the work of the baby clinics, and the nutrition classes showing how the latter have through their charts very greatly improved the condition of the under nourished.

Mrs. Hull of the Newton Welfare Bureau concluded the survey of the community work in Newton. She spoke of the Bureau as a community agency to which come all the problems of the family. During January 277 families have been helped by this agency working with the Home Service Department of the Red Cross, and with the City Charity Department. Help has been given regardless of race, creed, or color. She suggested a store salvage department—a sort of perpetual rummage sale—which, she said, might be of service by giving employment to many women and by giving an opportunity to many to buy articles at a low price.

Mr. Lichter was then called upon to show how the church is related to this splendid work being done in our community. "I consider it," he said, "the work of the church to educate the community as to the needs of community life, and to teach its members the finest expression of religion is to do work of this kind." According to him, we go to church for inspiration that we "may help to bring the kingdom of heaven on the earth." He said that he considered work in the community of equal value, spiritually, to work done within the church.

At the conclusion of this most inspiring and helpful program which was eagerly listened to by a group of serious patriotic men and women, Miss Abbie Miller, President of the Association invited all present to adjourn to the supper room and enjoy refreshments and a social hour. Mrs. Brewer Eddy and Mrs. M. H. Lichter presided at the tea table.

DIES FROM SHOCK

Mr. William Trask of Waltham, father of two children, died at the Newton Hospital Wednesday morning of cerebral hemorrhage following a shock with which he was stricken while performing his duty as operator of a one-man car running between Lake street and Norumbega Park at 3.30 Tuesday afternoon.

According to the Newton police, Trask's car had reached Lake street and he was in the act of changing the trolley, when he was seen to fall to the roadside. Bystanders rushed to his assistance and the Newton police ambulance was summoned from West Newton. The ambulance made a fast run to the scene, and carried the man at a high rate of speed to the Newton Hospital in a vain endeavor to reach there in time to save the stricken man's life.

The examination at the hospital showed that Trask was suffering from a shock and that the right side of his body was paralyzed. The hemorrhage set in and caused his end early Wednesday morning.

Mr. Trask was one of the oldest employees of the Middlesex and Boston line, having entered its service on August 18, 1892.

The new Lighting Fixtures in Italian, Rusty Iron and Polychrome, and Colonial styles as shown by Messrs. McKenney & Waterbury Co., 181 Franklin Street, corner Congress, Boston, Mass., are really works of art. All interested in Lighting Fixtures for their homes are invited to this exhibition.

Mr. Lutz's talk was supplemented with readings from some of Browning's shorter poems. The Alliance choir rendered one selection and two groups of songs by Miss Houston from the West Newton Music School were very much enjoyed. Tea was served at the close with Mrs. A. J. O'Connor and Mrs. G. W. Zedren presiding over the tea table.

A very successful supper and dance was held by Sarah Hill Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution at Temple hall, Newtonville, Saturday evening, Feb. 5th. Mrs. Edwin P. Leonard, the Regent, and also chairman of the supper committee, served a bountiful supper at 6.30 to which 100 members and their friends sat down.

The hall was decorated with American flags and the chapter colors of buff and blue.

At one end a place was made very attractive with rugs and lamp for the receiving party which consisted of Mrs. Leonard and several of the patronesses. Loew's orchestra provided the music and Mrs. Everett Crawford as chairman of the dance committee, made the occasion enjoyable with the novel features she introduced.

About 50 couples were present to enjoy the dancing and it was pronounced the most social affair ever given by the Chapter.

The next meeting of the Chapter will be on Monday, February 14, at the Newton Club when Rev. Thomas Van Ness will speak on "My Interview with Linn Yet Len, the Washington of China."

EDITORIAL

Without having much data on the subject, it would seem that the question of the school committee in establishing continuation schools without a specific appropriation therefor by the aldermen was in poor taste at least, to say nothing of the wisdom of such a step. While it is true that the people of Newton have voted favorably on this matter, the act which was accepted was merely permissive so far as Newton was concerned and not mandatory.

Alderman Young is on the right track in asking the aldermen to enter a vigorous protest against the continuance of the line of billboards abutting upon Commonwealth Avenue. There should be no question about taking this stand and it should be pushed by every improvement society and community club in the city.

SATISFIED WITH SUN DIALS

Men of a Few Generations Ago Did Not Demand Exactitude in the Matter of Time.

John C. Tomlinson of New York has made a specialty of sun dials, and a writer in the New York Post says in an interview with him:

"People used to be less particular about time, of course, than we have grown to be, with our famous exactitude. The old English stage coach left 'at four,' but that meant 'at about four.' Only noon could be depended upon—and that when the sun chose to shine. Clocks did not come into use in Europe until the Thirteenth century. Portable clocks were not invented until toward the end of the Fifteenth, but sun dials were very commonly worn—not set up in gardens merely, as we are accustomed to seeing them now. They were used quite generally in this country until the early part of the Nineteenth century, and even today, where conditions are primitive, they are the reliance of guides and huntsmen. Occasionally they become the timepieces of the British army in uninhabited regions.

"Washington was in the habit of carrying a sun dial, although he possessed many watches. The escutcheon of the United States is copied from an escutcheon upon a sun dial in England belonging to one of Washington's ancestors. Thomas Jefferson was a proficient dialist, and Mr. Tomlinson has two dials made by him; one in 1807, when he was President.

"Clocks were not only long unpopular, but were denounced by the clergy because they are not mentioned in Scripture."

ONE CAN'T BE TOO CAREFUL

His Friend's Deafness Came Very Near Getting Innocent Man Into Quite Serious Trouble.

Capt. Sutton Rutherford, the new polo star, said at Chevy Chase last month:

"I wonder what the maximum price of whisky will be under prohibition? It soars and soars and, really, to be offered a drink today is a high compliment."

Captain Rutherford smiled.

"The question of treating," he continued, "has a humorous side, too.

"A friend of mine whispered anxiously to me the other day at a club:

"There goes Rogers! I try to avoid him nowadays, for he is becoming deafener than ever, and it is dangerous to accost him. Recently I hailed him with:

"Fine day, Rogers," and he smiled and answered:

"Will I licker? Sure, Mike! Lead me to it!"

"And blast if a passing prohibition-enforcement officer didn't arrest us both on suspicion."

Let Doctor Name the Baby.

Perhaps more often than one realizes the family doctor has a deciding influence in the naming of the baby. Many instances might be related by observant nurses, but this one may suffice:

The doctor breezed into the room on the morning after, and on the spur of the moment asked cheerily: "Well, how is Elizabeth Ann finding herself?"

"Elizabeth Ann is quite well and apparently contented," answered the nurse. And Elizabeth Ann, as an off-hand appellation, so pleased the father and mother that Elizabeth Ann she will remain to the end of her days.

There is a Thomas James on Long Island and an Alfred Henry in Mount Vernon who received their names in that way.—New York Sun.

How People Die in India.

A return of the number of inquests held by the coroner of Bombay during 1919 gives us some very interesting particulars. Among the "suicide" we find that six cut their throats, 28 drowned themselves, four hanged themselves, 15 jumped out of windows, 20 took opium, arsenic or some other poison, four shot themselves and eight burned themselves. Drowning, therefore, took pride of place last year, whereas self-poisoning was the favorite method of quitting life in 1918, there being 21 cases reported.

Other suicidal practices mentioned in the report are stabbing and the act of knocking one's head against a wall. No one has favored either of these methods during the past two years, however.

Machine Softens Leather.

Working leather by the various processes known as graining, boarding and staking, ordinarily a laborious manual operation, is now accomplished by mechanical means with a machine designed by a Massachusetts inventor.

Two broad belts, running on rollers, are so mounted that faces traveling in opposite directions are arranged one above the other, a short distance apart. The hide to be softened is laid on a metal plate and inserted between the belt faces, the upper belt then being pressed down by a lever.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

New Glove-Cleaning Device.

A Massachusetts inventor has devised a glove-cleaning machine which is somewhat like an ice cream freezer. The soiled gloves are dropped into gasoline or other cleaning fluid and whirled around by a perforated blade through which the liquid is forced. After the handle has been turned about three minutes the gloves may be taken out spotless.

Classical High School

There was an interesting event Wednesday morning in the assembly hall, when Mrs. Edmund I. Leeds, for the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, presented the prizes awarded for the best essays written on the Pilgrims. The judges, Prof. Harry B. Centre, of Boston University, Mr. Percy M. Proctor of the Country Day School and Mrs. F. E. Banfield, Jr., president of the Newton Centre Woman's Club. In making their award the judges commented upon the excellence of the fifty essays submitted to them and recommended honorable mention to ten pupils in each of the two groups considered.

First prize of $5 in the senior-junior group was awarded to Hazel Arline Bell of the junior class, with honorable mention for Bessie Noble, Lorraine Crosby, Roger Cummings, Muriel Howland, Donald Leonard, Jeanette Eaton, Elizabeth Bennett, Margaret Walker, Gladys Lawrence, and Hester Leitner. The first prize of $3 in the sophomore freshman group went to Mary Clark of the sophomore with honorable mention to Elizabeth Marcy, Grace Lee, Margery Frazer, Caroline Cummings, Muriel Shannon, Phyllis Baker, Eleanor Berry, Mary Lichtner, Rosemary Park and Wallace H. Nichols.

Next month the Federation will offer a similar prize for essays from the senior-junior classes of the Technical High School. After the prizes had been awarded Mrs. Varney introduced Miss Nedelka Simeonova, an accomplished violinist, who entertained the students with two very interesting selections. Miss Simeonova is a native of Sophia, Bulgaria, and came to America when she was eleven years old. Many of her friends, interested in promoting her musical education, had her play for Mr. Fritz Kriesler. Mr. Kriesler prophesied a brilliant future for her and urged her to go to Europe for study. With the aid of her friends, Miss Simeonova studied in Europe six years under Leopold Auer. During the past four years she has won renown playing as soloist with many of the leading European orchestras. Now in America, she is planning her tour for the coming season.

Next Sunday afternoon, Feb. 13, at three o'clock in the assembly hall of the classical high school, the dedication of the tablet containing the names of the students who took part in the recent war will be held. The public is invited to attend the services.

As a result of the concert and dance held by the Boys' Debating Club, Mr. Lane announced that $240 has been added to the club's treasury.

A senior class dance is to be held in the gym on Friday afternoon, Feb. 11. On the evening of the same day the alumni track team and the school track team are to hold their annual meet. Following this meet there will be dancing until 12.

The February "Reviews" have arrived and will be distributed on Friday.

Last Friday the second quarter of the school year came to an end. On Tuesday the quarterly report cards were distributed.

This Saturday night in Temple Hall Newtonville, a "Victory" Dance will be held. Mayor Childs will present gold football trophies to the members of last year's team. The gold footballs were purchased with the money contributed by citizens of Newtonville.

Those nominated for the office of editor-in-chief of the "Newtonian" were Donald Fleming, Donald Leonard, Frederick McGill, David Hull, and George Graham; for business manager, Ezra Stevens, Walter Tower, John Norton, and Henry Plimpton. No candidate for either office received a majority in the first ballot, so a second ballot was taken. As a result of this ballot, George Graham was elected editor, and John Norton, manager. Norton has chosen the following business managers: Donald Fleming, Edward Desmond, and Edward Booth. With the aid of Mr. Underwood, Graham has selected the following staff: Literary Editors, Catherine Jones, Priscilla Aurelio, Roger Cummings; Athletic Editors, Marion Juthe, Albert Sheldon; Art Editors, Hughes Wagner, Frederick McGill; Photograph Editors, Constance Parker, Frederick Blodgett; Special Features, Marjorie Graves, Emily Kent, John Christie, G. Diluzio; Organizations, Helen Booth.

Vocational School Notes

At the last two Monday Assemblies Principal M. W. Murray has presented a summary of the work of the different departments and of the possibilities open to boys trained in them.

Mr. Murray gave many illustrations of boys and girls who have gone out from the school into positions of responsibility and usefulness.

He spoke of the Household Arts Department as training for homemaking, preparing for normal school, and as giving a girl a good academic training. It is, in fact, a thorough fitting school for girls who will carry out the theories and practices of the school in their homes.

In speaking of the boys' work he pointed out the possibilities in the departments of printing, cabinet making, machine work, automobile work, electrical work, and in the agricultural department. He spoke also of the possibilities of salesmanship in these lines of work and of the necessity of the salesman's knowing his goods, as they would be known by a man who has studied in any one of these departments.

Mr. Murray's addresses are of such importance in presenting clearly the work of the school year that they will be published soon as a special pamphlet.

On Wednesday, Feb. 2nd, the President of Colgate University addressed the boys on the subject, "What Newton Expects from Its High School Graduates." All who had the pleasure of listening to this talk pronounced it one of the finest addresses of the year.

At present in addition to the regular Newton students there are pupils from ten different towns and cities enrolled in the school, also a class of Federal Board men, a continuation school for boys thrown out of employment, a number of Extension Classes for women and a class for the

Newton Community Club

Presidents' Day of the Newton Community Club yesterday afternoon found the hall of the Hunnewell Club House taxed to the limit of capacity with members and guests from other clubs to enjoy the musical program arranged by the Music Committee, Mrs. Arthur S. Flinn, chairman. After the necessary preliminaries Mrs. Franklin E. Smith, the president, introduced the first guest of honor, Mrs. George Mino; Baker, president of the State Federation. Mrs. Baker made a graceful speech in which she referred to the splendid spirit which had existed at the meeting of the Federation the day before and the signs of growth and breadth of mind exhibited by the women. The club was indeed fortunate in having as the other guest of honor, Judge Jean H. Norris of New York, who had been the chief speaker at the Federation meeting. Judge Norris outlined briefly the work of the two courts over which she presides the Woman's Court and the Court of Domestic Relations, about which she had spoken before the Federation.

The rest of the afternoon was spent in listening to the beautiful music rendered by the string quartet of Symphonic players, Frederick L. Mahn, first violin, Fernand Thillois, second violin, Harry Grover, viola, Carl Stockbridge, cello. The program included two movements from Quartette No. 1, G. Major, Haydn; two movements from Quartette No. 7, in D. Op. 192, Joachim Raff; Andante cantabile, Tschaiowsky; Minuet, Bolzoni; Hora Mystica, Sinigaglia; Chanson de la Grand Maman, Piere. This varied and finished program was enthusiastically received by the large audience and in acknowledgment the quartet graciously added an extra number.

At the close the guests adjourned to the dining room below where delicious refreshments were served under the direction of the Social Committee, Mrs. Ralph W. Angier, acting as chairman for the afternoon. The president and the guests of honor were in the receiving line while Mrs. Sidney Peterson, Mrs. Clarence Allen, Mrs. Philip S. Jamieson and Miss Helen A. Woodman poured. Careful attention to details, a spirit of friendliness together with the satisfying entertainment made the club's first Presidents' Day an unbounded success.

The club chorus needs a few more soprano voices to properly balance the parts. Are there not some more singers who can share in the club work by joining the chorus? The rehearsals are held on Monday afternoons at the Y. M. C. A. Consult with Mrs. Arthur S. Flinn about joining.

The Home Economics department has arranged for series of Round Table conferences. The first will be held at the Hunnewell Club library on Monday, February 14, at 10.30 A. M. Miss Blanche L. These conferences are open to all members of the club.

To Restore Faded Ink.

When the ink of old documents has faded and it is desired to restore it, this can be done by washing with any of the substances that blacken on mixing with iron—infusion of iron-galls, sodium-sulphate or acetic ferro-cyanide of potassium, for instance.

DURABILITY

The first question invariably asked by the prospective purchaser of roofing is, "How long will it wear?"

Many roofs of prepared roofing laid over twenty years ago are still in service, withstanding the destructive attacks of the elements, and continue to retain their waterproofing properties.

"Actions speak louder than words." The service which these roofs have rendered in the past is the best evidence of their ability to wear.

For real roof value, buy SAL-MO PRODUCTS.

OUR YOUNG PEOPLE

wards during them. In regard to "vamping" we older people should be careful to distinguish between decent and indecent "vamping." "Vamping" of some kind was probably used by our grandmothers, and is as old as sex itself. "If boys are being 'vamped' in any harmful way, it is because they have time to spare, and it is for the parent to see that this time is otherwise occupied." It is well for parents to be familiar with the life of youth and to know the seasons of games, etc., that they may be able to "call the bluff" if excuses are being made.

Lastly, some of the difficulties lie with the elders. "Youth speaks a language all its own, and if we would influence youth, we must be familiar with this code, and must sympathize with it. If youth boasts of its prowess, it is frequently for our benefit. Listen and smile, but do not take all that is said seriously, remember that the way of youth is to cover its real feeling with a smile, when, sometimes, tears are near the surface."

In conclusion, Miss McGill suggested that parents talk more frankly before their children of the serious problems of life, such, for example as the family budget.

The Playground Dept. reports that the residents of Newton have had an unusual opportunity this winter to enjoy skating.
The Department has had something like 12 acres of skating surface, part of which has been available at all times during the month of January. Indeed, there were only 3½ days of that month when there was no skating whatever in the city.
Bullough's Pond has furnished most of the sport but there have also been skating surfaces maintained at Cabot park, Boyd park, Stearns playground, West Newton Common, Crystal Lake and the Burr playground. The children at the Burr playground, thru the continued generosity of Mr. Burr have also enjoyed a snow slide this winter.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Increasing interest in Federation affairs, particularly the important mid-winter meeting when legislative measures are discussed, is offering a more and more difficult problem to hostesses and to Federation officers responsible for the arrangements. It does, however, appear on the face of it, inexcusable that such inadequate provision was made for the delegates to go to Melrose on Wednesday. That aisles were packed and women rode upon the platform of the cars showed that someone blundered and blundered horribly. An official train was announced, yet only 100 passengers were guaranteed the railroad and they consequently provided just sufficient seating space for that number. Hence the result. It would seem as if some place in Boston would eventually have to be provided by the Federation itself for this mid-winter meeting with a seating capacity of at least 2,000, for it is detrimental to the good name of the Federation that women should have to stand for any considerable length of time as they did on Wednesday. It is not the fault of the hostess club, but of the Federation board that such things happen. And with the most careful planning, things often "go awry." Everyone accepted the situation in the best of good humor, which speaks volumes for the attitude of the women.

"College Women in the Modern World" will be the subject of President Woolley's address at the next meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club. Miss Woolley's charming personality will always assure her a welcome, but a two years' welcome awaits her in Auburndale, since the Mount Holyoke fire prevented her coming to the club last year. She speaks as an expert in the educational field, and her message will be especially welcomed by the Education committee, whose efforts in behalf of the Scholarship fund need the understanding endorsement of the community, as well as its financial support. This fund is applied each year to her expenses while a college freshman of some Auburndale girl. The winning candidate is selected by the Principal of the Newton High School, character as well as academic record being taken into account. There will be songs by the Club's own trio, Mrs. Edwin J. Local Happenings

Members of the Newton Mothers' Club and their guests, including many from out of town, filled more than fifty tables for the club's annual luncheon, which was held at the Neighborhood Club of West Newton, on Monday afternoon. A delicious buffet luncheon was prepared and served under the direction of Mrs. Andrew Woods and an efficient committee. Cards were enjoyed during the afternoon. The proceeds will be used for the regular philanthropies, in which the club is interested.

On Monday evening, A. J. Philpott gave an interesting lecture before the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club in which he related his experience in search of a young man who had been reported as dead, but whom a medium claimed was somewhere in Mexico. Mr. Philpott undertook the search in an attempt to show that there was nothing in the medium's claim and proved to his own satisfaction that he had been right in his assumptions.

The Auburndale Review Club met with Mrs. P. M. Wood on Tuesday morning. Mrs. Henry R. Turner discussed Modern Novels and Mrs. Edward J. Frost read Howell's "Elevator." Mrs. Ernest F. Drew gave an interesting talk upon the Movies. Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Leland played a piano duet.

At the meeting of the Social Science Club, the members listened with great interest to a paper by Mrs. Warren K. Lewis on "The American Negro Problem."

Mrs. Lewis contrasted the attitude of the North and South towards the negro—in the North he may vote but it is extremely difficult for him to make a living; in the South he cannot vote, but there is plenty of work. She touched on the political conditions in the South during the days of reconstruction after the Civil War, which resulted, when the whites again resumed control, in the elimination of the negro from politics and in making the 15th amendment a dead letter. Even now the negroes are not allowed to vote in sufficient numbers to influence legislation, and the great majority are not really fit to exercise the suffrage. But by consolidating the white vote of the South, the negro has had an indirect influence.

With regard to education, there are not enough primary rural schools nor teachers, and the school year is only from three to five months in length. In the cities the facilities are better, though the schools are much too crowded.

Many states are giving attention to normal and summer schools to train colored teachers. Texas has done more for high school education than any other state. In the South there are more than one hundred schools supported, not by the state, but by tuition fees from the pupils and by philanthropic people in the North, such as Hampton Institute, founded by General Armstrong, and Tuskegee, which Booker Washington made such a power for good. Both these schools train their students to go out and teach their own people, and give much attention to industrial education.

Dr. Dubois, editor of "The Crisis," a magazine with a circulation of 100,000, is in violent opposition to the ideas of Booker Washington—he urges the colored people to fight for their rights, and not consent to be merely "hewers of wood and drawers of water" to the whites.

Mrs. Lewis spoke of the evil of lynching with its demoralizing results, and said that swifter and sterner justice by the courts would tend to decrease it. There is now an Anti-Lynching Bill before Congress, the first serious attempt to stop lynching by the Federal Government. One hopeful fact is that in 1920 there were 22 fewer lynchings than in 1919.

In Boston, in the South end there is a district in which live 29,000 negroes. In May, 1919, the Boston Urban League was started—an effort to eliminate any trouble between the races. The committees are composed of members of both. The motto is "No alms, but opportunity."

Mrs. Lewis spoke of the Robert Gould house and the Harriet Tubman House—a home for colored working girls. The Woman's Era Club is a large club of colored women in Boston, and the National Federation of Colored Women's Clubs has done splendid work.

In 1916 and 1917 many thousands of negroes migrated from the South to the North, causing alarm in both sections. The occasion was the cessation of immigration due to the war which created a labor shortage in the North, and the Northern Negro press emphasized the opportunities, while labor agents also encouraged the movement. As the surplus labor has been drawn from the South, those reasons behind the migration are shown a consideration never before experienced by them.

There is no single panacea for solving the negro problem—the only solution is in the cooperation between the local leaders of the two races. Mrs. Lewis spoke of the Southern Sociological Congress, and the Christian Leaders' Conference for Inter-racial Cooperation which has organized branches in every Southern state. She closed with a characteristic poem by Paul Laurence Dunbar. There were many questions and comments.

State Federation

Tense feeling, lively discussion, with more or less sparring between proponents and opponents of various legislative measures, characterized the morning session of the Mid-winter meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs held in the Melrose Highlands Congregational Church by invitation of the Woman's Club of that section of the city on Wednesday, February 9.

Shortly after the appointed hour, the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. George Minot Baker. The president of the hostess club, Mrs. Willis M. Townsend, presented Hon. A. L. Goodwin, Mayor of Melrose, who extended the official welcome, in which he boasted his city as being "100 per cent American" and voiced the opinion that no time has it been so essential that there should be right thinking as today. Mrs. Townsend for her club extended a graceful greeting. Mrs. Baker in her response referred to the added importance to the meeting in the new power that the ballot has given women. She urged moderation and that there be no bitterness in the discussion of the measures, some of them controversial, which were to be presented.

After the usual announcements the meeting was turned over to the chairman of the Legislative department, Mrs. Charles Leslie May, chairman, and the convention immediately got down to business. The Maternity Benefit bill was first considered. Dr. Merrill E. Champion, of the State Board of Health, spoke on its behalf, giving the results of the study by the commission appointed to investigate the matter. He stated that this commission found a deplorably large maternal mortality and an equally large infant mortality. A vast majority of those who had died, had died from lack of knowledge of hygiene. Thirty-nine per cent of the infants under one month might have been saved, while thirty-eight per cent of those over one month might also have been saved by preventive measures. Dr. Champion stated that the measure meant expenditure, but he agreed that in view of results it would be justifiable. When retrenching one's expenses at home, we do not begin by cutting down the food of the mother and children. Mr. Abbott Rice spoke in opposition, asserting that it is not any function of the State to give this free, his only argument against it, being the money cost. He urged that the matter wait until Federal action has been taken.

Upon being put to vote the measure was endorsed almost unanimously. The State control of penal institutions, the next matter considered, came in for a lively sparring match between Sanford Bates, director of prisons, and Sheriff John A. Keliher, of Suffolk county. Mr. Bates speaking in favor made two strong arguments, first, the financial one. The county institutions cost last year $819,577 per prisoner, while the State prisons were as low as $396.98 per capita. Second, it would bring about an efficient system of classification. Sheriff Keliher in opposition said Massachusetts has always put humanity before economy. He stated that some of the figures were misleading and urged his audience to make their own figures. The delegates were not misled by certain spread eagle oratory and voted well-nigh unanimously in favor of endorsing the measure, there being but a few straggling "no's."

Mrs. May urged the delegates to work for the physical training bill, which had been endorsed last year, and therefore, did not need to come up again for record. The convention went on to discuss the favoring the Prohibition code. The greatest amount of discussion from the floor came on the moving picture censorship bill. Mrs. Hilda Hedstrom Quirk spoke in favor and Miss Mary Wood of New York, a former chairman of Legislation of the General Federation, in opposition. Mrs. Quirk cited the large number of organizations who have gone on record as favoring censorship. She stated that there is not an adequate censorship at present, that all the power to control the shows is derived from a law passed in 1896, before movies of today had come into existence. She stated that throughout the American film are prohibited in some countries and regarded as notoriously bad. Her statement showed conclusively that something needs to be done to change the existing conditions.

Miss Wood speaking against censorship, suggested that we cannot cure ills by making laws. There has been a tradition of freedom in this country which should not be changed. Better be slow to enact laws than be sorry. It is easier to pass than to repeal them. She said there should be more women exhibitors and urged the audience not to turn over to legislation work which they should do themselves. Do not place the burden of free people, which will be hard to lift off later. In the course of the discussion the suggestion was made that books be censored, that many are withdrawn from the publishers, that milk and food are inspected and must be up to a certain standard and that this matter of censorship is skin. While feeling ran pretty high at moments the discussion was at all times dignified and stimulating. A rising counted vote was called for, with the result that the bill was endorsed 357 to 68.

Luncheon was served by the women of the church to 650, while many more were cared for in other places. The total attendance must have reached between 1100 and 1200, for there were women standing during most of the day, every available seat being occupied.

At the afternoon session organ music and a group of delightful songs by Miss Gertrude Tinsley added charm to the program, but the real treat was the address by Judge Jean H. Norris of New York City. Judge Norris sits in the woman's court and in the court of domestic relations, and her stories of cases which have come before her were full of interest. Her hearers were impressed not only with the subject matter of her address, much of which was new to them, but with the personality and presence of the woman herself, her dignity, her womanliness and above all her humanity. The aim of the court is to keep women out of court as much as possible. No one is present while a case is being tried, except those necessary to the case in hand. The court aims to bring about reconciliation among the families and the judge is sometimes able to accomplish this by "playing up" the children. The women are often to blame themselves and it is the work of the judge, the probation officers and the "big sisters" to rehabilitate the home. The alimony bureau receives the money paid by the husband for support of his family and in turn pays it over to the wife. In this way everything is checked up and there can be no false claims made upon either side. The speaker stated that 11,000 families have been helped and that $1,500,000 have passed through the bureau, in the ten years of its existence.

To the woman's court are brought girls over 16 years charged with incorrigibility. Agents of the courts are on the street watching these girls, but one is never arrested until she has spoken to three men. Every first offender is given another chance. It is always the aim to reunite the girl with her family. Seventy per cent of the first offenders have absolutely made good.

Judge Norris paid high tribute to Massachusetts and stated that we ought to be proud of being the first part of the world to adopt the probation system, having done so in 1878. New York took it up in the 90's. She considers the work of the probation officer as of infinitely more importance than that of the judge.

After the customary courtesy resolution the session closed in ample time to get the official train for Boston.

F. M. ESTY, Register.
Jan. 28-Feb. 4-11.

The farmers were out in force to secure the repeal of the law and while some of their arguments had merit, they were most absurd. The facts are that the great majority of workers in this state want this law and the small minority will have to submit, as gracefully as they can. A great deal of the alleged trouble could be avoided if the state would only exercise its authority and compel the railroads to observe the law. With the trains run on Daylight Saving time the objections would practically cease, and there is no more reason why the railroads cannot run on that time within the state and change when they go outside than there is to the present change of one hour in every train schedule when it reaches Buffalo.

MEMORIAL TABLET

The memorial tablet to the members of the Newton High School who died in the late war will be suitably dedicated on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the exercises being held in the assembly hall of the Classical High School at Newtonville. The public is invited to be present.

lin Field, directly south of the suggested site of the artistic memorial; the new building, the Technical High School, and the Classical High School forming three sides of a quadrangle, facing on Walnut Street, with the artistic memorial in the center of the quadrangle.

In the Accounting Department of the City will be found the record of appropriations and disbursements made under authority of His Honor, the Mayor, for the account of the action of this Committee.

Mr. Henry Bacon was engaged to prepare detailed plans for the artistic memorial. The first plan submitted by him was more expensive than desired, its cost being estimated at from $175,000 to $200,000. The plan was accordingly modified and in its present form is estimated to cost $125,000. These plans are on file with the City Engineer and are carried out in full detail, ready for actual construction.

Your Committee felt that it was most desirable to give to all architects residing in the City of Newton an opportunity to present plans for the proposed civic building. Accordingly, they asked the Boston Society of Architects to prepare the specifications for a competition open to all Newton architects. The Society requested Mr. J. Lovell Little, an architect of distinction, to act as Advisor to the Committee in all matters pertaining to the competition.

This competition was held in August of 1920 and twelve architects submitted plans. The Committee requested Mr. Charles A. Coolidge, Mr. J. Harleston Parker, and Mr. Walter H. Kilham—all of them members of the Boston Society of Architects, a chapter of the American Institute—to serve as a Committee to award the first, second, and third prizes in the competition. They unanimously awarded the first prize of $600.00 to Mr. Ernest W. Dearing of the firm of Haven & Hoyt—the second prize of $400.00 to Messrs. Allen & Collins—and the third prize of $200.00 to Mr. Maurice W. Salomonson.

After the award of the first prize the Committee asked Mr. Dearing to detail his work and submit careful estimates of cost. These estimates of cost were submitted on December 15th and were, for first-class construction throughout, $375,000; and for second-class construction, $335,000.

The combined estimates of cost of the artistic memorial and civic building are approximately as follows:
For the artistic memorial, $125,000
For the civic building, 375,000
For the improvement of land, 25,000

Total, $525,000
The above estimates are based upon 1920 prices. If the work is delayed it is hoped and believed that costs will be considerably less.

It has been suggested that the central feature of the artistic memorial, which is a bronze statue, could be united with the civic building, the statue being placed in front of the building, which, because of its classical design, forms a possible background. If this is done the total cost will be reduced by approximately $75,000. The Committee feel that its original recommendation for an entirely separate and distinct artistic memorial and civic building is the wisest course to follow.

The Committee on War Memorial feels that it has carried this work as far as it is desirable until the City has reached a definite conclusion as to whether a memorial shall be erected or not. The specific recommendation of this Committee is that a memorial be erected on the High School site and that it consist of two distinct elements, to wit: an artistic memorial and a civic building.

This Committee does not believe that the expenses of the memorial should be entirely borne by the City of Newton; and it recommends that the City appropriate one-half of the estimated cost of the combined memorial and civic building, such appropriation to be conditioned upon the other half being raised by subscription of the citizens of the City.

It is the feeling of this Committee that conditions are not now opportune either for the raising of subscriptions or for actual construction; and it suggests that the City Government take these facts into consideration.

This Committee therefore recommends that the City take definite action with reference to the following questions:

- Shall there be a memorial?
- Shall it be a civic building, an artistic memorial, or a combination of the two?
- The site of the memorial.
- The method of financing the same.
- When shall the work be done?

Respectfully submitted,
(Sgd.) HENRY I. HARRIMAN,
Chairman.

—Miss Helen Gallagher, daughter of James Gallagher of Lincoln Park, West Newton, died at her home Wednesday morning, following a lingering illness. Miss Gallagher was formerly a teacher in the Bright School of Waltham, but was forced to discontinue her duties some time ago on account of failing health. Funeral services were held on Wednesday morning. A solemn High Mass of Requiem being sung at St. Bernard's Church at 1 o'clock, with Rev. John Allston as celebrant, Rev. Francis Cronin, deacon, and Rev. William J. Farrell, subdeacon.

The formal dancing party held at the Newton Catholic Club on Friday night brought out a large attendance, which exceeded the expectations of the committee in charge. The hall was tastefully decorated for the occasion with the club colors predominating in the color scheme. A few of the sketches from the recent minstrel show were again produced and they received a prolonged applause, being obliged to respond to many encores. The committee in charge of the party was headed by Frank McDermott, chairman. Refreshments were served during intermission.

—A Ford delivery truck owned by John A. Duane of River street was destroyed by a fire that started in the engine on Monday, shortly before 6 o'clock. The machine took fire in the garage in the rear of the Duane store and quickly spread to a blanket that had been thrown over the radiator. In a few moments the entire front of the car was ablaze, but Mr. Duane, assisted by Stephen Connelly pushed the car out to River street, and sounded an alarm from Box 32, which brought apparatus from West Newton, Auburndale and Newtonville. The firemen used a chemical line and made short work of the fire, but the front of the truck was burned probably beyond repair.

—The Lenten Sunday Evening Services at the Second Church in West Newton are to begin next Sunday at seven thirty o'clock. Mr. Park, the minister of the church, in an interview, said, "In these services, I endeavor to make clear the great religious and spiritual facts of life, in as simple and appealing a way as possible." It is understood that Mr. Park came to this conclusion in response to popular demand for this type of evening service, which was so successful at that church last year during the Lenten season. The subject Sunday evening will be in answer to a child's question "Why Doesn't God Kill the Devil?" The excellent chancel choir quartette will sing; Mr. William Lester Bates will be the organist. Entrance to these services is made through the Margin street door, directly opposite the Boston and Albany Station. The service begins promptly at half after seven.

DEATH OF W. C. BAMBURGH, JR.

The death of William Cushing Bamburgh, Junior, on Tuesday last, takes from a host of friends both old and young, one of the best known boys in Newtonville. He was the only son and third child of Mr. and Mrs. William Cushing Bamburgh, of Albemarle road, and was in his fifteenth year, having been born in Elizabeth, N. J., on March 18, 1906.

His health had been good up to the 24th inst. when he was taken with intestinal grippe, and was unable to attend his sister, Marguerite's, wedding on the 29th. Pneumonia set in the following week, and apparently the crisis had been passed, when the end came suddenly and peacefully in the presence of his sister, Mary Esther, his mother and father, the Rev. Mr. Loring and the Rev. Mr. Phillips, together with the nurse, and doctor.

His interests and his friendliness were distinguished by a fine mindedness and a wholesomeness which made him the pal of many grown men well-known in Newtonville life, as well as of the young people of his own age. His enjoyment and ability in violin music took him into several of the musically inclined groups of young people. He was a member of St. John's Episcopal Sunday School, sang in and played his violin with the choir; had been an assistant patrol leader of Troop 25 of the Hartford Boy Scouts, while residing there in 1918-19; and was in his first term at Huntington School, Boston.

He was in direct line with that Matthew Cushing who settled Hingham, Mass., and with William Cushing of Hingham, England, who owned landed property in Norwich in 1466. He was also descended from Ebenezer Shed, a lieutenant in the colonial army under Governor William Shirley; and Zacharias Shed who served in the Revolutionary war under Brigadier General Isaac Royal. On the Bamburgh side, he was descended from Patrick Dunn who fell in the Seminole Indian War in Florida, and from Charles Bamburgh who came from Northumberland, England, to America in 1832. On his mother's side he was

WE ALL GO UP OR DOWN TOGETHER

William McKinley used to say: "In this republic we all go up or down together."

This great truth needs to be kept in mind in this era of unrest, of uncertainty and of peril, when the temptation is strong in public life to play the demagogue rather than to be wise and honest and just.

No remedy for existing wrongs and abuses in government is to be found in legislation expressive of the selfish desires or prejudices of any one class or group or element in American citizenship, however powerful it may be either in money or in voting strength.

We have had eight years of government by demagogues and doctrinaires, by politicians who professed to be lying awake nights worrying over the wrongs perpetrated upon the people by plutocrats and big business. As a result we have an accentuation of those very wrongs and abuses which make the days before the new freedom was turned on seem, in retrospect, like a veritable golden age.

The politician who preaches a gospel of envy and hatred and prejudice, whether in Russia or America, is an unsafe leader. If such men were to be trusted we would today be living in the midst of the millennium, for we were told that through the adoption of the patent panaceas of these politicians, with all their professed hatred of the rich, the poor would be enriched and the plutocrat would be brought low.

Statesmanship is to be judged, not by what it professes, but by what it really achieves. Declaration is not a sufficient substitute for performance. Denunciation of public wrongs is meaningless unless accompanied by practical measures which actually alleviate, rather than complicate and increase, the wrongs and lift the burdens of the people.

"We, in this republic, all go up and down together." No object is worthy of the thought of statesmanship but the general, the common good. He who thinks of a smaller objective than that is unworthy of public leadership in an hour like this.

—The National Republican.

NEW PASTOR

Rev. Fred W. Peakes Comes to Lincoln Park Baptist Church

Rev. Fred W. Peakes, the new pastor of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, of West Newton, was born in Boston, and is a graduate of Hebron Academy, Hebron, Maine, of Colby College, Waterville, Maine, and of the Theological institution at Newton Centre. He has held pastorates at Ashland, Mass., North Berwick, Maine, Everett, Mass., and comes to West Newton from the Baptist Church of Athol, Mass., of which he has been pastor for nearly seven years.

STIRRING ADDRESS

Rev. Mr. Park Speaks on "Why Doesn't God Kill the Devil?"

In response to the growing demand for Sunday evening services conducted throughout, in a popular, emotional, and intelligent vein, Rev. J. Edgar Park, minister of the Second Church, gave an address of sterling merit to an overcrowded church last Sunday evening.

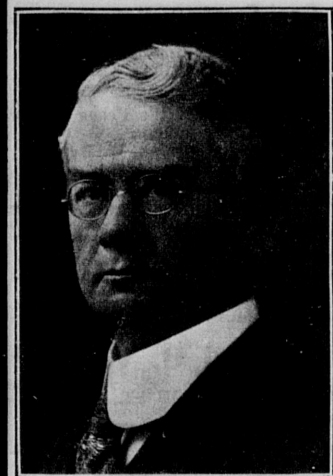

Mr. Park was constantly at his best, driving home Pilgrim truths, through the use of the weapons of humor and seriousness, both of which he so competently wielded. "Why doesn't God Kill the Devil?" was the subject of the address.

The speaker pictured most vividly the opposite of the very modern "pious philosophy" of life, which so many of us thoughtlessly follow. "There is a devil," said he, "else why disease, poverty, ignorance, and injustice in the world about us?"

"Then why doesn't God kill the devil, since he is the Supreme Ruler of the universe?" Here Mr. Park most forcibly answered, "God can't kill the devil without our help. He has made us not automata, not mere machines, but free agents to choose and love whom we will. He hopes we will find in His friendship the joy of life, but He will not force us to find it there."

"God can't do everything. He can't make a round square; He can't undo something which has already been done. He can only do those things which are in accordance with the laws of nature, which He has made. Since He has made us free to choose as we will, those who truly follow Him will here tonight loyally answer the 'Call to Arms' in the interests of which this meeting is held, and go forth tonight resolved to kill the octopus of evil which exists on all sides."

REV. FRED W. PEAKES
Pastor of Lincoln Park Baptist Church

In both the Ashland and North Berwick pastorates, the church buildings were destroyed by fire and replaced by new structures, and in each of the four pastorates, long-standing church debts have been paid and substantial additions have been made to the church membership.

Mr. and Mrs. Peakes were classmates in Colby College, and they have

MEMORIAL TABLET DEDICATED

Impressive Service at Newton Classical High School in Honor of Its Pupils Who Died in the World War

In a wonderfully impressive service, characterized by reverence, patriotism and eloquence, the memorial tablet, the gift of the class of 1919 to the Newton High School, was dedicated last Sunday afternoon before an audience which filled the large assembly hall of the school.

For the dedicatory exercises, the tablet was placed in the centre of the stage, veiled with the national colors.

The exercises began with the entrance of Newton Post of the American Legion, under Commander C. Raymond Cabot, the national and state colors carried by the Post being placed at the right and left of the stage on the floor. Immediately following, came the senior class of the school, also with the national and state colors, which were placed at the right and left of the stage itself, after the school and the audience had given the pledge to the flag and had sung the Star Spangled Banner.

Rev. Dr. Laurens MacLure, rector of Grace Church, then offered prayer and the audience sang the Doxology.

Mr. E. C. Adams, master of the school, was the first speaker. He recalled the fact that when the call to arms came the schools and colleges showed no hesitation and the teachers and pupils were more than ready to do what they were required to perform. The Newton High School was not behind in this respect and its graduates were found in all branches of the service. He had a record, possibly incomplete which showed 516 pupils of the school in the service. The class of 1919 for its gift to the school decided in favor of a memorial to those pupils who had given their lives to their country and the class raised $900 for this purpose and the tablet had been designed by Cyrus E. Dallin, the well known sculptor. Mr. Adams then read a list of the names on the tablet and then paid an eloquent tribute to the late Charles D. Meserve, whom he declared had overworked himself during the war period, and undoubtedly thereby shortened his life.

Mayor Childs was the next speaker and called attention to the fact that the High School had taught the worth of service and the devotion to an ideal of these young men. The test of a soldier he declared was whether he fulfills his orders and whether he does his work well. Some of these men he said had gone thru hell, some had died gloriously, some had died on this side of the ocean, some had endured the hard drum life of the camp, but they all had done their work and every citizen of Newton is proud of their record, and proud of the school, the home and the church which had helped to develop the American spirit which had animated every one of them. This memorial, he declared was to the patriotism and heroism of the graduates of this school, but our real memorial is that for which these boys had died.

Capt. Sinclair Weeks, past commander of Newton Post, of the American Legion said that this memorial should remind us of the ideals for which these boys had died. Tomorrow, these names will be names only, but the tablet will be an evidence of the great part they played in the great war. Capt. Weeks also paid a tribute to Mr. Meserve, saying that he had the respect, admiration and real affection of all who came in contact with him.

After a verse of America, the tablet was unveiled and a wreath of flowers laid at its foot.

Dr. MacLure then gave an eloquent dedicatory address, which we greatly regret we cannot give in full. He said in part:—

"I remember lying awake early on the morning of Monday, Nov. 11, 1918, as I often lay awake the terrible nights of that autumn, and wondering what my boy, also of Newton high school, was doing and suffering in Germany, a prisoner—and if he were not better dead."

"By and by I heard the murmur of a distant din, swelling and coming nearer and nearer, the growing sound of whistles and bells. Then suddenly from only 150 feet away the chimes of Grace Church rang out 'Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow.' I arose and at the window and thought of all it meant to me and to you people who are here today."

"And then I thought of the price: all these boys of Newton high school—all these American boys—educated, manly, strong, at the threshold of life. 'Yes we have been bought with a price.' We used to see that phrase in the Bible but perhaps it did not mean much. Prof. Gilbert Murray of Oxford, who lost his own son, has confessed that he understands now what it means to be bought with blood, as we understand it. Our peace and security today has come from their dead. That is why we are met here today to dedicate this tablet. We were bought with a price—$21,000,000,000—but that is nothing. We have been bought with the lives of the boys of America."

"Oh, you fortunate people who only had to pay taxes. You have a right to see that they are justly raised and economically administered, of course, but the price is something more. All these boys of Newton high school whose names are on the tablet are part of the price."

REMARKABLE CONCERT

Given at Newton Centre by Mlle. Nedelka Simeonova

Wednesday evening, the 16th, Mlle. Nedelka Simeonova gave a most interesting and remarkable concert in Bray Hall, Newton Centre. Those who were so fortunate as to have heard her when she played here as a little girl, recognize that she still retains to a singular degree that same bell-like tone; the same fire and brilliancy that so characterized her former playing. This coupled with a technique and ability acquired only through years of work and rigid practice and training makes an artist of high excellence.

All her numbers were played with those velvet tones, brilliancy of technique with an absolute assurance that makes all her renditions so thoroughly enjoyable and entirely out of the ordinary.

Although a good number were present at the concert at the same time one cannot help regretting that such talent should go unheard by many that a little effort might easily have brought. She will certainly forge ahead to the front rank of the virtuoso violinists of the day.

In an interview she playfully related many of the interesting episodes in her life abroad; her studies with Professor Aner when she was a fellow pupil, with Herfetz and Seidel, who were finishing their studies under the magic instruction of Professor Aner. Later she studied with Professor Havemann at Dresden, where the large amount of her time abroad was spent. She told how she played with many famous orchestras at Berlin, Dresden, Sofia, and later at the

THE CIVIC THEATRE

Discussed at Eliot Church by Rev. J. D. Dingwell

A most inspiring meeting was held at Eliot Church on Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Eliot Men's Club and the Woman's Association.

The speaker of the evening was the Rev. J. D. Dingwell of Pawtucket and Central Falls, and his subject was, "The Civic Theatre." Mr. Dingwell paid a tribute to Mrs. Kenneth B. Hastings, and Mr. Harold T. Dougherty, both of whom, he said, had been of great assistance to him in his work in Pawtucket.

He then went on to tell of the origin of the movement in Pawtucket through the Men's Club in the Congregational Church of which he is pastor. The aim of the movement has been from the beginning to Americanize the foreigners, 75% of whom in the vicinity of Pawtucket could not read English. Interviews were secured with the leading citizens of Pawtucket and Central Falls, and with their co-operation an auditorium was secured for the showing of moving pictures. These pictures are under the control of a committee which is non-political, non-commercial, and non-sectarian.

DURABILITY

The first question invariably asked by the prospective purchaser of roofing is, "How long will it wear?"

Many roofs of prepared roofing laid over twenty years ago are still in service, withstanding the destructive attacks of the elements, and continue to retain their waterproofing properties.

"Actions speak louder than words." The service which these roofs have rendered in the past is the best evidence of their ability to wear.

"Let there be no murmurs from you who only have to pay in taxes. To the fathers and mothers of those who sleep in long rows in the cemeteries of France, I can only say what Lincoln said to Mrs. Bixbee: 'Mingling with your grief there must be a solemn pride that you could lay on the altar of your country so costly a sacrifice.'"

"All honor to all the boys, of course; they jeopardized their lives. But consider the boys who gave their lives. I wish to do them special honor today. Do you remember what one soldier wrote in his diary, which was found on his body the day after he went over the top? It is the greatest definition of religion I have ever heard 'True religion,' he wrote, 'it seems to me, is to bet one's life that there is a God.'"

"They bet their lives that right has some deeper and more enduring foundation than mere brute force. They went like the rest, but they did not come back. They did not stand on crowded decks to see the shores of God's country look out of the ocean's mists, to catch a distant glimpse of the Statue of Liberty or of Boston light. No marching between cheering thousands up Fifth avenue or Commonwealth avenue; no tears, kisses or smiles from mothers, wives or sweethearts. They lie in their graves 3500 miles away from our coast line. They did not hear of the craven Kaiser's flight or see the crumbling of cowardly German. They died in the rain and mud of the Argonne, by gas or machine-gun bullet, or breathed on their lives in hospitals while the issue was yet in doubt."

"Oh, little town of Auburndale and Waban and Newton Highlands and all the rest. Out of you the soldiers came. They bet their lives, and the Great Stakeholder, so far as earth and the things of earth are concerned, has handed over their winners to us. So we dedicate this tablet today."

Mr. Charles Swain Thomas, a former master of the High School then read the following original poem.

Each separate name here carved in lettered bronze
Its silent story tells in colors clear
To those whose inner eyes in fancy see
The records wrought in high sincerity
—But on the tablet chiseled stark and bare.

We knew them in their years of careless youth,
Before the thunders of a world at war
Had stirred their hearts,—yet cold to freedom's call;
And then we caught the overtone from each and all,
—But here deep muffled in the sculptured score.
Now round these names affection lays its wreath,

And writes the record of each high emprise.
Our fancy adds the rubric to the story
And follows all through camp and field and fray
To the last grim battle where Death won the prize.

But let not Death long keep this prize unchallenged;
For souls arouse as we recite their daring.
This tablet cold grows warm in the light of love unspoken.

These sons and mothers live again in the glow of memory's token;
We greet them today, their haloed glory sharing.

And their return is not alone to u who bowed in sorrow
As we read 'ghast each message sad and grave.
Day after day these names in silent bronze enwrought
Will re-awake; will teach to future groups untaught
That these dead comrades live—still animate the cause they died to save.

The exercises closed with a verse of America and the benediction by Dr. MacLure.
The tablet is about 5 feet in height and 3 feet in width and made of bronze. At the top is a spread eagle, followed by the following inscription.

DEAR WORLD

It's snowing to-night,
And the world outside is beautiful,
Still, and clean;
While here at home my fire burns bright,
My heart is all serene.

Again the household tasks are done,
The dragging hours of work have past;
And blessed Evening has begun
To weave her charm of Peace at last.

My babe lies dreaming in his nest
Of things that only children see;
It's sweet to wait and watch and rest
For him who's coming home to me!

Dear World, is it wrong to be so content, (When there's trouble aplenty for others, I know)

To linger here when the day is spent,
To just be happy and watch it snow?

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

Hyde School

The pupils in Miss Sampson's room, fourth grade, who are taking music outside of school, entertained their class, recently with a musicale, rendering beautifully both piano and violin selections.

A Concentration Club has been organized in the sixth grade, Miss Tabor's room. Only those whose deportment justify it may belong, and great effort is being shown on the part of the pupils to become members of the same. At present the members are, Ruthena Warren, Paul Shannon, Hayward Jones, Anna Bacon, Marion Bond, Priscilla Gibbs, Dorothy Jordan, Janet Adams Dorothy Thompson, and Ruth Sampson.

Miss Mae Bentley from the Framingham Normal is at present the student assistant in the lower grades.

The two fourth grades engaged in a spelling match last week. Miss Sampson's room won.

The Hyde Hockey seven defeated the Mason team at Bullough's Pond Feb. 10. The Hyde was without two of its most effective players, Philip Lingham center, and John Sweeney, right wing. The score was 2-0. The lineup:

Thompson, rw, Murphy, c, Whitmore, r, Dow, lw, Norton, p, Daniels, ep, Carver, c.

The goals were scored by Norton and Daniels in the second period. Teamplay was apparent through the entire game. Thompson and Dow did fine passing to Murphy and Whitmore. Murphy hurt his hand badly, but easily surpassed all except Norton where he was right. Norton was the star. He not only scored one goal, but enabled Daniels to get the other on a perfect pass. The defense was so fine, the goal guard had only two stops. Both of these were easy. Whitmore did fine defense work. The center was without MacDonald, but that could have made little difference in the result.

Washington Birthday exercises were observed in the Hyde School on Friday, the 18th. The primary grades rendered an interesting program in the morning, followed by the upper grades' entertainment in the afternoon.

Stearns School

The character party, to be given by the Mothers' Club, will be postponed from Monday, February 21st, to Thursday, February 24th, due to the school vacation.

Miss Grace McLaughlin of the teaching staff at Stearns School has been elected to serve on the Board of Directors of the Stearns School Center.

Those on the committee are Ann Bruner, Arthur Smith, Shattuck Osborn and Frederick Blodgett. The question of the dedication of the "Newtonian" was brought before the class. However, it was decided to wait until the next meeting to decide upon this matter. The class voted that Pres. Blodgett buy himself a gavel.

Editor Graham wishes to add the following names to the "Newtonian" staff: Sylvia Chapman, photographs; Janet Eaton, art; and Homer Tilton, athletics, in the picture. The staff met on Wednesday and received directions from Mr. Underwood and the editor. Recently Mr. Underwood found a picture of the girls of the senior and junior classes of 1884. It is planned to reproduce this picture in this year's "Newtonian", and if there are any readers of the "Graphic" who think that they could aid in identifying the girls of the students in the picture, Editor Graham kindly urges them to let him know and he will arrange for them to see the picture. The picture is of the girls of the senior and junior classes of 1884.

Its author is Horace Annesley Vachell, a popular English dramatist and novelist, and in "Jelfs" he tells a very timely story of financial sensation not unlike that created by the notorious Ponzi of local fame. The title of the play comes from the family name of its leading personages. Like the famous Countess Bank, known to all transatlantic American travellers, "Jelfs" is a private bank in London. The four acts of "Jelfs" are set in two scenes, the first and the fourth act being in the manager's offices of the bank, the second and third acts being in the garden of Richard Jelf's country house at Shepperton-on-Thames. At the opening of the play, Richard Jelf has just come into control of the bank by inheritance, but he has had no preparation for the business, having only recently returned from California, where he has been the prosperous proprietor of a ranch, and has become imbued with a certain amount of the hustling American spirit. He knows nothing about banking, but he is determined to learn all there is to know of the business. It is a cheerful play, with not a glimpse of gloom in it. In "Jelfs" we get away from the Eternal Triangle and breathe the fresh air of life, love and comedy.

Robert Lemont of the Methodist team was the third largest point getter. He was credited with winning the Senior 80 yd. swim, second place in the Senior diving, and third in the 20 yd. dash. Ivan Collett of the Baptist team gave Lemont a good race for third place, his total being only one point less than Lemont's. Collett did much to put the Baptist team in second place.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Committee hearings are coming thick and fast and the calendar of both Senate and House are rapidly lengthening, most of the committee reports being either leave to withdraw or reference to the next annual session.

Mrs. George H. Mellen, president of the Newton Bird Club, was before the committee on Conservation on Monday in favoring an appropriation for a book on birds of Massachusetts and the committee later made a favorable report.

Alderman Philip Nichols was before the committee on Education on Tuesday opposing a bill to take part of the income tax receipts to aid the cities and towns in the state to equalize the work of school teachers.

Mr. Nichols was against the bill because of the way it levied taxes in order to raise the money. He denied that he ever said he objected to Newton's paying for the benefit of Lawrence, or for any other place of limited means, but put his criticism on the ground that the tax will be raised in part from property which is taxed on its income, while other property, which ought to be taxed, escapes. He said that it is doubtful whether the law will be constitutional and the matter is now pending in such shape before the courts that the committee might wait action. He said that Newton has lost its position as a comparatively wealthy place because the new distribution of income cuts off the city from much which it used to get and if the law were to be enacted, Newton would actually gain at the expense of Lawrence.

Attorney General J. Weston Allen of this city was in the line light a bit on Wednesday when the committee on Judiciary heard bills which on the one hand would increase the power of the Attorney General and on the other would lessen what power he now possesses. It was Mr. Allen and his corps of able assistants against District Attorney Pelletier of Boston. There was one roll call in the House this week on the annual question of granting the $100 bonus to the Yeomen (F). The writer was in charge of a favorable report on this matter last year, the bill being defeated on its third reading. This year the committee report was adverse and substitution of the bill was refused by a vote of 68 to 144. Representative Early and the writer voted for the bill and Representative Rice was opposed. The bill was passed by the American Legion, and while there has been considerable opposition to it, it is really a matter of plain justice to a capable and loyal body of young women.

Attorney General Allen was also a sneaker this week on the so-called "blue sky" bills. Mr. Allen wanted to prevent Massachusetts from the future from being the happy hunting ground of the promoters of fake stocks and schemes that it has been in the past, and suggested three main remedies. First was such control as would prevent fraudulent securities reaching the public; second, requiring all dealers in investments of any kind to be registered with the State Department of Public Utilities and, lastly, regulation of "deeds of trust" to stop dealers evading the laws regarding corporations by organizing concerns under deeds of trust.

Newton people who are interested in the matter of billboard regulation will be pleased to learn that Commissioner of Public Works John N. Col

REV. J. EDGAR PARK DELIVERS STIRRING ADDRESS

"The arm of disease is not of God, but of the devil. Cheerfulness is the greatest foe of disease. Those who continually issue bulletins of their minor troubles are conductors of disease and thus workers of the devil. It is for us to fight disease with the greatest preventative and cure known, a contagious smile.

"The second arm of the octopus of evil is poverty. Let no man in his comfortable home believe that it does not exist—it does! From poverty, seeds, the reaping is of crime and pauperism. We are in duty to God, bound to alleviate the sin of poverty as the best way.

"The third foe, the greatest and the easiest for us as individuals to fight, is ignorance. The ignorant are always slaves to the man who knows. And yet of all our national public expenditures, while ninety-three per cent is paid for past and future wars, and only six per cent is used for all other public purposes. We must fight ignorance in the home first of all. Here the child must feel the sanctity of the home. That boy who leaves for school from a happy home will find the teacher kindly and agreeable and will stand well in his classes; to him who leaves the breakfast table at which all the members of the household have served their personal ailments and troubles, must perform enter school in a gray mood, in which the devil, ignorance, delights.

"Lastly, injustice must be ruled from civil and industrial life. From the seeds of injustice in a democracy flourish discontent, deceit, crime, revolution, and anarchy. Through being somewhat kindly to the foreigner in our midst, through courtesy and thoughtfulness of others, through the use of wisdom in planning the working of our high ideals, we can answer 'God can kill the devil with our help.'

It is impossible to include the humor of Mr. Park's address, as only from his lips it is living and real.

The collection for the evening was given to the West Newton Music School.

The Chancel Choir Quartette composed of Miss Eva A. Sanderson, soprano; Miss Florence Owen, alto; Mr. Al E. Watts, tenor; and Mr. Willis A. Goode, bass rendered two most pleasing selections, assisted by the Church Organist, Mr. William Lester Bates.

NEWTON POST, A. L.

A life, drum and bugle corps will soon be added to the activities of Newton Post of the Legion, if present plans materialize. William Tolan, formerly of Pershing's Own Band, has been delegated to form the organization, and he has already succeeded in securing over a dozen first class musicians for the corps.

William Foley, formerly a bugler in the 101st Infantry, Thomas Tolan, of Pershing's Band, and Amos Oldfield, formerly a fife in the old 5th Border, are among the men who will be used as a nucleus for the corps.

As soon as the personnel of the corps is assured, the Post will purchase equipment in the nature of drums, bugles, fifes and the bass drum and practicing will commence as soon as possible in order to be in readiness for future demands.

The Auxiliary to Newton Post of the American Legion will conduct a whist party in Legion Hall, West Newton, tonight. Whist will commence at eight o'clock. Several prizes have been donated and the ladies anticipate a success equal to that of the last party at which a large sum of money was realized. The committee in charge of the affair is headed by Miss Kathleen Matthews of Newtonville.

TO DEDICATE TABLET

The tablet purchased by students and graduates of Newton Technical High School in memory of the former members of that school who died in the service during the war will be formally dedicated with impressive services at the school hall next Sunday afternoon at 3.30.

All patriotic bodies in the city have been invited to attend, and among the speakers will be Major Ray Cabot, commander of Newton Post, American Legion, and Rev. William J. Farrell, chaplain of the Post.

It is expected that 100 members of the Newton Post of the Legion will attend the affair in uniform, in addition to the Grand Army and Spanish War Veterans.

CIVIC THEATRE DISCUSSED

was overwhelming. For eight years, a series of pictures—ten yearly—has been shown to crowded houses. These pictures are along educational and patriotic lines with the object of bringing to the foreigner the highest ideals of American life. The entire Life of Lincoln, for example, has been given, and last Sunday night, "The Man Without A Country" was presented.

Before the pictures are thrown upon the screen, interpreters in the different languages explain the meaning of what is to follow. Fine musical programs are also included. The 8th year has, so far, been the most successful of all.

"The speaker told of a 'stunt' he once did in learning and delivering a speech of welcome in seven different languages, and of the joy and enthusiasm with which his efforts were greeted. One interpreter even went so far as to say that if Mr. Dingwell and his assistants cared so much for their foreign neighbors as to try to learn their language, they should try to learn English.

These pictures have proved that there is a common meeting ground on which Slav, Italian, Jew, and American may meet. It also proves that one has only to prove to these people that he is sincerely desirous of helping them to win their confidence and ready response.

So far the pictures have been paid for by private individuals who are interested, but it is hoped to establish as a war memorial a Civic Theatre which shall be permanent, and to which all shall subscribe according to the measure of their ability.

A very delightful musical program by Mrs. Kenneth B. Hastings accompanied by Miss Lillian West, added to the pleasure of the evening at Elliot Church.

"ON READING"

Mr. George H. Evans of the Somerville Public Library gave a most interesting paper on "Reading" at the monthly meeting of librarians of Newton and surrounding towns held in the Newton Public Library on Wednesday morning. After analyzing the various grades of readers he spoke of the incomparable joy of one who has acquired the art of reading so as to remain entirely unconscious of the printed words, and with perfect abandon of the material world can absorb the mental pictures directly from the page. He referred to the fact that, with the tremendous demands on our time in the hurry-scurry of present day life, we must each feast on literature alone—foregoing "the leisurely art of reading aloud."

Literature he termed the storehouse of sentiment, and spoke of man's primitive desire for arrangement, a need of rhythmic expression, which can be satisfied by music, dancing and poetry. By dipping into the latter, "the dainty honeycombs of literature," we stimulate our imaginations, aspirations and emotions.

After the conclusion of this paper, Mr. Dougherty showed some of the Library's colored lantern slides of wild flowers, and some remarkable colored slides of wild birds photographed in their native haunts.

The spirit of the meeting showed the Library to be "a garden of immortal fruits—without dog or dragon!"

THE NEWTON CLUB

A very successful masquerade was held at the Newton Club on Wednesday, Feb. 16, attended by from 50-75 couples in costume.

Mr. Fred Mann, as a Sing Sing Prisoner led the grand march after which the members unmasked, and there were many surprises. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. E. P. Campbell for her Harlem costume, and to Mr. William Schofield for his Spanish Senorita costume.

Honorable mention was given to Mrs. F. S. Arend, as Liberty in a costume of red, white, and blue paper with balloons, and to Mrs. Joseph Cryer as Raggedy Ann. The Gold Dust Twins, Mr. F. S. Arend and Mrs. Archibald Wellman, also received honorable mention, as did Mr. R. V. Collins as a Darkey Preacher.

Music was furnished by Johnson's orchestra.

VETERANS AND VETERANS

One of the most interesting meetings of the current year of Newton Post of the Legion was held on Thursday the Legion was held on Thursday, Feb. 10, in the Legion rooms in West Newton. As special guests of the evening all members of Charles W. Post of the Grand Army, who were physically able to attend did so, and the old soldiers were seated on the platform with Alderman Whidden, who represented the city.

One of the most striking addresses of the evening was made by Adjutant W. A. Wetherbe of the Grand Army, who spoke with fervor of the work of Charles Ward Post during the past fifty years, and of the expectation of the veterans of the Civil War that the younger soldiers would take up the work where they left off especially in fostering the love of country in the minds of the growing generation. The Adjutant compared the surrender of Lee at Appomattox with the downfall of the Kaiser, and declared the action of the Allies in accepting an armistice, when, in his opinion, a few more weeks of defeat would have brought the German army to its knees and they would have been willing to agree to an unconditional surrender, and today we would be at peace with the world, instead of being technically at war.

Alderman Whidden spoke of the difference between a civilian and a service man, as regards civic duties. He said that the service man was as a rule in position to be a better citizen because of his wider range of vision, due to service than the man who stayed at home.

He urged those present to take an active part in all civic activities and asked them to keep the spirit of patriotism alive in Newton.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served to the old veterans.

AND CUPID FLED, SHRIEKING

Truly, as Many Have Averred, Romance Today Has Fallen From Its Once High Estate.

They were young and it was evening, and the moon was shining. And they were young.

He was facing her, silhouetted against the silvery light of the moon. Every line of his stalwart, manly figure stood plainly outlined before her.

He looked into her lovely dark eyes. Their liquid depths fascinated him, enthralled him.

He leaned forward.

"You are beautiful, wonderful, lovely!" he cried, as the moonlight illuminated her classic features.

Her glance rested upon him as he stood out clearly in the pale light.

"Will you marry me, be my wife?" he asked, with bated breath and eyes shining. Hidden fires glowed in their burning depths.

He leaned forward a little farther, waiting for her answer, eagerly, fearfully.

"Will you marry me, precious one?" he asked again, his burning glance upon her scarlet lips.

She opened her mouth to speak. Pearls gleamed in the silvery light.

"Ah! You are going to say 'yes,'" he muttered, passionately, taking hold of her tiny, lily-like hands. "You are going to say something."

He leaned closer, his head outlined clearly against the pale moonlight.

"I was going to say, why don't you wear a rubber band around your head, to train your ears not to stick out?"

GREAT ACTRESS KISSED POET

Sarah Bernhardt Made Her Meeting With Longfellow an Event to Be Remembered.

When Sarah Bernhardt came to America in the seventies sculpture was her "side line." As soon as she arrived in Boston she expressed a desire to do the bust of Longfellow, says the Christian Science Monitor. Longfellow, however, though not insensible of the honor, declined. He said that he was about to leave for Portland, Me., and feared that Mme. Bernhardt would have departed before his return. Then, to mitigate the earnestness of his refusal, he asked the tragedienne to his home, inviting William Dean Howells and Oliver Wendell Holmes to meet her.

They became very amiable toward one another, and Longfellow, who spoke excellent French, praised Mme. Bernhardt's performance of "Phedre," telling her she surpassed the great Rachel, whom he had seen 50 years earlier. The actress, not to be outdone, told the poet how much she enjoyed reading "Hiawatha," which she pronounced Hee-a-vat-er.

Evidently the affair of the sculptured bust did not rankle, for on her departure, as the poet and his other guests were escorting her to her carriage, she turned about suddenly, impulsively threw her arms about Longfellow's neck, and kissed him on the cheek, said: "Vous etes adorable."

Kidnap Chinese From Legation.

Kang-Shih-to, formerly treasurer of the Anfu club, who since the recent downfall of that alleged pro-Japanese organization has been in hiding in the Russian legation and for whose arrest a reward of $10,000 was offered by the Chinese government, has just been the victim of a coup on the part of Chinese servants employed in the legation, according to a dispatch from Peking, China. They entered Kang's bedroom in the early hours of the morning, bound him, wrapped him in a bed quilt and hoisted him over the legation wall. Accomplices delivered him into the hands of the squad of gendarmes which had been waiting for weeks for an opportunity to capture him and other refugees supposed to have hidden in foreign legations.

Woman's Latest Venture.

An engineering factory, organized, controlled, and managed by women, who also execute the orders at the lathe and in the foundry—that is the latest enterprise of the "weaker sex." It is one which deserves every success.

At the head of the firm, called Atlanta, Ltd., is Lady Parsons, the wife of the famous engineer and inventor of the steam turbine. The factory was started in the Midlands by 20 women ex-war workers. Good orders have already been secured, and Lady Parsons is convinced that these pioneer women engineers will be successful.

"There is nothing," she says, "that a woman cannot do when she tries."—London Times.

How Lightning Kills.

Numbers of cases of death by lightning have failed to reveal any direct effect of the passage of an electric current through the human body. The evidence indicates that death was caused entirely by shock. The result is psychological rather than physical, the shock inducing heart failure or other organic disturbances.

Sometimes strokes have been fatal to a mother although the child in her arms was unharmed. Persons under the influence of a drug or intoxicated seem to escape. This seems to indicate that the psychological element is an important consideration.—Popular Science Monthly.

GIRL SCOUTS

An "All-Newton" Rally will be held by the Girl Scouts of the city on Saturday, February 26, in the Gymnasium of the Newton High School at 2.30 o'clock. This Rally promises to be most interesting and the girls are working hard preparing for the Competitions. There will be the usual events, Drilling Semaphores, First Aid, Knot-tying, and of course an obstacle race. The new feature of the Rally will be Folk Dancing. All the Troops have been taking Folk Dancing and one of the Competitions will be in dancing.

Another unusual feature will be the Bugle and Drum Corps Exhibition. Bugling and drumming lessons have been held all winter and each of the Troops has had Scouts in these classes. The most advanced girls in these classes have been picked to make this Corps. The girls have worked hard and faithfully and this exhibition should be a splendid one.

Another event will be the contest for the Bugling and Drumming Cups. These cups were presented last year by the Local Director. They were won at the Spring Rally by: Bugling, Elizabeth Plimpton, Troop 3; Drumming, Nancy Kimball, Troop 4. The winners of the contest at this Rally will hold the Cups until the Mid-Winter Rally next year. Bugling and Drumming experts have been secured to act as Judges for these contests and there is great excitement among the girls who are going to try for the cups.

The Wellesley Troop of Girl Scouts has been invited to attend the Rally and will enter some of the contests.

All Scouts are urged to bring their mothers and any friends of the Girl Scouts who are interested in seeing the girls at work and play are cordially invited to attend the Rally. Merit Badge Tests are being given each week during this month and a great many girls are taking these tests. The most popular have been the Hostess, Laundress, Scribe, Dancer, Economist, Cook and Home-Nurse Merit Badges. Others given have been Artist, Athlete, Craftsman, Bugler, Drummer, Business Woman, Child-Nurse, First Aid, Flower Finder, Pioneer, Health Guardian, Citizen, Rock-Tapper, Star Gazer, Zoologist, Swimmer, Gardener, Home-Maker, Musician, Needlewoman. More tests have been given this year than ever before and more girls have taken them.

Do the citizens of Newton know what the Girl Scouts in their own city are doing? Nearly 300 of them. If not, why not come to the Rally and find out?

VICTORY DANCE.

A so-called "Victory Dance" was held last Saturday night at Temple Hall, Newtonville, in honor of the Newton High School football eleven. The affair was in the hands of Messrs. Rupert C. Thompson and Douglas Sloane.

The feature of the evening was the presentation of small gold football watch fobs to each member of the team and to Coach Alfred Dickinson, the presentation being made by Mayor Childs and the response being made by Capt. Robert Garriety.

Messrs. Fred M. Blanchard and Joseph A. Bryant, who have spent some time investigating the football facilities at the High School, suggested that the gridiron be relocated, a new grandstand built, and the field renamed "Putnam Field" in honor of David Putnam, the American aviator who died during the war and who was a member of the High School. Coach Dickinson was heartily in favor of the latter plan and said that "Dave Putnam was my ideal as an athlete. He was a serious, earnest student; a gentleman on and off the field. Surely he typified what we strive to bring out in developing the teams that represent Newton."

Bigelow School

During the past week Bigelow defeated Stearns at hockey and is now tied for third place in the Grammar League. The score was 2 to 0. Schleipake and White scoring for Bigelow. Stubbs played a strong game and McPherson also excelled.

There will be an Ice Meet for grammar schools at Bullough's Saturday, February 19th. The events will be as follows: an eight man relay for senior boys, that is, boys twelve years and over, a hundred yard dash for seniors and a hundred yard dash for juniors, and a half mile race open to all grammar school boys. The winners of events will get individual awards and the school getting the most points will get a shield.

Patriotic exercises are being held this afternoon in the school hall. Each class contributed one number on the program, and the music is by the school chorus.

COAL--3C--SAVER

is a war time discovery. Chief Engineer M. C. Cooley of the Brookline School Department says of Coal-3C-Saver that from Nov. 15th to Dec. 15th, the saving amounted to 15½ tons over same period of last year, in spite of the fact that this year we have having three sessions of evening school per week, which we did not have last year. In addition we are carrying a heavier load than we ever carried. We note that the ash residue has been reduced about eight (8) cans a day. Signed, M. C. Cooley.

Dr. John R. Slattery, Supt., and George W. Hayes, Chief Engineer at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, state over their signatures that in the use of Coal-3C-Saver they note a saving of 16 to 24 per cent. T. Dennie Boardman and Sons, the Real Estate experts of Boston, city of Chelsea, city of Everett and hundreds of others testify to the economy of the Coal-3C-Saver.

A flash of lightning lights up the ground for one-millionth of a second, yet it seems to us to last ever so much longer. What happens is that the impression remains in the retina of the eye for about one-eighth of a second.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

The work of the Newton District Nursing Association is commended to the clubs as something which should receive their hearty support, just as much as the Hospital, for each supplements the other. The appeal which is being sent out states that the work was begun in Newton 22 years ago with the services of one trained nurse and has grown until last year their nurses made $8000 call on 1200 patients. Of this number 35 percent paid full cost of the visit, 17 percent paid part of cost and 48 percent paid nothing. There is urgent need of more of this service in order to help those of moderate means who do not need a nurse all the time, but to whom a daily visit would bring much comfort.

The Association is trying to increase the number of annual subscribers, believing this to be the safest and soundest way of financing any philanthropy. The membership fee for men is $5.00, for women $2.00. Checks should be made payable to Mrs. Charles L. Smith, treasurer, Newton Centre.

Consumers' League

As one of the most vital questions before the Legislature this year is raising the school age, the Consumers' League of Massachusetts to make that the chief topic for discussion at its annual meeting which is to be held at the Twentieth Century Club, 3 Joy Street, Friday, February 25. The brief business meeting will be held in the League rooms at 12 o'clock, adjourning to the Club rooms for luncheon at 12:30, after which Owen Lovejoy, secretary of the National Child Labor Committee, will speak, with short addresses by others. Mr. Lovejoy comes prepared to show what the added year or so will mean to the young life of the commonwealth and everyone interested is urged to be present, either at the luncheon or later. Reservations for the luncheon must be made by February 23, through the executive secretary, Miss Mary C. Wiggins, 4 Joy street.

Anti-Vivisection Society

Because of the holiday falling on the day of the regular meeting of the N. E. Anti-Vivisection Society, its public meeting will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 23, at 8 o'clock, in Myers Hall, Tremont Temple. Charles E. Page, M.D., will be the speaker of the afternoon and music will be furnished by John Orth. Dr. Page has some very interesting facts to present concerning recent deaths under serum therapy and other matters of interest to society. At the close of the meeting tea will be served. All interested are invited to be present.

Newton Federation

Wednesday, February 23rd, at 2:30 P.M. in the Technical high school hall, the mid-winter meeting of the Newton Federation will be held. The program committee has arranged for the entertainment to be given by members of the Federation from different sections of the city. The act farce, "Forty-four," will be presented by members from the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands. There will be vocal solos by Mrs. Lewis E. Moore of Newtonville. Mrs. E. B. Botsford of Newton will give whistling solos and there will be fancy dancing. The program promises to be very entertaining and the opportunity for meeting friends from other parts of the city should bring out a large audience.

Local Happenings

The Waban Woman's Club had a very large and appreciative audience on Monday afternoon. The event was "Children's Day." All the children from the Roger Walcott School were present, accompanied by their teachers, as were also a limited number too young to attend school, who were escorted by their mothers.

The first number on the program was the pretty "Dance of the Spinning Top," by Miss Helen Andrews. Then for an hour the audience were held spellbound by the "magic" of Mr. Arthur R. Baird, whose clever tricks were enjoyed by both children and their escorts. The concluding number was a group of bright pieces rendered by the "Boy's Orchestra" of Waban, John Andrews, Doane Arnold, William North, Charles Bartlett and Homer Tilton. They were enthusiastically encored, and the pleasure of the afternoon concluded by each young guest receiving an ice cream cone passed by the several hostesses of the day.

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. James D. Tillinghast spoke before the Newtonville Woman's Club on "Woman's Place in Political Life." Mrs. Tillinghast is a brilliant orator and was most enthusiastically received by her audience. Mrs. Kenneth B. Hastings addressed much to the pleasure of the afternoon, as she always does, by her delightful violin numbers. Tea was served under the direction of Mrs. Melcher. Miss Sarah E. Tracey, Mrs. F. J. Fessenden, Miss Mabel C. Bragg and Miss Margaret McGill poured. The meeting was in charge of the Education committee, of which Miss McGill is chairman.

At Lincoln hall on Tuesday evening, the Newton Highlands Woman's Club held its regular meeting. Dr. MacGregor Jenkins of the Atlantic lectured upon "The Making of a Magazine." Dr. Jenkins referred, in beginning his lecture to the speaker who always took the same topic whatever his lecture might be. He, himself, on the contrary had but one lecture, though it appeared under various titles. In a similar vein he kept his audience laughing the whole evening.

Thursday afternoon of next week the club will act as hostesses at the Copley Theatre at the regular tea of the Frances Jewett Repertoire Theatre Club.

Guest Night of the Auburndale Review Club was observed at the Methodist parish house on Tuesday evening with a large attendance. "The Winslow Porringer," a pilgrim play in three acts by Suzanne Cary Gruver, was presented by members of the club, with the primitive kitchen of Mistress Hopkins for its setting. The parts were taken as follows: Mistress Hopkins, Mrs. Nathan W. Dennett; Mary Chilton, Mrs. Arthur F. Farley; Letitia, Mrs. George S. Howland; John Winslow, Miss Florence Bridgman; Mistress Brewster, Mrs. W. J. Spaulding; Mistress Susanna White Winslow, Mrs. J. Scott Rider; Squanto, Mrs. Stephen E. Wright. The place was the Plymouth settlement and the time, the autumn of 1621. The play itself was very pleasing and the parts were exceedingly well taken. A social hour with refreshments concluded a very enjoyable evening.

At the meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon an appeal for the Newton District Nursing Association was presented by Mrs. Fred H. Loveland and for the Frances Jewett Repertoire Theatre Club by Mrs. J. Weston Allen. The club voted to make its chairman of Literature, a "builder member." The club trio, Mrs. Edward Legge, Mrs. Lyman Gore and Mrs. W. J. Spaulding, with Mrs. W. D. MacNutt at the piano, sang a group of selections very delightfully, the voices blending beautifully.

The speaker of the afternoon was President Mary E. Woolley of Mount Holyoke college and her subject, "The Woman in the World." In introducing her subject, Miss Woolley outlined the growth of the educational advantages as they have been opened to women, saying that the changes have come so fast we often forget how great they have been. One hundred and twenty-five years ago girls were not admitted to the common schools, and the three professions providing opportunities for women were Emma Willard, and Catherine Beecher in Connecticut, and Mary Lyon in Massachusetts. The real beginning of any sort of advanced training came with the opening of Wheaton in 1835, followed by that of Mount Holyoke in 1837, and Vassar in 1865, which she spoke of as the age of beginnings, an increasing number of institutions were opened, but the age of expansion came from 1875, when Smith and Wellesley started, and continued another forty years to 1915, the beginning of the war. With the war an entirely new world has come into being, bringing need as never before for trained women. Previous to the war the colleges were urging their graduates to go into the professions, but now teaching 90 per cent of our teachers are women, and it is estimated that 100,000 of them during the war went out of teaching into other professions, so that today every effort is being made to get women to go back. Miss Woolley quoted from Commissioner Claxton that 20,000 schools in the country are closed because they could get no teachers, and that 60,000 are taught by those not qualified to do so. For example, in Maine, it is said that countless are being taught by girls who have not gone beyond the grades themselves.

Forty or fifty years ago college education was a luxury for the occasional girl, but today it has become a necessity for the able to meet the responsibilities of tomorrow. Miss Woolley touched upon many of the activities in which college women are engaged at the present, the Young Women's Christian Association; work along preventive lines, as the Women's Foundation for National Health, the International Federation of University Women, and the like.

She told of being criticised by some man for not having referred in an address to the college woman in the home and upon due reflection she had decided that the charge was valid and that she herself, and other women speakers did often times pass that phase by, rather taking the matter for granted. Her own observation leads her to believe that college women likewise have made good in the home and she heartily believes that the women in the home needs above all to increase the resources in her own life, which her college education helps her to do.

Certain characteristics belonging peculiarly to women are sorely needed in the world today, her sympathy with the constructive rather than with the destructive, that makes war a horror to her; her personal view of things which leads her to look upon people as human beings rather than mere races, her idealism. To these should be added the leadership, which comes from education, that women may be quick to see and ready to meet the need of the world.

Wednesday morning was a red letter day in the annals of the Newton Social Science Club, for musical morning is a rare treat. In line with the subjects of modern poetry, prose art and drama, music should have its turn and it came on Wednesday. Mrs. Francis E. Stanley opened her home for the musical and it is admirably adapted in arrangement for the enjoyment of such a program. Mr. Lee Pattison, an accomplished pianist spoke briefly of the modern composers from whose work he played, saying that those whom he had chosen were the ultra modern, almost futuristic in their work. The American chosen was John Alden Carpenter and the selection, "The Pastoral American." From Russia he presented Rachmaninoff's E Major Prelude. The next was Palmgren, a Dane, whose Bird Song pictured the rugged scenery of Denmark. The next was Malipiero, an Italian. This he followed with the "White Peacock" by Charles T. Griffis, whom Mr. Pattison considers the most talented we have produced. He died with hardly any of his work finished. The composition played the speaker estimates as the most exotic and one of the most lovely of modern pieces. The last of these, "Moderns" was the Englishman, Arnold Bax.

The rest of the morning Mr. Pattison devoted to a consideration of the works of Chopin. There was never a man who understood the piano as he. He revolutionized everything relating to the instrument and to the methods of playing it, and has influenced nearly every composer since his time. Mr. Pattison rendered five selections, Fantasia, Opus 49; Mazurka C Sharp Minor; Etude C Major; Scherzo C Sharp Minor, and another Scherzo, little known, as an encore.

NEWTON Y. M. C. A. WRESTLING

The Newton Y. M. C. A. wrestling team broke even in the meet held at the Newton Y. M. C. A. with the Cambridge Y. M. C. A. team Feb. 16.

Six bouts were held three of which went to Cambridge while Newton took the other three with two falls and one decision credited to each team.

This was the first meet of its kind held in Newton for several years and a good crowd turned out. The bouts were all very fast and interesting and brought the fans to their feet several times when the grapplers broke away from the holds. Results of matches as follows:

Whittemore, 132 lbs., of Newton lost to Fratanni of Cambridge in six minutes and three seconds after a fast and aggressive bout.

Hagar, 145 lbs., of Newton wrestled Sparks of Cambridge to a draw and was given the decision in three minutes over time period later in the evening. This was the most exciting bout on the program and the Newton boys was given a big hand for winning from the Cambridge Captain.

Vachon, 149 lbs., of Newton lost to Whittaker in 3 minutes, 2 seconds. Vachon is a powerful boy and is a comer but owing to recent illness was not in the best of condition.

Graham, 165 lbs., of Newton won from Seymour in 2 minutes and 14 seconds. Graham had the advantage from the start and had no difficulty in downing his man.

Carlson of Newton lost to Garabed by decision. The Cambridge man was a very powerful wrestler and proved the aggressor. It was one of the best bouts of the evening with both men getting out of some very tight places.

Graham of Newton went on for a second bout meeting a Cambridge man six lbs. heavier. But by using his great strength to advantage had no trouble in pinning his man to the mat in 1 minute and 20 seconds. In securing this fall Graham tied the score between the two teams.

Hagar and Graham of the Newton team will go to Cambridge Feb. 26 and Mar. 5 for the New England Championship trials. Both men won their bouts Wednesday night and ought to be strong contenders in the big show to be held at Cambridge Y. March 19.

A return meet will be given the Cambridge team Mar. 8. Other teams will be brought to Newton in the near future. Officials of the Newton-Cambridge bouts—Joe Biss, referee, Joyal, timer, Cunningham, announcer.

TENDERS RESIGNATION

Rev. Harry Lutz, for eleven years the pastor of Channing Church, Newton, tendered his resignation at the annual meeting of the church held last Tuesday evening. In presenting his resignation, Mr. Lutz expressed his belief that it was best for both the church and the pastor to make a change after a period of ten years. Last year, on account of work conditions, he had deemed it inadvisable to take that step, but thought the present a suitable time to do so. Mr. Lutz's resignation was discussed at length and by a vote of 52 to 14 it was not accepted.
These officers were elected, Standing Committee, Philip Nichols, Chairman, Edward Mellus, Ralph W. Angier, Frank H. Burt and Stephen W. Holmes. Treasurer, Robert D. Holt, Clerk, Herbert Stebbins.
The business meeting followed the annual parish supper, served by a committee in charge of Mrs. R. W. Angier, and at which over a hundred persons were present.

JENNINGS—HUNTRESS

A very beautiful wedding of much local interest took place on Thursday night when Miss Rosamond Huntress, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Huntress of Sumner street, Newton Centre, was married to Mr. Irving Cullender Jennings, of South Norwalk, Conn.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride by the Rev. Edward M. Noyes of the First Church. The bride made a charming picture in her gown of white Duchess satin with overdrapery of lace and a long court train of satin, and the maid of honor, Miss Kathleen Huntress, sister of the bride, was also attractive in her gown of green satin with tulle overdrapery edged with silver.

The best man was Mr. Howard M. Wylie of South Norwalk, Conn., and the ushers were Messrs. Burgess D. Jennings of South Norwalk, Henry Woolley of New York, Millard Hicks of Boston, Lincoln Alvord of Auburn, and Richard C. Cooke of Newton Centre.

A reception at the home of the bride which was attractively decorated with Southern smilax and jonquills, followed the ceremony. A stringed orchestra furnished the music.

After a trip to the Pacific Coast, Mr. and Mrs. Jennings will make their home in South Norwalk, Conn.

The bride was graduated from Miss Capen's School, and the groom is a graduate of New York University, and a member of the Zeta Psi Club, the West Port Country Club, the Kent Club, the Norwalk Yacht Club, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, and Commissioner of the second district of Norwalk.

A Card to the People of Waltham, Newton and Vicinity

I have disposed of the P. P. Adams' Department Store to the Parke Snow Company, Inc.

After thirty years of intimate business associations with the people of Waltham and surrounding towns it is impossible to sever relations without feelings of the keenest regret, and it would be ungrateful indeed, on my part were I not at this time to attempt to convey to you my most sincere thanks for your part in helping me to build up this splendid business.

For thirty years, from the smallest beginning, I have watched and worked, and fostered this store's growth, and today I feel that I may be pardoned if I make the claim, that no store in all New England has a better, cleaner and more honorable business record.

To you, who in a very great measure are deserving of a share of the credit in the upbuilding of this business, again I tender my heartfelt appreciation. In closing I want to say for my successors, that it is my honest opinion that the people of Waltham are to be congratulated upon the advent of a concern of the standing of the Parke Snow Company, Inc., whose record for progressiveness and honest business effort is high in the commercial life of New England.

Sincerely yours,

P. P. ADAMS,

REFUSE ADDITIONAL HALF HOLIDAYS

Aldermen Allow Them for Eight Months, the Same as Heretofore. Interesting Hearings Held

The aldermen held an eleven o'clock session on Monday night, the first of the year, mostly due to a long private conference in the committee of the whole on the proposed war memorial.

President Harriman was in the chair and the only absentees were Aldermen Lake and Pratt.

The proposed 5 unit garage of J. A. Smiley at Highland and Hunter streets, West Newton, was vigorously opposed by J. J. Curran, P. S. Cunniff, Sgt. Richard Kite and Mrs. Scott and a written protest by the estate of J. Hickey while no one appeared in favor.

The most important hearings were held on a series of orders designed to lay out, establish a building line and construct sewers in the district near Bullough's Pond covered by Morton street, Morton road, Royce road and Victoria Circle and most of the residents of that district were evidently present to show their interest.

Mr. George B. Craft, president of the Morton Improvement Association said that in the district connected with Commonwealth avenue through Morton street and that their petition for these improvements now contained 82½ per cent of the abutting owners on all these streets and if only the owners improved property were counted they had 90 per cent. The district contains 35 houses with a total assessment on land and buildings of $66,950. The streets, he said were in a frightful condition and with so many families there was considerable travel. The people were now ashamed to invite their friends to visit them and it into the sloughs and bogs of Morton street. He also said the sanitary conditions were not good, with cesspools overflowing in different parts of the district. He said that even the opponents of the improvement admitted its necessity and only believed the time was not opportune to do the work.

Mr. Craft then discussed the condition of wages and the prices of material, urging the board to take action the present spring. Mr. Daniel E. Irwin who said he lived on Commonwealth avenue spoke about the cesspools overflowing and also wanted the aldermen to place a sidewalk from Morton street to Bullough's Pond. Mr. F. B. Freeman, also living on Commonwealth avenue, said this improvement would be a general improvement to the whole neighborhood. The necessity, he said, was great and he did not believe there would be any change in prices of labor and materials for two years. Messrs. H. B. Hartley and A. M. Harvey also spoke in favor. On a show of hands of persons favoring the work, 42 were counted.

Mr. Thos. F. Murray, who had been considered an opponent of the proposed improvement, said he owned a large lot of vacant land on Morton street. He realized the need of better streets and sewers and brought out a round of applause when he concluded with the suggestion that if the board could see its way to do the work he hoped it would be put through.

The long-discussed project of a sewer in Avalon road was also heard once more, on the matter of taking a lot of land on Avalon and Upland roads for a small sewer pumping plant and an easement for sewer in Upland road. Mr. R. T. Fowler, whose building operations during the past few years

DEFENDS SCHOOL MORALS

Rev. J. Edgar Park Speaks on Interesting Topic at Second Church

In an address, provoked by recent articles appearing in Boston newspapers, Rev. Mr. Park, at the Second Church, West Newton, Sunday evening, highly defended the public schools of Newton and the system of public education in America.

The address came as the second in a series of Sunday evening meetings during Lent and was in answer to the child's question, "Why can't I do as all the others do?" Mr. Park declared "that the greatest of modern problems is seen in the clash between ideals in the home and ideals outside the home."

"The questionably mature daughter wants to wear low shoes, silk stockings, beaver neckpiece, and she forth to a dance in a snow storm. When the parent says 'No,' the girl insists, 'but all the others do, father. Why can't I do as all the others do?' Or the young son, one day appears tapping a cigarette on his finger ends and asks the same question."

In answer to this perplexing question, Mr. Park said, "There are three reasons why you can't do as all the others. And the first is, because all the others do not."

"A college man, in narrating the events of a class banquet, finally told of his drinking there. When I looked rather surprised, he replied, 'Oh, everybody does it.' It's a lie, all the others do not." Here Mr. Park told a very humorous story of a woman visitor to Ireland, who saw a horse joggling along at a most peculiar gait, and she asked her guide if all the horses in Ireland trotted that way. "It's wrong to make generalizations from specific and individual instances. Of course all the boys were not drinking at that college class banquet; of

BURGLARS ABOUT

Make Rich Haul at Residence of Mr. B. W. Fredericks

As the result of five burglaries within the past ten days, the police department of Newton has placed extra men on duty at night, in the hope that a plainclothes squad may run down the porch climbers and sneak thieves who are at work. In addition, other officers are patrolling the residential section in automobiles.

Last week Wednesday evening a porch climber stole jewelry worth several thousand dollars from the home of Benjamin W. Fredericks, a Boston leather merchant, who lives at 9 Park avenue, Newton. The family sat down to dinner at 6:30 o'clock and the burglary was committed while the meal was in progress. Nearly three hours later a member of the family found a window open in her sleeping room and the contents of bureau drawers tumbled about. Investigation showed that two other sleeping rooms had been ransacked and that watches, rings, brooches and other articles of jewelry had been taken. The open window gave access to a piazza roof and it is thought that the thief climbed one of the pillars.

The list of jewelry stolen is as follows: A blue enameled open-face watch, back scattered with small diamonds, and a diamond watch pin; diamond and platinum bracelet, holding about 40 stones; gold band bracelet set with three large diamonds; a large platinum brooch set with three large diamonds, with a score of small stones scattered between the large ones; a platinum ring with three large diamonds; a gold filigree ring with a large Oriental pearl in center and a large diamond on each side; a platinum chain with a platinum drop in clover leaf design, containing a large aquamarine stone, all studded with small diamonds, a solitaire pearl in gold setting, marked "B. W. F. to M. G. K." a small gold ring with a heart-shaped moonstone; a platinum trinket with platinum chain and set with several diamonds; a string of gold beads; a pigskin jewel case with a large number of trinkets, marked in plain block letters "E. H. F."

THE STORM

The snowstorm on Sunday was the worst of the season and reminded one of the scenes of last year. About 16 inches of snow fell, and the Street Department made its usual good record of cleaning the streets. More than 250 men and 50 horses were engaged in the work.

The street cars, while delayed were not seriously inconvenienced and gave very good service throughout the day.

The previous Monday night a sneak thief opened a window in the apartment of F. J. Blake on the first floor of the two-flat house at 42 Westbourne road, Newton Centre, and while four people sat in two adjoining rooms with the doors open, stole several articles of jewelry from a dressing table.

In this case the thief walked around the house and selected a window that opened on the only room in which valuables could be reached by putting his arm through from the outside. The theft was not discovered until some time later.

DEDICATE TABLET

Newton Technical High School Alumni Present Bronze Tablet in Memory of Their Dead

The bronze tablet, the gift of the Alumni in memory of the boys of the Newton Technical High School who died in the service of their country, was dedicated last Sunday afternoon.

Those who attended the exercises will not soon forget the singularly impressive service, the splendid tribute paid to the heroes of the school.

Edward B. Gray, class of 1912, President of the Alumni Association, was presiding officer.

Reverend Robert L. Rae of the North Congregational Church offered prayer.

Mr. Charles C. Parlin, class of 1915, spoke for the Alumni, presenting in behalf of his fellow graduates, a bronze tablet bearing the names of the twelve boys who had died in the service. He then read the Honor Roll of the Newton Technical High School which bears the names of:

John Arthur Bennett, 1910, Lieutenant, Infantry, 42d Division.

Edward Asa Hooper, 1910, Private, 1st class, Battery A, 101st F. A., 26th Division.

Kenneth Rodney Lucas, 1913, Carpenter's Mate, 1st class, U. S. Navy.

Frank Haskell Chivers, 1914, Sergeant, Battery B, 101st F. A., 26th Division.

George Stewart Huggard, 1914, Lieutenant, U. S. Marine Corps.

Howard Frederic Mitchell, 1914, U. S. Naval Reserve.

Edward Michael Sullivan, 1914, Private, Company C, 101st Infantry, 26th Division.

Henry William DeRusha, 1915, Private, 1st class, U. S. Army.

Valentine Edwin Ferris, 1916, Motor Transport Corps.

Elmer Merritt Francis, 1918, S. A. T. C.

John Arvid Williamson, 1918, Seaman, 1st class, U. S. Navy.

Clifford Kenneth Meekins, 1919, Bugler, Company L, 372d Infantry.

Mr. Parlin said that these names should make the boys and girls of the school better men and better women. He added:

"We want the incoming classes to know the names of these men and to feel with us the significance of the service which they rendered and the sacrifice which they made for their country. So may the tablet to their memory teach the lesson, not of hatred for the enemy, for that dies soon, but rather may it teach the lesson of service and self-sacrifice, for that never dies."

Mr. Irving O. Palmer, principal of the Newton Technical High School, told of the purpose for which the tablet was presented. He spoke of the activities of the committee representing the alumni, who had earnestly worked to place in the school a fitting memorial to their comrades. He said that the committee had wished that any memorial to their comrades who had gone should represent the interest and activities not of a few of the Alumni, but that all might take part in paying tribute to their friends. "The tablet which is on the wall of our

The first question invariably asked by the prospective purchaser of roofing is, "How long will it wear?"

Many roofs of prepared roofing laid over twenty years ago are still in service, withstanding the destructive attacks of the elements, and continue to retain their waterproofing properties.

"Actions speak louder than words." The service which these roofs have rendered in the past is the best evidence of their ability to wear.

Mayor Childs sent in a large number of appointments including those of Dr. C. A. Boutelle, as Inspector of Animals, Oswald J. McCourt as Overseer of the Poor, Charles F. Johnson, Jr., and Albert P. Carter as members of the Playground Commission for 3 years, and the following assistant assessors: Chas. R. Mills, Chas. E. Joselyn, Frank E. Hunter, Fred L. Smith, Timothy D. Murphy, Roy V. Early, Samuel K. Billings, Willis F. Hadlock, George B. King, A. P. Tedesco, Bernard D. Farrell and Warner R. Holt.

The Mayor also recommended $500 additional for Military Aid and sent in the bond for $30,000 of Francis Newhall as city treasurer, both of which were approved. The Mayor also recommended $10,000 additional for the garbage contract for 1921, $500 additional for Soldiers' Relief, and $1,000 for Sewer Unclassified Account.

Mrs. Edward E. Blodgett sent a letter of thanks for the action taken by the board in regard to a memorial for her son, the B. & A. gave notice of appointment of W. D. Kelley as a railroad police officer and the Governor's Lincoln Day proclamation was placed on file.

Petitions of Martin C. Laffie for an auctioneer license, of the Edison Co. for attachments on Walnut street of various persons for appointment of betterment assessments on Charles, bank road and Brae Burn road, and of several persons for Soldiers' Relief were granted.

The Claims' Committee reported that the garbage contract required executive action; the Public Works committee said that no action was necessary on the laying out of Kimball terrace and the Finance Committee came to the same conclusion regarding the matter of allowing veterans a holiday on Memorial Day without loss of pay.

The resolution regarding a protest to the State House against the licensing of billiards on Commonwealth avenue was enlarged to include Washington and Beacon streets and passed.

$1,400 was voted for repairs of the Willow street stable at Newton Centre and $1,400 for the alteration at the corner of Fuller and Chestnut streets was sent to the Finance committee.

Hearings were ordered on a proposed sewer in Berkshire road. The appointments of Charles Benyon, Supt. for suppression of Moths, Ernest G. Hagood, as trustee of the Free Library, and John W. Murphy, as a principal assessor were confirmed.

On reassembling after the conference, the board had a warm discussion on the matter of granting city laborers a half holiday each week. The Finance committee, by a majority vote refused to allow the holiday for a year and granted but 8 months. This was opposed by Alderman Young who offered an amendment to make the time 9 months and by Alderman Ross, who wanted it for a full year. The matter was favored by Aldermen Young, Ross, Cook, Heathcote and Madden, and opposed by Aldermen Nichols, Carter, and Whidden. The Ross amendment was overwhelmingly defeated, while the Young amendment received 7 votes to 11 opposed and the eight months order was then adopted.

Alderman Nichols in response to questions regarding the matter of fire insurance for the City Hall and adjoining buildings stated that the committee would take up the matter in connection with the budget.

The License committee reported that no action was necessary on the petition of Wm. Bliss for a gasoline engine on Lyman street, Newton Centre.

The board adjourned at 11 P. M.

There will be a reading of the Fellowship Club on Monday, Feb. 28th. A business man will tell of his recent experiences during a trip to England and France.

THE COPLEY THEATRE—"Jelf's"

will be given its first production on the American stage at the Copley Theatre next Monday evening. Its author is Horace Annesley Vachell, a popular English dramatist and novelist, and in "Jelf's" he tells a very timely story of financial sensation not unlike that created by the notorious Ponzi of local fame. The title of the play comes from the family name of its leading personages. Like the famous Countess Bank, known to all transatlantic American travellers, "Jelf's" is a private bank in London.

The four acts of "Jelf's" are set in two scenes, the first and fourth act being in the manager's offices of the bank, the second and third acts being in the garden of Richard Jelf's country house at Shepperton-on-Thames. At the opening of the play, Richard Jelf has just come into control of the bank by inheritance, but he has had no preparation for the business, having only recently returned from California, where he has been the prosperous proprietor of a ranch, and has become imbued with a certain amount of the hustling American spirit. He knows nothing about banking, but he is determined to learn all there is to know of the business. It is a cheerful play, with not a glimpse of gloom in it. In "Jelf's" we get away from the Eternal Triangle and breathe the fresh air of life, love and comedy.

NEWTON CLUB

THE GREATEST YEAR IN ITS HISTORY

The fifty-eighth annual report of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company of Boston records the past year as the greatest period of activity the Company has ever known. Its previous records of new business for a single year were easily broken, for the new insurance written and paid for during 1920 amounted to $263,672,672. The total insurance in force now on the Company's books reaches the impressive total of $1,409,067,395.

The total gross admitted assets of the Company as of December 31 last were $211,631,483, and its total liabilities in which the principal item is the reserve on policies required by law of over $190,000,000, were $201,518,192, leaving an extra "safety" reserve set aside to provide for all contingencies of $10,113,291.

As an indication of the continually increasing appreciation of life insurance on the part of the public, the following comparative figures are of interest. In December 31, 1910, the total assets of the John Hancock were $72,656,259; on December 31, 1920, they were $211,631,483.

The total payments to policy-holders since the organization of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company fifty-nine years ago, plus accumulated policy reserve held to their credit as of December 31 last, amounted to $437,572,040. A better conception of what this means may be grasped from the fact that during 1920, the payments on death and endowment claims and other policy disbursements represented $61,390 for each working day of the year.

In the investments of the Company, over one hundred and eleven millions is represented in mortgage loans; nearly twenty millions is in United States Liberty and Victory Bonds and Certificates and nearly fifty-one millions is invested in State, Municipal, Railroad and Public Utility Bonds. As the Directors say in their report, "This will show in a broad way, the general disposition of the policyholders' funds, and the uses they are being put to in the development of our country's resources and the maintenance of its people. The investment feature of life insurance follows the universal rule that the true value of money is found in its effective use. Hence through the putting out of this money at interest to help work the farms, the railroads, public utilities and other necessary activities to our life, the policyholders become collectively the source of saving and thrift, from which the country at large derives benefit."

The John Hancock issues policies of life insurance to meet every need—of wage-earner and capitalist alike. Its beneficent activities extend over a broad field, and its policyholders are numbered by the thousands.

TWO FIRES IN ONE HOUSE

Fire broke out twice Sunday afternoon in the three-story apartment house at 405 Cherry street, West Newton. Two fire trucks called for the second fire were stalled in the snowdrifts for several hours. One fire truck was from West Newton, the other from Auburndale. Teams from the City Department pulled them out.

The first fire in the house started about 2 P. M. The fire was put out with little damage. One and a half hours later the other fire occurred. Both fires started in the third floor flat occupied by Thomas McEnaney.

Fifteen war veterans in uniform who had been attending dedication services at the Technical High School happened to be passing near and were called to aid the firemen. The veterans laid several lines of hose and helped the firemen remove furniture.

The loss is estimated at several thousand dollars.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

Classical High School

The English Club has started a drive for new members. The Club plans to have every member get a new member. A large poster, containing the names of all the present members has been placed on one of the bulletin boards. There is a space beside each name in which the names of the new members will be placed. The poster is the work of Frederick McGill.

In the Assembly Hall on Wednesday morning, Mr. Brewer Eddy of Newtonville, spoke in behalf of famine-stricken China. During the past week Mr. Eddy has appeared to the pupils in the grammar schools throughout Newton, and the response was remarkable. This school is always generous in giving to worthy causes and surely in such an urgent appeal for China it will not fall short.

On Washington's birthday, the hockey team defeated Cambridge in one of the most spectacular games ever witnessed in the Arena. The final score was 2 to 1. Captain Hodder played a wonderful game and despite his injuries was present at school the next day.

The following girls of the Girls Debating Club have been chosen to take part in the debates with Brookline and Somerville.

Brookline vs. Newton—Louise MacLeod, captain; Caroline Cummings, Priscilla Aurelio, and Marion Thompson, alternate.

Somerville vs. Newton—Florence Morford, captain; Barbara Simpson, Mary Edmonds, and Sylvia Chapman, alternate.

Until March 11, every day during the lunch A period, practice debates for the members are to be held.

The Boys Debating Team has arranged with Brookline for two debates, one to take place at Brookline and the other at Newton. A cup will be awarded to the winning team. The date will be announced later.

Newton High Intermediates beat the Medford High Intermediates, 38 to 23, in a track meet at Newtonville on Wednesday afternoon.

Riordan, Medford, and Elkins, Newton, tied for individual honors with 10 points each. The former won three seconds and one third, the latter two firsts. The summary:

30-Yard Dash—Won by Elkins, Newton High; Riordan, Medford High, second; Swartz, Newton High, third. Time, 3-4-5.

220-Yard Race—Won by McQuiston, Newton High; Swartz, Newton High, second; Riordan, Medford High, third. Time, 27-1-5.

600-Yard Run—Won by Elkins, Newton High; Smith, Newton High, second; Corcoran, Medford High, third. Time, 1m 28-5-5.

Standing Broad Jump—Won by Thorpe, Medford High; Riordan, Medford High, second; Walters, Newton High, third. Distance, 8ft 4in.

Relay Race, Newton vs. Medford—Won by Newton (Swartz, Elkins, Ryall, McQuiston). Time, 1m 39-2-5-5.

Newton won but three points at the interscholastic track meet last Saturday at the Boston Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium.

Newton won its dual track meet with Allen Military school Friday afternoon in the Newton High gymnasium, 33 to 21. Falls by Ralph Colson of the Allen team while he was leading in the "300" and by Sweet, a teammate when he was well up in front in the "1000".

Bob Garrity of Newton high was shut out in his trial heat of the dash. Newton took every place in the "1000," also in the "600," won by Clausen in the very good time of 1m 24s. Jackson of Allen leaped over the bar at 5ft 5in to win, not a bad performance, with Blair of Newton negotiating the next lower notch.

Both the senior and midjet relays went the Newton way.

30-Yard Dash—Won by Colson (A); second, Powell (A); third, McDavitt (N). Time, 3-4-5.

High Jump—Won by Jackson (A) 5ft 5in; second, Blair (N), 5ft 4in; third, Thompson (N), 5ft 1in.

300-Yard Run—Won by McDavitt (N); second, Powell (A); third, Hurley (N). Time, 38s.

The Roger Wolcott School

Chinese Famine Fund window cards and stamps were popularly received in Waban. Every room in the school did its part nobly to help relieve the suffering in China. The school total is now $217 with the possibility of more to come. The teachers and children entered into the work wholeheartedly and through the generosity of the people this splendid total was realized.

The 1921 class pins have arrived. This class has not only the distinction of being the last to graduate from the old building, but it is also the last to have the name and coat of arms of Roger Wolcott on its pins. The colors and design of the pin are most satisfactory and popular with the class.

Ralph Waldo Emerson School

Miss Elliot, a teacher from Cleveland, was an interested visitor of the Speech Work of the primary grades last week.

The eighth grade class in "Occupations" are studying the banker. On Wednesday they had an interesting and helpful talk by Mr. Wm. Halliday, the treasurer of the Newton Trust Co.

"The Message of Lincoln's Life," by C. O. Norcross, G. A. R. Patriotic Instructor, Dept. of Mass., was presented to every pupil in grade seven and eight on Wednesday by Mrs. Frank Fanning. The printed selection is a beautiful tribute and is much appreciated by the pupils.

NEWTON SCHOOLS WORK FOR CHINA'S FAME

All the grade schools are hard at work selling stamps and "Hunger" Posters for the starving children in China. The School Board arranged to have the story told in each school last week and the pupils spent the week-end spreading the appeal to their neighbors and gathering a notable offering from a thousand homes. Principals and teachers joined in the effort knowing that our America is the best friend that China has and that such an effort will tend to make world-citizens of our young folks.

It has been a good object lesson in international friendship and many a boy and girl has been thinking of some child that will be saved alive till the new harvest because of a gift and a sacrifice here in Massachusetts.

The attractive red poster now hangs in hundreds of windows in the Newtons. It spells "Food-Misery" or "Famine" in Chinese characters as a reminder of our own prosperity and freedom from such a scourge.

The story tells how the three last crops failed in North China until today the people are stripping the bark from the trees and grubbing up roots from the ground or boiling leaves, grass and weeds in the hopeless attempt to keep alive.

Children have been sold into slavery and many babes have been slain toasten the end of their misery.

The brighter side reveals a thorough organization sending grain buyers into Manchuria, camel trains or mule trains and ox carts hauling grain to the railroads and 6,000 tons of grain finding their way each day into the famine district.

Monday, reaching Kidder Peabody & Co., in Boston, is said to be purchasing grain for the starving children with ten day delays, avoiding all red tape and long delays. America is being stirred from East to West and relief work has started in huge outlinings in China where hundreds of thousands are dying.

Those who attend this exhibition no doubt will be surprised at the number and diversified nature of the products of Natick, and will know the reason why "Natick Made Goods Make Good."

TROOP 7, BOY SCOUTS

The big feature of the meeting of Troop 7, last Friday evening, in the Congregational Church, West Newton, was the admitting of six applicants, who just passed their tenderfoot tests, and five tenderfoot scouts who successfully passed their second-class tests. The men of the Court of Honor included Mr. L. W. Leland, Mr. E. Varney, Mr. Earl J. Ovington, and Mr. C. H. Woodward.

It was a great night for the applicants and for the Troop that welcomed such a fine group of boys. The new scouts are Howard Cooper, Nelson Hatt, Harold Miller, Allen Nelson, William Park, and Everett Upham. Their initiation is a social feast in order for this evening.

The five additional second-class scouts to be congratulated are John Ford, Edwin Judson, Franklin Hoyt, Charles Phelps, and Walter Woodward. Second-class pins and arm badges will be awarded them tonight.

Mr. Allan W. Cooke, a father of one of Troop 7's applicants, while present at the meeting signified his willingness of becoming an assistant scoutmaster of the troop. Together with Mr. Crowell, the Scoutmaster, Mr. Smith and Mr. Wales, two other assistants, this troop bids fair to do even greater work than it has yet done. There are now five members of the troop committee, four scoutmasters, one Life and Star Scout, four merit badge scouts, one first-class scout, seven second-class scouts, twenty-nine tenderfoot scouts, and eight applicants, making a total of fifty-nine men and boys enrolled in this troop.

Another Court of Honor has been arranged for March 11 when Deputy Commissioner Leland will examine 10 scouts of various classes.

The men and boys of Troop 7 are to be congratulated on the splendid work which they have done.

NATICK'S EXPOSITION

All arrangements are nearing completion and the Merchants and Manufacturers Expositions at the Natick Armory on March 1, 2 and 3, promises to be one of the finest displays of merchandise ever seen. During the past week a Boston decorator of prominence has been secured to erect the booths and decorate the interior of the hall.

Not only are the merchants and manufacturers of Natick showing great interest in this coming exhibition, but the Chambers of Commerce and Commercial Clubs in the different towns in the State are planning to send delegations to see this exhibition, which is the first of its kind to be attempted by a small community.

The entertainment committee have made arrangements for bands and orchestras for both afternoon and evening of each day, and a number of novelties in the line of entertainment are promised. Admission will be free.

When it is considered that within the limits of Natick are manufactured automobile trucks, automobile passenger cars, baseballs, steel, mince meat, shirts, jellies, shoes, saws, tags and labels, cigars, misses' and children's dresses, and many other articles, a fair idea may be had of the extent of the exhibition. The Armory has the largest floor space in Natick, and judging from the number of applications from those who desire to exhibit, it is quite evident that every foot of exhibition space will be utilized.

Those who attend this exhibition no doubt will be surprised at the number and diversified nature of the products of Natick, and will know the reason why "Natick Made Goods Make Good."

CHURCH NOTICE

First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton. Prayer's Hall, Washington street, West Newton. Sunday service, 10:45 A. M. Subject of lesson-sermon, "Christ Jesus." Sunday School, 10:45 A. M. Testimonial meeting Wednesday, 8 P. M. The public is cordially invited to attend the services and to use the Reading Room at 297 Walnut street, Newtonville, which is open daily from 2 to 6 in the afternoon, and on Tuesday and Saturday evenings, from 7:30 until 9.

MEMORIAL SERVICES

Memorial services for deceased members of the Newton Catholic Club were held at St. Bernard's Church on Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock. The officers and directors of the Club together with a number of members attended the services, in addition to relatives and friends of those in whose memory the mass was held. Rev. Fr. William J. Farrell officiated.

While the services were held for all members of the club who have died, special mention was made of Daniel Kneeland, Michael O'Halloran, William Maloney and John Mooney, all of whom passed away during the year just closed.

Stamps came in sheets of fifty and each stamp meant a three-cent gift to save a child for one day. One teacher of a lower grade started with 25 sheets and called for about 30 more as the days passed. In many schools before the speaker could get out of the building, the older classes had emptied their pockets to buy the first poster for wall and window display. Wherever you see the poster you will know that some of our young folks have been working for China.

This will not be the first time that America has come to China's aid. John Hay saved China with his Golden-Rule Policy of the Open Door securing from the nations the guarantee of China's safety. President Roosevelt told the Russian and Japanese envoys to write in their treaty a clause which secured China's sovereignty and to-day one of the first great tasks ahead of the new administration is to pick out some of the stitches of the Versailles treaty that have meted out the future of this friendly but helpless nation. In future years America will have no cause to regret this investment in friendship now being made by the children of Newton.

Families which have no red poster may well tell a school child to bring one from any school building for supplies will be available in return for a good gift for the starving children of China.

At the meeting of school principals on Wednesday afternoon the fine total of $1,061 was turned in with many schools reporting "Lots more to come."

To blossom and bud away.

He said "When the cold of winter

"Come with its sleet and snow,

"To bury them deep in an icy shroud,

"Till the soft Spring breezes blow.

"Perhaps they'll forget how I made them,

"Perhaps they will faint in despair,

"Because 'tho' the Summer draws ever near

"Somewhere Winter lurks in his lair.

"So I'll fashion a beautiful country

"By a vast and tranquil sea

"Where Winter's unknown, and hills

all green

"Guard ever its vales for me.

"Where the Ice King's minions are never seen,

"Where the warm land smiles in the sun.

"Where flowers may fade, but bud and bloom,

"Till the whole round year is done."

Then He made this wonderful flower

Where the great Pacific's waters roll,

Where a rampart of mountains lends its heights,

To shelter the sun-bathed shore,

And flower and fruit of countless kinds,

Their bounties shed galore.

All over the land from North and South,

From hills to shimmering sea,

Blossom and brurgeon in gorgeous hues,

The flowers perpetually,

Wherever God's hand has planted them

Their crown the land like a diadem.

A haven for all, for old or young,

roam

DEFENDS NEWTON SCHOOLS

course all the horses in Ireland did not trot that way; and of course simply because one train at present is stalled by the storm in the W. Newton station now, it would be the utter folly to draw from this that all trains are poor, slow, and late on the Boston & Albany road.

"Certain reporters have done just this thing. They have visited a dance and seen a few boys of the braggadocio type shooting crap in the ante rooms. They have seen a few girls in rather ultra-modern dress at the High Schools. All too soon have they drawn their conclusions which are unwarranted and most provoking. Because a few of our young people do these things it by no means follows that all are of the same dye.

"The second reason why you can't do as all the others is because you are not one of the others. Each one of us is made distinctive, different and unique from all others on this earth." Here Mr. Park particularly charged the young people, "You are all being watched by the most critical eyes, the opponents of the public school system of America. One of the Boston newspapers prints a story of a certain episode in Newton. Immediately another newspaper sends a reporter to Newton. He interviews a policeman and from the interview, the report in the paper is spread broadcast that all the Newton High School children are immoral, indecent, and irreligious. The public school system, a noble and time-honored institution in our young nation, is being attacked most indiscreetly by these adroit opponents. They are doing all they can to bring it into disrepute. The answer to this may be made in two ways: first, the penal institutions of the state have a smaller percentage of public school graduates in them than of other school graduates; second, we must answer them by remembering that we are not one of the others. Each individual must so live that a stain cannot be brought upon the whole.

"Thirdly," Mr. Park said, "you can do as the others if you want to. Parents and teachers are not trying to be kill-joys. Parents simply do not want children to take matches into their mouths that are dangerous.

"In conclusion, we must use common sense in the home. One parent who allows his daughter to attend a two o'clock dance, one parent who gives money to his child too carelessly, can do no end of harm to a whole neighborhood. There must be no weak spot.

"Every individual must have courage in leadership to defend the great ideals of the Country against those enemies who would tear them down."

DEATH OF MRS. BLANPIED

After a short illness of a serious type of pneumonia, Mrs. Blanpied died on February 17, at the home of Mr. George W. Auryansen, in Newtonville. Bertha Sawyer Blanpied was born in Milford, N. H., in 1860. She was married to Mr. Edwin S. Blanpied in 1880 and began her married life in Denver, where her husband was teaching music. The Blanpieds came to Newtonville in 1900, removing after 10 years to Framingham. Their return last fall was welcomed by many old friends and neighbors.

Wherever she lived, the blithe young bride in Denver, the busy mother of a nursery full of babies in Montpelier, the merry comrade of a group of growing boys and girls in the Newtonville and Framingham homes and on the much-loved farm in New Hampshire, Mrs. Blanpied drew about her a circle of warm friends to whom she gave herself generously. Her interests were wide and her outlook upon life hopeful and joyous. "The law of kindness was in her lips" and she always had leisure for gracious and helpful deeds. It could truly be said of her that she was:

"A proper, friend-making, everywhere friend-finding soul, fit for the sunshine. So it followed her; a happy bringer of the best out of the worst."

A brief funeral service was held on Saturday morning conducted by the Rev. William Allen Knight, Mrs. Blanpied's Framingham pastor, and she was taken to Milford, N. H., for burial.

Beside her husband, Mrs. Blanpied leaves five children: Robert D., of the Blake School, Minneapolis; Mrs. Carl Ballard, of Minneapolis; Mrs. Lawrence Bevan, of Newtonville; Nelson U., of Harrisburg, Pa.; and Frederick A., of New York.

OLD RESIDENT DEAD

Mr. Howard Bailey Coffin, a resident of this city for nearly 70 years, died on Wednesday in Newton in his 82nd year.

Mr. Coffin was born in Boston April 24, 1839, and came to Newton in the early fifties.

For many years Mr. Coffin was engaged in the grocery business in this city, having his store in Coles block, Newton, and later in a building built for his own use on Elmwood street. In 1874 he was elected a principal assessor of the city and held that office until Dec. 31, 1892. Later he was re-elected and served from 1913 to 1917. He was active in organizing the Massachusetts Assessors' Association and served as its treasurer for 25 years. He has been a life long member of Channing Church and active in its affairs.

Mr. Coffin never married and is survived by two brothers, William Coffin in California and J. Coolidge Coffin of Cambridge.

Funeral services will be held at Newton Cemetery Chapel tomorrow afternoon.

Later the entire school attended the fancy dress dance at the Woodland dormitory. Colonial costumes, and so many beautiful ones were worn, made the affair one of the most charming held in years.

school today is the result of the interest, the love, the deep affection of the entire alumni of the school.

The Commander of the Newton Post, American Legion, Major C. Raymond Cabot, paid tribute to the hero's boys in a stirring talk in which he told of the ideals for which they died, and of the purpose of that great organization, the American Legion, which is carrying on their work.

His Honor, Edwin O. Childs, Mayor of Newton, spoke for the city. As their mayor who had frequently addressed many of them as school boys, he paid them honor; as their friend, he expressed profound admiration; and to the fathers and mothers who had sent them, he told of a city that was grateful for their sacrifice.

Mr. Gray then introduced Reverend William J. Farrell of St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, who spoke for the community. As chaplain of the 103rd regiment, he was the one best fitted to tell of the great sacrifices our boys made for us, and of the experiences that showed how love prompted their acts, making them meet death with a great unselfishness, though life was as sweet to them as it was to us back home.

The chaplain told of the boys as he knew them in the trenches of France—little intimate stories which revealed the tenderness, the spiritual loneliness so often hidden from the eyes of the world; the love of a soldier for his mother, the appeal of home, which stirred the audience to its depths.

He began his speech as follows: "In the early days of the war, on one dangerous place on the line many were wounded through-out No-Man's Land. Man after man made the attempt to go there and reach them only to be killed. Man after man, I say, made that attempt until finally the loss was so great the commanding officer issued orders that no further attempts should be made. In spite of that, men wished to make that trial, and finally a chaplain of the army appeared and said that he was going to go. When told that the orders forbade, he asked who gave the orders. They said, 'The commanding officer.' He answered, 'I, too, have orders to go there and try to help those men from someone higher than the colonel or general. I have orders to go from Jesus Christ.' The chaplain went and, like the others, he was killed."

Why have I told you this story? For this simple reason. When the war broke out, the men whom we are honoring today did not require any man to give them orders to enter the service of their country and defend it. The men who entered the service of their country, like the chaplain that was killed, felt that they, too, were working under the guidance of God Almighty."

In concluding, Father Farrell said, "I ask you today to remember those who have died, and to thank God that you are here, in this country, safe from their awful devastation that was seen in France. Do your duty to the men whose names are on the tablet in this school."

The bronze Memorial Tablet is placed on the wall just inside of the main entrance of the school. The pictures of the twelve Technical High School boys, who died in the service, framed together, is also a gift of the graduates. It will hang permanently in the school library.

All the classes which have graduated since the school was established in 1910 contributed to the purchase of the tablet. The committee in charge of the exercises and the tablet fund was as follows:

Oswald J. McCourt, 1910
Arthur T. Connery, 1911
Joseph Doherty, 1912
John H. Berquist, 1913
Charles H. Mahoney, 1914
Elliot G. Stickney, 1915

WEST NEWTON W. C. T. U.

The West Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union held its regular meeting last Monday night at the home of Mrs. May Sweat with Mrs. Sweat and her mother Mrs. S. Fogwill as hostesses.

The president, Mrs. M. Millie Beechley, presided and after the regular business meeting she introduced Mrs. Jeannette H. Mann, State Supt. of Publicity, who gave a most interesting address on the life of Frances Willard. She spoke of her high ideals, of her earnest work along the temperance line and of her many prophesies which had in late years materialized. The members brought donations for the Frances Willard Settlement consisting of preserves and canned goods. After announcing the names of seven new members the meeting closed, followed by a social hour with refreshments.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

The Club Editor is very glad to print the following letter recently received from Judge Jean H. Norris relative to the report of his attendance at the meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs at Melrose Highlands and to express regret for the error therein referred to: To the Editor of the Newton Graphic: "Your very interesting account of the meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs held recently in Melrose Highlands, and at which I spoke, contains the statement attributable to me '11,000 families have been helped and $1,500,000 have passed through the bureau in the ten years' of its existence."

"As I know you wish to be accurate, may I suggest that I have been incorrectly quoted and that I said the year 1920 and not ten years. During 1920, we actually collected $1,500,000 through our Alimony Bureau and 11,000 families passed through our Domestic Relations Court."

Very truly yours,
JEAN H. NORRIS, City Magistrate."

The Class in Conservation of Natural Resources will hold its next meeting Friday, March 4, at 10 o'clock in the Hunnewell Club, Newton. This class, while primarily arranged for the members of the Social Science and Community Clubs of Newton, is open to those of all Federated clubs. This winter's study centres around the proposition that "Water is the Basis of Life." (Van Hise) and that civilized life is absolutely dependent upon an adequate water supply.

Preceding lessons have discussed briefly some of the water requirements of civilized man. The next lesson will consider how nearly the world's water supply fills these demands, and by what means this most inadequate amount may be made so far as possible to meet the needs of increasing population.

The primary source of the world's water supply is Precipitation, that is, the water which falls upon the earth in the form of rain or snow—collectively known as Rainfall.

The secondary source is ground water or the Underground Reservoir—the permanent water storage of the earth constantly replenished by precipitation.

There is no region known where some water does not fall during the year. The regions, however, in which few and small where the rainfall is nearly sufficient for regular maximum agricultural production and other development. An annual rainfall of 30 inches under proper conditions is the minimum for full production.

(What constitute proper conditions?) But more than 6/10 of the earth's land surface receives less than 20 inches annual rainfall, and of this area but 10 per cent at most could be reclaimed by irrigation—Why not?—and only a comparatively small portion of the remainder by dry-farming—why not? These proportions of dry and humid regions are about the same for the United States as for the world. What is the average annual rainfall for Massachusetts?

When rainfall reaches the earth what three things may happen to it? Results of each? By what general methods can we best utilize the largest part of our rainfall? Evaporation, by which the atmosphere is kept humid, is absolutely essential to plant and animal life. It is also that part of the water-cycle by which moisture is drawn from earth to sky to be redistributed in rainfall. Why then is the checking of evaporation, so far as possible, necessary to the conservation of water supply for the use of man? Water-flow through brook and river from land to sea is likewise indispensable. Why then should we aim to prevent direct run-off?

The following terms relating to water conditions: Humid, Semi-arid, Arid; Fly-off, Run-off (direct and indirect); Cut-off; Erosion; Ground Water or Underground Reservoir; Water-table; Dry Farming, Irrigation, Humid Farming; Acre-foot; Capillary; Fifth or Cultivation; Mulch; Agriculture; Duty of Water; Agricultural Duty of Soil.

Local Happenings

The meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club was held on Monday evening in the Auditorium instead of the Emerson School on account of the holiday. A representative of the Travellers' Aid Society made a brief talk upon the work done by the organization. The address by Mrs. James D. Tillinghast on "Woman's Influence in Politics" was listened to with close attention and was considered by those who heard her one of the finest things the club has had this season.

On Wednesday morning Mrs. J. W. Blaisdell reported the Mid-winter meeting of the State Federation at the meeting of the Social Science Club. Mrs. W. C. Crawford in her talk upon current events discussed some of the surprises in Harding's cabinet as announced in the papers that morning. She pointed out that the situation in Mexico is more hopeful than one year ago. The question of reparations which Germany shall make were considered from various angles, and the Far Eastern question was presented exhaustively.

Newton Federation

Wednesday afternoon despite the storm and bad traveling found the hall of the Technical high school well filled with club women from over the city for the meeting of the Newton Federation. A report of the State Federation meeting written by Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, the Federation Secretary, was read by Mrs. J. C. S. Taber. The bills endorsed by the State Federation were presented by Mrs. Abbott Rice, chairman of the Legislative committee, and were in turn endorsed. Mrs. Rice presented a resolution asking that the board in charge of licensing bill board be asked to refuse licenses for them upon Commonwealth avenue, Boston and Washington streets in Newton. The resolution was carried unanimously.

The program for the afternoon opened with a group of songs by Mrs. Lewis E. Moore of Newtonville; this was followed by a clever little one-act farce "Fourteen," presented by members of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, the parts being taken by Mrs. A. H. Norton, Mrs. L. W. Oakes and Miss Elizabeth Walker. Miss Eleanor Wheeler formerly of Newton, now of Allston, danced two fancy dances, an Egyptian and a Gypsy dance, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Agnes Wheeler. Mrs. E. B. Botsford gave two whistling solos which were much enjoyed.

Social Conditions Conference

Delegates from over the state, who had worked upon the "Questionnaire" issued by the Social and Industrial Conditions department of the Federation last spring, gathered at the Dorchester Woman's Club House last Friday afternoon through the courtesy of the Alpha Club to consider the outcome of the whole matter. After the customary frills of greetings by the hostess president, chairman's response, music, etc., were out of the way, the conference settled down to the purpose of the afternoon.

Dr. O. P. Lewis, of New York, General Secretary of the Prison Association of America, who was the author of the Questionnaire, told of its origin and discussed some of the points brought out by the answers received and mentioned a few of the next steps, which he intends taking in this matter of Reducing Juvenile Delinquency by Community Effort. In opening his address he stated that he was absolutely sick and tired of seeing people behind prison bars and had resolved to see what we could do toward betterment of the situation.

He himself had been connected with the work of the War Camp Community Service during the war in providing wholesome recreation for the soldiers and sailors. During that period a woman from Central New York wrote asking him why something similar could not and should not be done for the youth of rural communities, saying that the kids didn't have anything to do, and, therefore, got into mischief.

This letter led him to see what could be done. But first, he must know conditions, so resolved to appeal to the women's clubs, feeling as he did, that they are one of the strongest organizations that social workers can approach, and having the utmost faith in what they can accomplish. Through the generosity of Mrs. George T. Rice, he was able to provide the Massachusetts clubs with the questionnaire, which is an exhaustive survey of every sort of condition and agency for community betterment. In response he has obtained a survey of thirty different communities giving valuable information upon which to build.

The war taught us, he said, a remarkable lesson of marvellous co-operation, and through it a new conception in social work of the possibility of being able to work together. We can never reduce juvenile delinquency until we get together. Every community today is a "Western Front." The day of individual effort and of individual responsibility is passed.

It is true that there is an increasing crime wave, and that appalling crimes are being committed by young persons.

The work in connection with the questionnaire has brought out a vast amount of information that those who have worked upon them did not know about their own communities. It has brought out facts where formerly there had been only opinions. It has revealed that a remarkable combination of excellent conditions in some places, and also remarkable gaps in others. The principal trouble has been that there was lack of interest in communities on account of a lack of knowledge of the true conditions.

The next step suggested was to begin to clean up, to put in some of the things found to be lacking, and not wait. In the course of a few months Dr. Lewis expects to issue what he calls, "A Minimum Standard for a Square Deal for Childhood," in which he will set forth what he considers a town should provide in order to make that town a good place for a child to grow up in the possibility for normal home life reasonably free from congestion, a complete education and sufficient community recreation, including supervised movies, adherence to better films movement, sufficient parks and properly supervised playgrounds, opportunity for community music, and community drama. By means of this minimum standard it will be possible for communities to check up and to work intelligently along betterment lines which shall in the end reduce juvenile delinquency.

In the course of his talk Dr. Lewis said that the play is the child's religion. It is natural that the child is all the time wanting to get off the track and build switches for the child's mind is not a "single track mind." We can never get far with children with prohibitions unless we give them substitution. We can't push them, but we can steer them.

Miss Mary Driscoll urged the women to work for the appropriation for custodial care of feeble-minded and defective, because of their constant menace to the community, and to keep at urging the appointment of police women until they get them.

A social hour with the hostess club closed a very profitable conference.

MR. MUNRO DEAD

Mr. David Leslie Munro of 1 Arundel terrace, Newton, died at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital last week Wednesday. Mr. Munro was born in Scotland 53 years ago and came to this country when a boy. He was a designer and illustrator in mechanical works and for years had a business of his own in Boston, his last office being on Tremont street. He graduated from several art schools in New England. He is survived by his wife and four daughters. The eldest, Miss Annette Munro, is a nurse with the Near East relief and is now stationed in Constantinople. The other daughters are Jean, Elsie, and Mildred. They have lived in Newton for about 20 years.

Funeral services were held on Saturday afternoon, Rev. Newton A. Merritt, Jr., of Immanuel Church officiated and the burial was at Newton Centre.

DEATH OF MRS. BURTON

Mrs. Carrie L. Burton, wife of Mr. Smith B. Burton, Jr., died at her home on Centre street last Saturday after an illness of some time.

She leaves her husband, she leaves three children, Mr. Fletcher P. Burton and Mr. James Burton of Providence, and Mrs. N. C. Earl of Waban.

Services were held at her late residence on Tuesday, the Rev. George S. Butters of Auburndale officiating, and the burial was in Forest Hills.

In the passing away of Mrs. Smith Burton, the Pomroy Home loses one of its greatest benefactors. Her attention and kindnesses have been constant and beyond enumeration. For the past two summers she has provided a summer home at Wolfboro and supplied it with milk and vegetables without expense to the Home. We shall miss her sadly. Her memory will always be a blessing to us.

READ FUND LECTURE

"Face to Face with Celebrities" was the title of the lecture given by Mr. Joe Mitchell Chapple at the Hunnewell Club on Monday evening under the auspices of the Read Fund.

Mr. Chapple spoke informally of his interest in people dating from his boyhood days when he published a paper called "The Surprise" which dealt with local characters, for he had learned that people are always interested in what other people are doing.

He told of interesting experiences of his early life in Washington, among them of the time when he was asked to show the sights of the city to a young Prince of Royal Blood who was traveling incognito, of how he did not learn the true name of the Prince until the outbreak of the world war when he discovered that he was none other than the King of Belgium.

Of the late Secretary Hay he said, "He was one of the greatest diplomats of the century." He quoted him as saying in answer to an inquiry on his part as to how he could fit himself to be a diplomat, "Always be yourself."

This advice Mr. Chapple said he had endeavored to carry out.

He took his audience with him in imagination and made them see with him the 10,000 orphan children kneeling and thanking God for America. Illuminating pictures were also flashed before the mind's eye of his listeners of Foch, Pershing, Edwards, Clemenceau. The latter told him that he loved America because his first wife was an American, and that his faith in America had never wavered.

The account of Mr. Chapple's speech in Rome where he said he longed for a toga and tried to recall Mark Antony's speech was amusingly told.

In serious vein he spoke of the perils of peace as equalling those of war, and warned his listeners against propaganda in this country, pointing out that several of Russia's leaders came from the East side of New York.

Contrasting the form which patriotism takes in different countries, he said, "What the King is to the Englishman, 'La France' to the Frenchman, the flag is to the American."

He told of early recollections of President-elect Warren G. Harding, and of his touching love for his mother now dead, and paid a beautiful tribute to Mrs. Harding whose one hobby is her husband.

Concluding, he said, that America may well feel safe in the hands of such representatives of the best in American life and spirit.

You are welcome to the Showrooms of Messrs. McKenney & Waterbury Co., 181 Franklin St., corner Congress, Boston, Mass., to the exhibition of the largest display of Electric, Gas and Oil Lighting Fixtures in this country.
